BAND TRAIN DYNAMITED

Union Leaders Held for Sedition.

Threat of Wholesale Murder to Be Followed by Arrest of Agitators.

Entire Citizen Forces of the Transvaal Are Hurriedly Called to Arms.

Government to Use Stern Measures in Dealing With the Rioters.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

JOHANNESBURG (Union of South Africa) Jan. 9.—Attempts to dynamite three passenger trains have put a serious aspect on the labor situation of the South African strike today.

Dozens of dynamite were exploded on the Cape mail train between Germiston and Georges Goch tonight, but no passengers were injured. The wheels of the engine were blown off and the track damaged. A second explosion occurred on the railway between Johannesburg and Pretoria.

Another attempt to wreck a train was made between Witpoortje and Boksburg, but the charge of dynamite was found by a track walker just before the arrival of a crowded passenger train from Bismarck.

The government is credited with a victory over the Trades' Federation in that the principal strike leaders, including today were Toutsman, Bain and Bladd, assistant secretaries of the Railway Men's Society; Bain, secretary of the South African Labor party, and Colin Wade, general secretary of the Germiston Trades Council.

Four sleeping cars and two day coaches were thrown from the trestle to a small creek below.

President Munson of the railroad was thrown out of his berth and badly bruised.

Wilson Trust Bills Drafted.

Measures to Be Presented After a Conference With the President.

Interlocking Directorates to Be Prohibited After Next December.

Sweeping Programme Deals With Prices and Trade Relations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A general outline of the tentative draft of anti-trust legislation prepared by majority members of the House Committee on the Judiciary for action by the full committee, subject to a conference with President Wilson, became known today.

The proposed bills so far have not the administration stamp and they will be discussed at a conference between the President and the committeemen on the President's return.

The bills, drafted as a result of the conferences between Chairman Clayton, Representative Carlin of Virginia, chairman of the trust subcommittee, and Representatives Floyd of Arkansas, McCoy of New Jersey and others, cover these three main points:

(1.) Interlocking directorates.

(2.) Trade relations and prices.

(3.) Injunction proceedings and damage suits by individuals.

In every case President Wilson's idea of providing penalties for individuals as well as for corporations in case of violations, has been followed. It was decided that it would be better to draft a number of bills, instead of incorporating all the anti-trust propositions in an omnibus measure, supplementary to the Sherman act. An attempt to define combinations and conspiracies in restraint of trade as far as possible has been made in the bills already prepared.

INTERLOCKING DIRECTORATES.

The bill to inhibit interlocking directorates is regarded by the committee members as the most important of the three. It deals not only with banks and trust companies, but applies to every industrial corporation engaged in interstate trade. The tentative draft of this measure provides:

After the 23rd of December, 1914, an officer or director of a Federal reserve bank, a branch bank, national bank or banking association or any State bank, banking association or trust company admitted to membership in a Federal reserve bank shall not be an officer or director of any other bank, banking association or trust company, or of any financial corporation, institution or association engaged in the business of banking. Nor shall he engage in the banking business individually or as a member or a firm or association engaged in such business; nor shall he be an officer or director of any other corporation, organization or association the principal part of whose authorized or actual business is to buy or sell or to hold the stock, bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness of corporations, organizations or associations, or to finance the sale of such stock, bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, or to negotiate loans to corporations, organizations or associations; nor of any other corporation, organization or association owning stock of or an interest in a corporation, organization or association conducting principally such authorized or actual business.

A director of a class A Federal reserve bank may be an officer or a director, or both an officer and a director, of one member bank.

The other two classes are prohibited in the currency law from holding the other offices.

This part of the measure was drafted by Representative McCoy of New Jersey and is understood to have the approval of Chairman Clayton, Carlin and other judiciary members.

The effect of the industrial corporation feature of the interlocking directorate bill, the committeemen say, would be of the most sweeping character, cutting out the interlocking arrangements and enabling the directorships and control to pass to a large army of new men, instead of keeping the industrial control of various lines of activity in the hands of a few.

Under its terms no officer or director in any industrial corporation engaged in interstate trade would be permitted to be an officer or director in another industrial interstate corporation in allied business. Manufacturers of railroad cars, locomotives, railroad rails and structural steel, or men engaged in mining or selling coal, would be barred from becoming directors or other officers or employees of railroads engaged in interstate commerce. The bill would not become effective until two years after passage, in order to allow adjustment of business arrangements. The other measures would take effect immediately upon passage.

REGULATION OF PRICES.

The bill designed to stop agreements for regulation of prices is designed to stop effectually the fixing by wholesalers of the prices at which the manufactured article shall be sold to the public and to prevent big business from entering into contracts to control prices of any commodity.

It has been drawn with a view to stopping secret agreements and "gen-

CROPS OF NEW YORK FOWLS SIZE OF ORANGES.

Dealers Show Samples of "Sand-fed Variety" Poultry—City Is Estimated to Buy Several Hundred Thousand Pounds of "Fattening" Per Week.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Convinced that the public has been innocently purchasing great quantities of chickens "fattened" with rock and sand in food mixtures by unscrupulous shippers, the Department of Agriculture ordered an investigation today into this phase of the poultry business. The people of New York City alone, the department estimates, buy every week from 150,000 to 200,000 pounds of rock and sand substances, paying the prevailing poultry market prices.

Officials of the department determined upon the investigation as a result of complaints made today by the New York Live Poultry Dealers' Protective Association, members of which brought a barrel of chicken of the "sand-fed variety" as an exhibit. Some of the chickens' crops were puffed out to the size of an orange and weighed a half-pound each, though not more than three ounces could be charged to the natural weight of the crop.

It is the belief of the department that the practice exists among the principal markets of the country.

WALKS DECKS DRESSED AS EVE.

GIRL IS "SEPTEMBER MORN" OF A STEAMSHIP.

Letters from the King of Denmark No More Use to Her Than to Dr. Cook, and She Is Removed to Ellis Island by the Watchful Immigration Inspectors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that she was "September Morn," and insisting on promenading the decks and companionways, her beauty unadorned, Miss Palamora de Treschow, who carried letters from the King of Denmark and passports from several countries, was taken into custody today on board the Almirante, of the United Fruit steamship line and removed to Ellis Island, where she is held for observation.

From friends who accompanied her it was learned that Miss de Treschow is from Copenhagen and possesses more than $5,000,000.

Miss De Treschow was a passenger on board the Almirante from Kingston. There was nothing out of the ordinary in her behavior until the steamship neared this port. On Wednesday morning, according to the stewards and other attendants, Miss De Treschow left her cabin in the altogether and wandered through the passageways. Then she made her way to the decks. With nothing more than a flood of morning sunshine to clothe her, she wandered along until taken in charge by two of the stewards.

It was said by friends of the woman that she has hallucinations following an operation on her ears. When she was a girl in Denmark a traveling salesman sold to her parents a pair of earrings and put them in her ears. The rings grew fast in the lobes, it was said, and Miss De Treschow arranged to have them taken out. This operation was a particularly painful one, it was said.

REOPEN CASE OF CASTELLANES.

FORMER ANNA GOULD'S APPEAL TO BE HEARD IN ROME.

High Court of the Curia Will Hear the Evidence Which the Present Duchess de Talleyrand Hopes Will Reverse Action of the Rota Tribunal.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Jan. 9.—There is great interest in the meeting here tomorrow of the Segnatura Tribunal, the high court of the Roman Curia, to decide the appeal of the Duchess de Talleyrand, formerly Anna Gould of New York, from the verdict of the Rota Tribunal, which annulled her marriage to her first husband, Count Boni de Castellane.

The duchess, who previously had refused to engage counsel to contest the annulment decree, has placed her case in the hands of a lawyer, who expresses the belief that the Segnatura Tribunal will accept the plea that the duchess was not notified regularly of the trial of the count's action before the Rota Tribunal and therefore did not have an opportunity to appear and submit new evidence in refutation of the count's allegations.

While the attorney for the duchess asserts that his client will be able to prove that she did not receive the citation, alleged to have been sent her through the Archbishop of Paris, to defend the action, the opposing side will contend that the document was in an envelope bearing the coat of arms of the archbishopric of Paris and that the duchess purposely refused to accept it.

ENGINEERING COMBINE.

Departments of Harvard and the Massachusetts "Tech" Institute Are to be Merged.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—The engineering departments of Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology are to be combined as the result of an agreement reached tonight. Heads of both institutions said the plan for co-operation constituted the most important movement towards the conservation of educational forces that the country has ever known.

By the agreement, the combined departments of mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, civil and sanitary engineering and mining engineering and metallurgy are to be conducted in the new buildings of the Institute at Cambridge. Harvard is to discontinue its schools of applied science in these departments.

The president of technology is to be the executive head of the co-operative work, and the faculty will consist of the faculty of the institute, enlarged by the addition of Harvard professors of the departments involved.

It was announced that both Harvard and Technology are to remain unaffected in name, organization and in the title to property.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cudahy's—"Jack," his wife, the children and the maids—left Kansas City at 9:55 o'clock this morning for California and a new home. Their departure, planned long in advance, was without ceremony and few knew of their leaving.

Cudahy's 2000 acre farm near Belton, Mo., was sold last September to R. M. Cook, vice-president of the Interstate National Bank at the stock yards, for $320,000. At the time of the sale the Cudahys were arranging to quit Kansas City forever. Mrs. Cudahy said then they were going to live on the Coast because the California climate was better for the children. In leaving Kansas City she said, she left many friends, but she had many other friends in the West. In a few years, she added, she was going abroad with the children who are to be educated in foreign countries.

The Cudahys lived in a rented house here. This morning a caretaker gave the information the Cudahys had sent their furniture and departed for Los Angeles.

Kansas Man Gives Up to Authorities Young Son Who Deserted From the Army.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Jan. 9.—"This is my son, and I am here to turn him over to the military authorities as a deserter."

Thus asserted E. D. Dennison of Lenexa, Kan., as he entered post headquarters at Ft. Leavenworth tonight. Behind him stood a slim young man, nervously crushing his soft hat.

"No man can ever point to me and say I raised a boy who proved a traitor. He's got to square himself."

The youth left his company at Galveston, last September. When he reached Lenexa the elder Dennison told him he would have to go back and "face the music." He will be tried by court-martial.

MOTHER FORGIVES.

Mrs. Bradley Says Her Daughter Can Return Home and Everything Will be Forgotten.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEMBERTON (N. J.) Jan. 9.—News of the arrest at Mobile, Ala., yesterday, of Joel M. Foster, charged with violation of the Mann law, created excitement here. Foster is general manager of one of the largest poultry farms in the world, located at Browns Mills, N. J.

On December 15 he disappeared from his home at the same time his stenographer, who was arrested in Mobile, also disappeared. The girl, Delilah F. Bradley, 17 years old, is a daughter of Harry C. Bradley, a railroad baggage master.

The mother of the Bradley girl said today her daughter could come home and live as she did before she went away.

"We will forget her absence and help her to forget it," the mother said. "She is an innocent, trusting girl. Her life has been spent among persons on whom she relied for protection."

Tactics.

TO MOBILIZE A DIVISION.

Big Maneuver Camp in California.

Selection of a Field Near the Mexican Border Seems Likely.

Regulars and Militia of Six States to Assemble on Pacific Coast.

Two Weeks' War Game to Be Worked Out in a Practical Way.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The largest joint army and militia maneuvers ever held on the Pacific Coast will be those of the present summer, when, it is unofficially stated, a division of troops of the regular establishment and of the National Guard of half a dozen States will assemble in some point in California for two weeks of war problems, to be worked out in a practical manner under the direction of army men.

If tentative plans now under consideration are carried out, it will be the first department maneuver camp ever held in the West, for the authorities now have under consideration the bringing of all the mobile troops that can be spared from established posts of the army in the western department to this State, as well as the mobile troops of the National Guard of Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho, Nevada and California, all of which States are embraced in the western department, commanded by Maj.-Gen. Arthur Murray.

While the field of the maneuvers has not yet been definitely selected, it seems possible that it will be either in the vicinity of Redlands or of San Diego. It will not be for a month, however, that definite word of the location of the maneuver field will be made, for there is much work to be done first in the selection of permanent camp sites.

There has been some talk that Long Beach, near Los Angeles, was to be chosen this year, but it has been definitely decided that such will not be the case. Los Angeles is not a fortified city and no problems of defending it will be considered until such a time as the government perfects plans for the safeguarding of its harbor. The problems of the defending of San Francisco from land attack have been well worked out during previous years, and the War Department policy is, as far as possible, to alter every second year the field and class of problem to be tackled.

Redding has been talked of as a possible mobilization point, because it is about the geographical center of the western department, but recent developments seem to point to the fact that somewhere in the vicinity of San Diego is being more seriously considered, possibly because of its proximity to the Mexican border. It would be far more expensive to hold the maneuvers near San Diego, because of transportation problems, but the difference in expense may be offset by other advantages of that section from a military viewpoint, and in the face of the present strained relations between the United States and Mexico, the administration may believe that if maneuvers are to be held at all—which they undoubtedly will be—they might as well be held somewhere in the zone where possible trouble might be reasonably expected to develop.

The reticence of army officials, usually glad to give any information in their power regarding maneuvers past or to come, which is manifesting itself just now, when tentative preparations are known to be on foot for the holding of joint maneuvers, may be significant, or it may simply be because such officials have not been definitely advised what the War Department plans are in the premises.

LAST YEAR'S MANEUVERS.

There have been no joint militia and army maneuvers in the United States since 1912. The maneuvers here were then held in the Santa Clara Valley, the defending of San Francisco from a land attack being the problem in hand. A blue, or defense army, commanded by Col. Cornelius Gardener, now retired, marched from the Presidio of San Francisco, south to Coyote, where it engaged in battle with a red army, commanded by Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski of the California militia, which force had for days been harassed by a battalion of regulars attached to the blue army and commanded by Col. William H. C. Bowen. The militia attacking force was repulsed, and it is generally believed that the maneuvers were not the success they should have been.

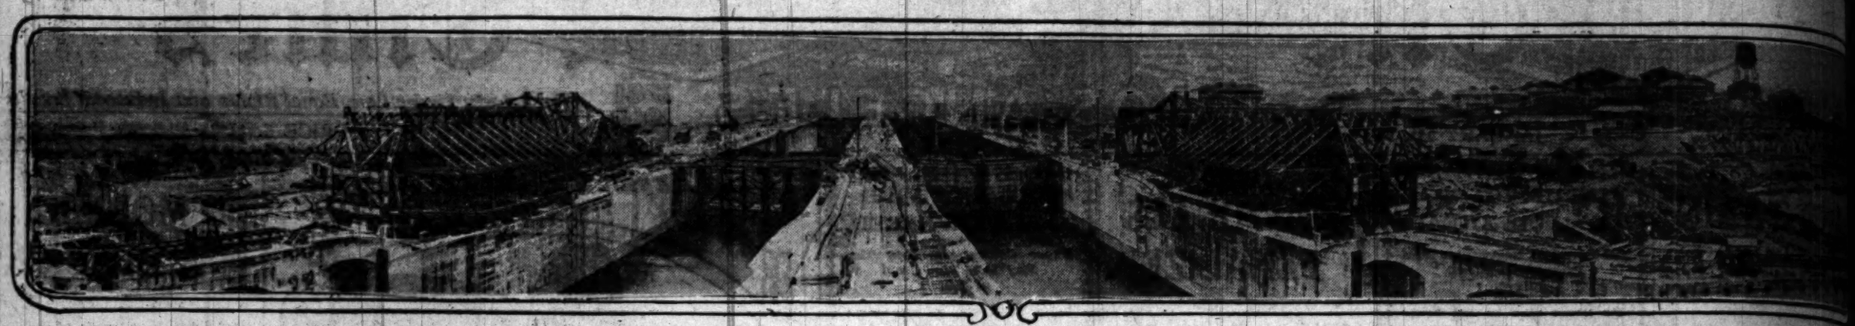
With the main body of the blue army it was principally a marching campaign, and with the red army they had no educational advantages accruing from really joint maneuvers, inasmuch as the red army was composed exclusively of militiamen, Wankowski blocking the idea of really joint maneuvers by refusing to serve under a regular army officer of "inferior" rank to himself. At that time there was no brigadier-general in the regular service here to assume command over Wankowski's head.

NATIONAL GUARD INSPECTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—The annual inspection of California's National Guard by United States army officers will be held March 2 to 15, inclusive, according to announcement issued yesterday from the Adjutant-General's office. Capt. E. S. Bowen has been detailed as instructor-inspector by the army and will make the inspections accompanied by inspectors of the State militia.

Gatun Locks Through Which First Boat Has Passed from Ocean to Ocean



The Gatun Locks of the Panama Canal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Some idea of the size of Gatun Lake, the great artificial body of water created by the engineers to supply the Panama Canal with water, may be gathered from the fact that it required a week's time to lower the water level seven-tenths of a foot through one of the large gates at the Gatun spillway. Since the locks were closed and the dam completed the water has been steadily accumulating until on December 27 it had reached a height of 84.7 feet. Because a small dike remained to be constructed on a low place on the dam, it became necessary to reduce the level to 84 feet while the work was in progress. The drawing off of this seven-tenths of a foot of water involved a loss of 3.2 billion cubic feet of the 181.8 billion feet behind the dam.

Taking advantage of the open gateway, a steam launch is rounding up the numerous floating islands and shoving them into the current in order that they may be carried out to sea.

Last year was the first of record in which during the dry season the water of the lake evaporated more rapidly than the rate of run-off; in ordinary seasons the supply exceeds the evaporation.

Even in a season of minimum rainfall, the lake with an elevation of 89 feet at the end of the rainy season, will supply water for the canal for forty-eight lockages a day without reducing the minimum depth in the canal channel below 39½ feet.

The passage of the crane boat La Valley, which made the first complete trip through the Panama Canal, was unintentional, according to dispatches from Panama today.

The La Valley, the dispatch stated, had been up and down through Gatun locks since November 1 and had recently been at work in the vicinity of Paradiso. In course of dredging operations she passed from that place to Miraflores. When an effort was made to turn her around, the number was found to be too great, she was allowed to go to the entrance to reverse. The error was made in the course of the work. Col. Gosthals, the dispatch added, does not consider the passage through the canal final, he could not yet fix a date for the first steamer to make the trip.

MARRIED MAN KILLS TEACHER.

Nephew of Senator Spooner Shoots Miss McConnell.

Then Inflicts Fatal Wound Upon Himself.

Tragedy Occurs in Hallway Outside Schoolroom.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Jan. 9.—John Spooner, a nephew of former United States Senator John C. Spooner, shot and killed Miss Emily McConnell, 35, a school teacher in Madison for fourteen years, late this afternoon and then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a fatal wound in the head above the right ear. He died tonight.

Spooner is a son of Roger Spooner, a brother of John C. Spooner. No reason is known for the tragedy. He is 40 years old, married, and has two children. He used a 38 caliber revolver, firing two shots at Miss McConnell, both taking effect in the head. The woman died instantly. He was taken to a hospital, where his death followed.

Spooner called at the Irving school, went to the room where Miss McConnell was teaching, called her into the hallway and without engaging in conversation, shot her.

Spooner is said to have called at the school yesterday and again early this morning, but nothing is known of the conversation of the two. He is engaged in the automobile business.

Miss McConnell was a daughter of Mrs. Robert McConnell. Her father died in 1892 and was at one time a state oil inspector.

GEN. BUCKNER'S FUNERAL.

Services Are to Be Held Today at Frankfort After Arrival of Train Bearing Body.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUNFORDVILLE (Ky.) Jan. 9.—The body of Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, who died at his home, "Glen Lily," near here last night, will be conveyed by special train tomorrow to Frankfort for burial. The widow, relatives and about twenty close friends of the Buckner family will accompany the remains of the last surviving lieutenant-general of the Confederate army from this city to the state capital.

Burial will take place immediately after the train's arrival. Gen. Buckner's death was due to infirmities of age. He was in his 91st year. He had been a member of the United States army for ten years; was a veteran of the Mexican War, for four years was Governor of Kentucky, and in 1896 was a candidate for Vice-President of the United States on the Gold-Democrat ticket, headed by Gen. John M. Palmer. He was a graduate from West Point in 1844 and remained in the United States army until 1855, when he resigned.

He entered the Confederate army as a brigadier-general and successively was advanced to the ranks of major-general and lieutenant-general.

He served as Governor of Kentucky from 1887 to 1891 and as a member of the Kentucky constitutional convention in 1891. After being a candidate for Vice-President in 1896, he retired to his home near this town.

Gen. Buckner died in the house in which he was born.

It is reported that martial law will be declared in Pretoria tomorrow.

GENERAL STRIKE THREAT.

Tonight, other leaders were taken into custody and at a late hour, following a hurriedly-called meeting of the Trades Federation, the federation threatened to call a general strike unless the men detained were liberated. Three proclamations were gazetted in Pretoria today calling out the citizens' forces throughout the Transvaal and the citizen reserves in many districts and prohibiting the sale or transportation of arms in the districts of Pretoria, Middleburg and Witwatersand.

There has been an astonishing change in the situation since Thursday night when the strike seemed to be a fiasco. The labor leaders, seeing that the movement had hung fire, appealed to the Johannesburg Trades Federation today and the federation applied pressure in such a manner that the situation tonight is one of the utmost gravity.

There is much apprehension here over the proposed mass meeting called for Sunday in Market Square, Johannesburg, the people recalling the fatal consequences of a similar gathering in the square during July's strike.

STRIKE LEADERS TALK.

Mason, leader of the Trades Federation, addressing a gathering of strikers here today, declared that the entire railway service would be stopped tomorrow, but that it was not intended to call out the miners. The miners, he said, were burning for revenge for the bloodshed of last July, but that their revenge would come later.

The Rand cold storage plant, which supplies meat for a majority of the natives employed in the mines, is reported to have only one week's supply on hand. If Johannesburg is cut off from communication, the existing supplies of flour and other provisions are expected to last only ten days. Prices for food already are rising.

It is reported that 900 natives broke out of a compound at Jagersfontein, Orange state, today, and raided the town. It is said that fifty of the natives were killed and also that there were several casualties among the whites.

CAPE RAILWAY MEN LOYAL.

SITUATION IS ENCOURAGNNG.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 9.—A feature of the railway strike situation encouraging to the road officials is the continued loyalty of the Cape Railway men and the refusal of the operating staff of the Durban branch of the Natal Railroad to join the strike. It was the refusal of the Cape Railway employees to obey the Johannesburg Trades Federation which was the main cause for the collapse of the miners' strike in July.

All reports from Natal show that the railways are running without interruption, but at Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, the running staff has joined the strikers.

Reports of rioting at Jagersfontein are exaggerated. There were disorders there today, however, in which natives were killed and two Europeans injured.

CARDINAL'S BAN ON THE TANGO.

Says Parisians Must Confess if They Dance It.

M. Richepin Takes Issue With Roman Prelate.

Declares Egypt and Greece Originated the Fad.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Cardinal Leon Adolphe Amette, archbishop of Paris, in an admonition which will be published in the churches here tomorrow, forbids the dancing of the tango as a sin which must be confessed to require penance. The archbishop says:

"We condemn the dance imported from abroad known under the name of tango, which, by its nature, is indecent and offensive to morals, and Christians may not in conscience take part therein. It will therefore be the duty of confessors to take notice of this in the administration of the sacrament of penance."

ABBE'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

Abbe Gouget, of the Archbishop's household, said today that His Eminence had for some time been distressed by the persistence of the vogue of the tango and had hoped that it would be transitory, but he felt it his duty now to intervene formally.

Cardinal Amette also will publish tomorrow an official admonition on the daring and eccentricities of modern dress.

CARDINAL'S ADMONITION.

"We remind the women," the Cardinal will say, "that they should preserve always the rules of Christian modesty which are too often violated. We ask Christian women to unite in abolishing certain styles of dress which are contrary to decency."

Jean Richepin, a member of the French Academy, and his wife, who are joint authors of a new comedy entitled "The Tango" at the opening performance with President Poincare present, averred today that the tango as danced in the salons of Paris was charming, adding that they had searched vainly for suggestions of immorality.

M. RICHEPIN'S OPINION.

M. Richepin said: "I respect Cardinal Amette's decision, but must, nevertheless, reserve the right to refer equally to the authoritative utterance of Saint John Chrysostom, who, in his time, did not condemn, but on the contrary, approved dances just as suggestive as the tango."

M. Richepin recently read in the French Academy an essay tracing the descent of the tango from the religious dances of Egypt and Greece.

DE FOUQUIERES ALARMED

Andre De Fouquieres, who, a year ago, delivered a series of lectures in the United States, said today that Cardinal Amette's prohibition of the tango would produce profound emotion and dismay in Parisian circles.

Member of Parliament Announces Money Can Be Used Only to Indemnify Relatives of Dead and Wounded in Case of War After Beginning of "Home Rule."

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BELFAST (Ireland) Jan. 9.—A fund amounting to $5,000,000 to indemnify the relatives of killed and wounded among the Ulster Unionist volunteers has been raised, according to an announcement made today by Capt. James C. Raig, Unionist member for East Down, Ulster, at a gathering of Unionists here. He said the sum required had been exceeded.

The utilisation of the indemnity fund was contingent on hostilities occurring between the Unionists of Ulster and the Irish government after the introduction of home rule.

The Unionists declare that their plans are complete to resist home rule by armed force. They have raised an army alleged to include thousands of disciplined men under the leadership of retired officers of the British army and navy. The Unionists assert they will defy any measures of a government sitting at Dublin.

The activity of the movement caused the government some time ago to issue a proclamation prohibiting the importation of arms and ammunition.

Immense Train of Flames Flies Across Sky Accompanied by Explosions and Dashes Into Sea.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Jan. 9.—People of Western France were startled last night by the passage of an enormous meteor. The phenomenon took the form of an immense train of intense white flames, rushing across the sky at terrific speed. It was accompanied by frequent and deafening explosions, which broke windows. It also was observed at other places and appears to have fallen into the sea beyond Palmpol on the English Channel, causing disturbances in that district which were mistaken for an earthquake.

Principal in Recent Army Divorce Suit Remails the Packet Sent Him by Nine-Year-Old Child Because She Sided With Mother in San Francisco Case.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Golden haired, 9-year-old Charlotte Merriam sent her father a Christmas gift.

Because Capt. H. C. Merriam's birthday falls a few days before Christmas, the little daughter placed two love greetings in the package.

Though the child was stanch to her mother when several months ago she appeared as a witness in the sensational army divorce case, wherein Mrs. Bessie Merriam fought for her honor against the accusations of the captain, her affections for her father were not destroyed by the sordid stories of a divorce court.

The package yesterday came back. It was unopened. Across the top, where the child had written her own return address, were the words:

"I don't want anything from a perjurer."

Charlotte's innocent heart is too warm to feel the steel with which man attacks man, and sometimes woman.

"I am sorry papa did not open it," she said, when the postman brought her the parcel. "I know he would have liked my present if he had seen it."

Mrs. Merriam with Charlotte, are living with Mrs. Merriam's mother in Sacramento street.

MIGHTY BLAST SET FOR TODAY.

New York's Aqueduct Bore Is About Complete.

Hundred and Sixty-two Million Dollars Spent.

Pure Water for Gotham in an Unlimited Supply.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock the dull roar of dynamite 400 feet under ground at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and St. Nicholas place will signal the completion of the boring of the Catskill aqueduct, which has cost the city $162,000,000, the labor of more than 72,000 men and the injury of well-nigh 4000 men, and which foreign engineers rank with the Panama Canal as one of the great engineering feats of the world.

Inside of a year New York's water supply, 500,000,000 gallons a day, will pour through the fifteen-foot pipe ninety-six miles into the greater city, rewarding New York's effort for pure and abundant water, drawn direct from the mountains.

THE LAST DRILL.

George B. Mitchel, the foreman, and his squad of drillers, at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and St. Nicholas place, were piercing the last ten feet of schist which still barred the tube tonight. They spoke eagerly of the last blast, which is to end the most difficult part of the entire undertaking for "Sixty-five," as the contract for the last section of the aqueduct is called, has proved the toughest the workmen have encountered.

Although work on this link of the aqueduct began two and a half years ago at the time the other sections were started, it is the last to be completed. This is blamed largely on shaft No. 9, which has the distinction of being the "hoodoo shaft" of the entire work.

The history of No. 9, which pierces more than 400 feet of the earth's crust, is a continuous record of disaster. To begin with, bad ground, which entailed numerous slides, was encountered. Rock was of such formation that extra heavy roof supports became imperative.

Then to cap it all, came the disastrous fire of last August, during which a great quantity of the shaft superstructure and the underground workings were destroyed. Sixty workmen were trapped at the bottom of the well, 400 feet under ground, and loss of life seemed inevitable. Then it was that Michael L. Quinn, the superintendent, and others were delivered into the smoke-filled throat of the shaft, fought their way through the tunnel and rescued the men. In addition to this mishap many minor drawbacks were encountered throughout the work on this shaft, and some of the men are so superstitious that they could hardly believe in its completion tomorrow.

GIGANTIC TASK.

The aqueduct is only a part, though undoubtedly of the most difficult part of the gigantic provision which has been made for New York's water supply. The Ashokan reservoir, from which the water will flow its ninety-six-mile trip to the city, is 12.8 miles square, and its cost, including that of relocating highways and paying for eleven miles of railroad track, which must be removed, will approximate $20,000,000.

If all the water which this great repository can hold were turned over Manhattan it would cover the island with twenty-eight feet of flood, the whole area of the reservoir being about that of Manhattan from the Battery to One Hundred and Sixteenth street. Eight villages had to be removed to clear the way for the reservoir and two cemeteries, 2800 bodies of the former inhabitants being buried elsewhere at the expense of the city.

The many miles of country were cleared with a heavy machine, to which was attached a cutting and tearing device by which trees and stumps were uprooted. Thousands of trunks and many cords of snarled roots were burned and old houses were torn down and fired. Grass and brambles and weeds were drawn together in piles and burned, the whole basin being practically cleared of organic matter.

The result is one of the greatest reservoirs in the world, and this coupled to the aqueduct by which it will feed the city, insures a supply in excess of all possible demands. Using the four drainage areas in the new water system for the city, it is estimated that even in the dryest kind of weather New York's supply need never be under 770,000,000 gallons a day, or about 250,000,000 more than is at present necessary.

tlemen's understandings," so far as that can be done.

INJUNCTIONS MEASURE.

The measure on injunctions and damage suits would give individuals, as well as the government, the right to start injunction proceedings for any attempt at injury. In any civil proceeding begun under the Sherman law by the Federal government in which a judgment or final or interlocutory decree has been entered, holding the defendants guilty of conduct prohibited by the act, it would permit individuals claiming to be injured by such conduct to be admitted as a party to the suit with the same relief as if they had brought an independent suit. This would give the individual the benefit of the results of a proceeding by the government.

Members of the Judiciary Committee active in framing these bills believe that the measures would strengthen the Sherman law without injustice to the rights of business.

SAFETY-AT-SEA CONFERENCE.

Selection of Lewis Due to Britain's Desire for Senator Who Had Wilson's Confidence.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Work of the committee on revision of the International conference on safety of life at sea, on which United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis has taken his place as one of the American representatives, has been delayed and its report will not be read for the full conference until January 18 at the earliest. The delay has been caused by the searching examination the committee is giving the reports to eliminate from the proposed treaty anything that might conflict with the fundamental laws of the countries which the delegates represent.

It has developed that the presence of Senator Lewis in the conference, who recently succeeded Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's Union as a delegate, was due to the suggestion of Great Britain, France and Germany that a Senator having the confidence of President Wilson should participate in the preparation of the treaty as something of a guarantee that the work done by the conference would be ratified by the United States Senate.

MISLEADING COMPARISONS DO NOT ALTER FACTS.

In printing for the information of the public the records of its advertising achievements, The Times does not attempt to confuse, befuddle, or throw sand in the eyes of its readers, or deceive its advertising patrons, by comparing the advertising published in one month with that published during the preceding month of the same year, or by using figures that concern only one of its many "Liner" headings.

The Times boldly publishes the total number of separate "Liners," and the aggregate number of lines of classified advertising, printed in its columns every month, and it asserts without fear of contradiction that it regularly prints as many separate "Liners" as any other two Los Angeles newspapers put together.

Unlike its local contemporaries The Times does not publish a "bull dog" edition, or predate or misbrand its editions, and it is the only Los Angeles newspaper which regularly publishes a sworn statement of its daily and Sunday circulation.

Whenever local advertisers determine for themselves the business-getting value of the various newspapers which solicit their patronage, it is a foregone conclusion that they will then concentrate their advertising in The Times.

It is only by giving its patrons quicker and more satisfactory results that this newspaper is able to regularly print more advertising than any other newspaper in the world.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OJINAGA (Mex.) Jan. 9.—Reports brought to the Federal army headquarters today were that Gen. Francisco Villa's rebel forces, numbering 2000 men, were drawing near, but the probable time of the renewal of the attack on Ojinaga was not indicated. The reported strength and division of the rebel forces was: Gen. Ortega, 900 men of whom 300 guard La Noria Pass, the only entrance to Ojinaga from the southward; Gen. Urbina, 600 men; Gen. Herrera, 1000 men; Gen. Rosalia Hernandez, 600. Gen. Villa and Gen. Herrera with their forces were reported to be approaching through the south end of La Noria Pass and Gen. Hernandez, with his force, was bringing up the rear.

All of the forces excepting those of Gen. Ortega represent reinforcements from Chihuahua sent after the failure of Gen. Ortega to take Ojinaga after five days of fighting.

Opposed to the advancing army are 2000 Federals under nine generals. The Federal generals were inclined to believe the rebels would not be in condition to begin an attack for several days; nevertheless, the construction of defenses proceeded actively in preparation for a possible sudden rebel advance.

INTERIOR CONDITIONS.

Conditions in the interior, and especially in Tepic and Jalisco, are becoming insupportable, according to Louis Wallace, an American miner, who arrived at the front today after spending three weeks traveling overland. He says that 90 per cent. of the population lack food and no provision has been made for the future.

"Within sixty days Mexico will be in the throes of a famine such as even China has never witnessed," he told the Consular agents. Wallace expects to go to California to remain until conditions improve.

An attempt to obtain some sort of recognition from the American government was made today when the question of extraditing Frank Rich, wanted in Tucson on a charge of cattle stealing, was brought before the local officials for decision. It was alleged that Rich crossed into Mexico to evade arrest, and the Arizona officers asked that he be deported as an undesirable. Some of the Mexican officials demanded that a requisition addressed to the Constitutionalist government be filed, as was the custom before the revolution. The American Consul refused to do this, however, and the case was postponed awaiting a complete report. It is likely that Rich will be taken to the border and deported.

Educator Urges the University of California to Send an Orchestra, With Perhaps an Opera Troupe, All Over the State to Reduce the Cost of Living.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Besides soothing the savage breast, music, according to Charles Louis Seeger, professor of music in the University of California, is also the foe of "high cost of living" and has power even to allay the discontentment of poor men with hard toil at long hours for low wages.

He sets forth these views in a report to the president of the university.

The need of good music, he says, not solely as a relaxation, but as a fundamental and imperative principle of government, is felt in every town in the land.

Prof. Seeger shows also how the university, acting for the State, can supply the corrective. It must do these three things:

Establish and maintain a State orchestra.

Engage "exceptional artists," perhaps an opera troupe.

Send these regularly over a lecture and concert route, similar to a State-wide vaudeville circuit.

The orchestra and the artists, Prof. Seeger asserts, should be employed exclusively by the State. They would pay expenses. In addition, Seeger wants a State music school, affiliated with the public schools system and with the musical profession.

BRYAN ADMIRES WILSON.

Tells Jackson Democrats at Toledo the President Has Necessary Qualifications for Leadership.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) Jan. 9.—The character of President Wilson and the tariff and currency laws were discussed tonight by Secretary of State Bryan. He was the principal speaker at a Jackson Day banquet attended by many prominent Ohio Democrats. "The New Era" was the Secretary's subject.

"My object in taking as my subject 'The New Era,'" Secretary Bryan said, "is to bring to your attention the character of the man who, as President, is leading the questions which have already been acted upon and those thus far outlined. President Wilson combines the two necessary qualities for the leadership of such a movement. He follows his conscience and is in sympathy with the masses.

"There are just two standpoints from which people look at the problems of society. One is the aristocratic standpoint, and the other is the democratic standpoint. I need hardly explain that the word 'democratic' is not used in a partisan sense, but in the sense that both Jefferson and Lincoln used it in speaking of a government in which the people rule."

Discussing the tariff and currency laws, the Secretary said the country was adjusting itself to the tariff law with less economic disturbances than was expected, and that the currency law was a marvel of constructive statesmanship and was winning approval rapidly.

WORKMEN'S INDEMNITY.

Wisconsin Employers Reported to Have Paid $396,354.53 in Two Years to Injured Employees.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Jan. 9.—In the two years since the workmen's compensation law went into effect, employers of the State have paid $396,354.53 as indemnity to injured workmen and their dependents. This announcement was made today by the State Industrial Commission. The amount does not include the sum paid under the medical relief provision of the law, which it is estimated would equal 50 per cent. of the amount paid as indemnity.

There have been settled up to January 1, 1914, a total of 6899 claims. The average amount paid as indemnity in each case is $57.72.

Cutter of the Flagship Wyoming Is Swamped in Hampton Roads with Sixteen Men Aboard.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ON BOARD U.S.S. WYOMING VIA OLD POINT COMFORT, Jan. 9.—Capt. James Glennan, commander of the battleship Wyoming, gave to the Associated Press an official statement as to the foundering of the Wyoming's cutter in Hampton Roads with a list of casualties as follows:

Drowned—

OLAF K. OLSEN, boatswain of the first class, Portmouth, Va.

GEORGE HUGG, ordinary seaman, Newport, R. I.

ERNEST A. ROTH, seaman, Seattle, Wash.

THEODORE BAULDUFF, ordinary seaman, Brooklyn, N. Y.

RESCUED ON BUOY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OLD POINT COMFORT (Va.) Jan. 9.—Four sailors of the crew of the flagship Wyoming of the Atlantic fleet were drowned today when a big freight sailing cutter of the flagship was swamped with sixteen sailors aboard. Twelve men were picked up by a tug. Olaf K. Olsen of Portsmouth, one of those taken out alive, died from exposure.

T. H. Quinn, another sailor carried away by the strong tide, was taken from a buoy six miles out in lower Chesapeake Bay. Quinn was clinging to the buoy all but exhausted when picked up and brought into Hampton Roads.

When the craft got two miles off Old Point and a half mile from the Wyoming, she struck unusually heavy seas and began to take in water. She was carrying a heavy load, including steel wheelbarrows, and soon foundered after getting into a trough of the sea and becoming unmanageable.

MOYER DECLARES HE WILL STAY.

Gov. Ferris Leaves the Michigan Copper Strike District Without Taking Any Direct Action—Unionists Threaten to Attack the Grand Jury's Findings in the Courts.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOUGHTON (Mich.) Jan. 9.—Declaration of Charles H. Moyer that he intends to remain in the copper strike district as long as he pleases, intimations from union sources that the grand jury proceedings are to be attacked on legal grounds and the departure of Gov. Farriss without making a direct effort to settle the trouble marked the progress of the local industrial war today.

Moyer appeared before a mass meeting of strikers and sympathizers which crowded the largest hall in Hancock beyond its capacity. Other speakers included Seymour Steadman, of the investigation committee of the Socialist party, J. W. Lord, of Peoria, Ill., and several local men of the same political faith. Moyer explained that under the advice of physicians he could not make an extended address. He said:

"I came back here because I had a right to. Under the laws of Michigan and the Constitution of the United States I am entitled to protection. Those responsible for my leaving on December 26 violated the laws of the State and nation by taking the law into their own hands and committed a crime for which they must be punished if there is any law at all in the State of Michigan.

"When the shot was fired into my back it was not into Moyer alone, but that shot reached every miner on the continent. It was a shot in the back of the working class and especially into the back of all organized wage workers."

Moyer said there had been no change in the policy of the Western Federation of Miners.

Grant Fellows, Attorney-General of the State, James Cunningham, State Commissioner of Labor, and Edward J. Minock, the latter's attorney, departed late today for their homes. The mission of the latter was to collect information for the Governor and to check up on the testimony brought out in his public hearing. All others immediately concerned in the State executive's inquiry into strike conditions left with the Governor at noon.

ASKS CHANCE FOR NEGRO.

Booker T. Washington in Address at Battle Creek Makes Appeal for His Race.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BATTLE CREEK, Jan. 9.—Booker T. Washington emphasized what he termed the importance of giving the negro the fullest possible assistance so that his influence might have a healthy effect on the body politic.

"There are 10,000,000 colored citizens in this country," he said, "and they are here to stay. They will help or they will hinder. The white people can make the negro become a better citizen by not only being frank with him with reference to his shortcomings, but by praising him when he does well. Greater good can be accomplished if the strong points of the negro are emphasized and less stress placed on the weak points."

Sir Horace Plunkett in his paper pleaded for concentrated efforts to improve rural sections rather than urban districts. Eleven cities, including New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco, already have asked for next year's meeting of the conference. The selection of a meeting place, however, will be decided later.

GREAT BANKS IN LINE.

Five Institutions With Resources of $100,000,000 or More Are on Federal Reserve List.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Anglo and London-Paris National Bank of San Francisco and First National Bank of Denver are among the larger banks of the nation which have noted their intention to accept the provisions of the new currency law, it was announced by the Treasury Department tonight.

The list of banks embraces institutions which have total resources of $20,000,000 or more, and includes five banks, each with resources of $100,000,000 or more. Resources of the twenty-eight banks named amount to more than a billion and a half dollars.

WOULD LEASE MINERAL LANDS.

Lane Drafts the Bills for Congress to Consider.

Measures Designed to Prevent Monopoly of Resources.

Secretary Favors License for Oil Prospectors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To destroy and prevent monopoly of the coal, oil, phosphate and potash resources of the country, Secretary of the Interior Lane has drafted a number of bills which will be submitted to Congress when it reconvenes next week.

These bills contemplate a system of leasing by the Federal government of lands bearing these deposits which it still controls and requires the payment into the national treasury of a fixed minimum annual royalty.

One lease only will be granted to any one person or group of persons, and all leases will be made non-transferable except with the consent of a designated authority. This, it is asserted, will prevent monopoly. The leases will reserve the right to the government to make new terms at the end of a number of years. This will be in the interest of the original lessee and will encourage him to make whatever investment may be necessary. As a further spur to his efforts, the original lease will have an assured preferential right to a renewal until the mine is worked out.

The withdrawals of public lands valuable for minerals, fuels and fertilizers, or in connection with the water resources of the public domain, now aggregate 66,000,000 acres. The coal land withdrawals awaiting classification constitute the larger part of the acreage, being 56,000,000 acres, not including the blanket withdrawals of coal lands in Alaska.

The advantage of the lease system is that it enables the operator to put all the capital into the promotion of an enterprise, no investment being needed for the purchase of the land.

The United States is the greatest oil-producing country in the world. Oil has been found in Alaska and recently on the Quinault Indian Reservation in Washington. The single reservation of oil lands for governmental use is that in California, over the withdrawal of which litigation is now pending. To encourage the search for oil, Secretary Lane favors the granting of a license to any one to prospect exclusively a large tract of land for two years, and in the event that oil is found in commercial quantities the government will charge a royalty fixed in advance. The Secretary also is in favor of regulations under which the government will be able to reserve lands adjoining an oil-producing section.

The United States produced three years ago 52 per cent. of the world's output of phosphate rock and last year over 40 per cent. of our product was exported. In view of the priceless value of this rock, the Secretary holds that in the interest of American farms it should be developed under the lease system.

It is expected Congress will pass the Lane bills during the present session. The battle on conservation will be waged around the subject of water power. Secretary Lane favors the leasing also of the western water resources and the division of the royalties obtained with the States.

HALTS SUGAR NEGOTIATIONS.

McReynolds Will Push Anti-Trust Suit Unless Reorganization Plans Are Agreed to.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Negotiations between the American Sugar Refining Company and the Department of Justice have come to an abrupt halt, it was learned today. Unless the so-called trust agrees to meet demands for a reorganization, the pending suit to dissolve it under the Sherman anti-trust act will be pressed with vigor by Atty.-Gen. McReynolds.

Department officials declined to discuss the case tonight, and the exact points which failed of adjustment were not made public.

It is the first failure of negotiations of this sort since the American Telephone and Telegraph Company pointed a way by which "big business" might avoid long litigation in the courts.

In the bill filed against the so-called trust the government held that it controlled about 72 per cent. of the total output of refined sugar in the country, exclusive of the beet sugar product, and that its percentage of the beet sugar produced was about 64 per cent. of the total. The bill asked that the American company, the National Sugar Refining Company of New Jersey and the Great Western Sugar Company be found unlawful monopolies and that the community of stock interest held to exist between them be broken and enjoined.

Arguments probably will be begun in the near future unless there is a resumption of negotiations.

INCREASES BORDER PATROL.

Brig.-Gen. Bliss Is Preparing to Receive in Texas Many Refugees from Ojinaga Battle.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Prolongation of the revolution in Mexico is believed by the officials here to depend largely upon the measure of success attained by Gen. Huerta in the execution of his scheme for the enforced circulation of State bank notes. They think the real test of the popular support of the Huerta government will be found in the manner in which the Mexican business interests receive this latest move.

In preparation for another battle between the Mexicans in the neighborhood of Ojinaga, Brig.-Gen. Bliss, commanding the American border forces, is strengthening the patrol at that point and preparations are being made to care for many refugees who are expected to cross the boundary during and after the battle.

Under Secretary Garrison's orders, the troops of either side, if defeated in battle, are privileged to find refuge in Texas. Consequently the American forces are facing a serious military problem, which may involve not only the disarming of several thousand troops, but their subsequent "detention."

The only direct news from the west coast of Mexico today came in a telegram from Admiral Cowles, dated at Manatlan yesterday, stating there was no visible sign of attack on that city.

City Asks Permission to Construct Street Across Military Reservation Near the Breakwater.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Stephens and City Attorney Stephens jointly called today at the War Department to urge that permission be granted to the city of Los Angeles to construct Pacific boulevard across the forty-acre military reservation lying between the breakwater and Timms Point, harbor of Los Angeles. The request was not granted immediately, but there seemed to be no disposition to refuse it, and it was suggested that the city submit a formal request with a map showing exactly how the right of way would cross the reservation.

COLOMBIA WANTS CASH.

Republic's Claims Arising Out of Panama's Independence Are Being Considered at Washington.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Negotiations between the United States and Colombia for a settlement of Colombia's alleged claims arising out of the independence of Panama are now proceeding on the basis of direct proposals made by Colombia for a settlement on an indemnity basis. State Department officials said today substantial progress has been made toward an ending of the long-standing controversy. Colombia insisted during the Taft administration that the case be submitted to arbitration and would not consider proposals made by the United States for the payment of any specified sum for the relinquishment of all her claims.

It is understood the present negotiations contemplate the payment of a cash indemnity to Colombia by the United States.

Thaddeus A. Thompson, American Minister to Colombia, is now in the United States.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—No timber land will be subject to the income tax until the timber is cut and marketed and then only the profit, after the cost which will include protection of the growing timber, is deducted, will be subject to assessment. This is the interpretation placed by P. S. Ridsdale, secretary of the American Forestry situation, on a decision of the Treasury Department on the subject.

MURPHY TRAINS ON VARSITY OVAL

Tommy Takes First Jog With Laird, U.S.C. Hurdler.

Little Lightweight Has Almost Perfect Form.

Says He Likes Rah! Rah! Stuff; Worked at Yale.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

Harlem Tommy Murphy fired the opening gun of his training campaign yesterday morning, when he did his first road work, in preparation for the Ritchie battle—January 23 in San Francisco—with Orrie Laird of U.S.C., who is counted one of the best low hurdlers ever seen on the Pacific Coast. Murphy was picked up at his hotel by Harold Tuttle, in one of the new Buicks, and the party left for the varsity field.

Here Murphy was met by Coach Boyd Comstock, "Uncle" Lewis, the trainer, and Orrie Laird. It was a regular amateur-professional convention. When it was noised about the campus that Tommy would run a few laps with Laird, the undergraduates sprang up from everywhere and soon the track was lined with a solid phalanx of goggle-eyed freshmen and some worldly-wise sophomores, as well.

Tommy seemed to be right in his element and took to the rah! rah! atmosphere like a duck to water and explained that it was because he often trained near Yale when fighting in the East, as he liked to get his workouts on the road with the men on the Eli cross-country squad.

Right away Tommy, "Uncle" Lewis and Comstock got into a heated discussion on training methods, past performances of boxers and sports in general. Murphy was greatly interested in the new hurdling form that Comstock is teaching at the university and said that it was unlike anything he had ever seen before in that line.

LIKES HURDLE FORM.

It seems that when Tommy was last following intercollegiate sport, the stride form was not in vogue with the hurdlers, and when Laird was sent through his paces, he thought the exhibition wonderful.

"There is speed in this stuff," said Tommy, "and I'll bet if one of the old birds had had it ten years ago, records would have been broken long ago."

"These college boys sure know this running game down to the ground," Murphy went on. "I remember in Yale they had a great bunch of long-winded horses when I was training up there. They sure could ramble a few and when I could stick with them for five or six miles I always figured myself in swell shape."

Murphy and Laird then started to warm up for their jog and at once got into an argument as to the proper method of holding the arms when running. Laird ran with his arms swinging in easy fashion at his sides, while Murphy was using the side-roll motion. Otherwise, Murphy has almost perfect form, and Comstock raved at some length about his ability to carry himself over the ground.

"I only wish we had a few more men who know as much about running in correct form," said Comstock, "but I guess Murphy has learned a lot of foot work and the proper manner of taking care of his body in the ring."

COMSTOCK COACHES TOMMY.

Murphy then asked Comstock to show him how to carry his arms when jogging and the latter explained that the straight side-arm style gave more speed, ease of carriage and did not tire the chest and shoulder muscles as much as does the old-style, rolling side-arm motion.

Murphy said that he used this old form because he found that he got up a better perspiration, then Comstock explained that it was due to over muscular labor and not exercise that this state was brought about, and the same result could be attained with a little more speed and greater ease, by adopting the side-arm swing.

"You will find that this new jog style will better your wind and at the same time not exhaust you at all during your road work," said Comstock, "and I have long wondered why more of our professional men have not taken up the idea."

"Come on, Champ," said Tommy, "let's take a roll around this track for about a half-mile."

"Better change your clothes," said Laird, "because we generally run a few here."

"Never change to running togs," answered Murphy. "I'll just take you on as I am." And he did.

For two and a half laps Laird and Tommy ran around the track, Murphy adopting the new form with great success. Laird led out at a good pace, but Murphy stayed with him in splendid shape and was only breathing slightly when he came in, which shows that he is in fine shape even now, and with two weeks' training should be fit for a great battle against Ritchie.

LARGEST YACHT EVER BUILT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A schooner-yacht, the largest fore and aft vessel of its kind ever built, is being planned by Alexander S. Cochran, who also is having constructed a boat, for the defense of the America's cup. Announcement regarding the yacht was made today by William Gardner, her designer.

The vessel will cost $250,000 and will be constructed for racing as well as pleasure purposes. There will be three masts with topmasts so lofty that the boat could not pass under the Brooklyn bridge. The general dimensions will be 210 feet over all, 150 feet on the water line, thirty-four-foot beam and eighteen feet draught. Bronze will be the plating. The boat will be built in a private yard at Neponset, Mass.

GIBBONS TO BOX PACK M'FARLAND

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mike Gibbons and Packy McFarland, after months of wrangling over a pound or two of weight, have finally agreed to terms, and will meet in a ten-round match at New York City during the first week of February.

Edward Reddy, manager of the St. Paul man, wired from Chicago today that after three hours' discussion with Emil Theiry, manager of the Stock Yards boxer, they had finally agreed that the weight should be 145 pounds at 4 o'clock on the day of battle.

Theiry held out originally for 144 pounds at 3 o'clock and Reddy for 145 pounds at the same hour. When this weight was found to be unsatisfactory, Theiry proposed 145 pounds ringside. This, too, Reddy objected to, as it would give Packy too big an advantage. One hundred and forty-five pounds at 5 o'clock then was proposed by Theiry and Reddy finally compromised by having the men weigh in at 4 o'clock.

PLAYERS' FRAT TO BE NEUTRAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—David L. Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, who returned yesterday from Cincinnati after a satisfactory conference with the National Commission regarding the players' contracts, notified all members of the fraternity by mail today that they are now free to sign contracts.

"This method is necessary," said Fultz, "for the players agreed originally to pay no attention to orders published in the newspapers. If I had given out a statement in Cincinnati that the players were eligible to sign, many of them probably would not have accepted the announcement as official, hence the notifications that are being mailed as rapidly as possible."

Mr. Fultz said only players employed in organized baseball could become members of the fraternity, but he said there was nothing in the organization's constitution to deprive a player of his good standing if he signed with an outlaw club. The fraternity's attitude toward the Federal League, Fultz declared, was one of absolute neutrality.

TRACK PROSPECTS AT HOLLYWOOD.

Track prospects of Hollywood High were given quite a boost by the good work-outs indulged in by the candidates for honors, and especially by some of the marks made by the leading varsity men. Richardson, the big football man, who had things easy in the weights last year, put the twelve-pound shot forty-seven feet. Considering that but one week of work has preceded this feat, there is every possibility that he will equal if not surpass the mark of fifty-one feet seven inches, now held by Hall Clement as the Southern California interscholastic record.

Gates is also proving a good boy in the high jump, clearing five feet eleven inches yesterday. These two marks are the nearest approaches to the pegs that were formerly being reached by the high school track men of a few years ago. Forbes, another man of last year, is clearing the hurdles in advance form, and making good time for this time of the year.

POLY HIGH IS GOING STRONG.

Athletics at Polytechnic have taken a decided boom of late. Not long ago the Mechanics took an awful slump and for some time it looked as though they were has-beens, but during the last year they upset all dope and took second in the local football league. The only team to beat them was Manual Arts, which was no disgrace, as the Artisans trimmed every team in this county.

Poly defeated Hollywood 15 to 0 and tied L. A. High. L. A. High defeated the same team by the score of 13 to 0. Thus, by comparing the scores of the two schools Poly has a shade on the Hill-toppers.

The present basketball season has been a very good one for Polytechnic. So far they have not lost a game and just recently they came back at their old rivals, Manual Arts, and beat them by the score of 35 to 18. This puts them right in line for the championship of the league.

Interest in High School sport is much better now than ever before. This is largely due to the fact that Poly has had such a good team in the field. This makes keen competition when L. A. High, Poly, Manual Arts and Hollywood are in the field.

Of late the Poly students have shown lots of enthusiasm in supporting their teams and their success in the field is largely due to this fact.

POCKET BILLIARD SCORE GROWING.

O'Brien repeated his offense against the first-class line-up in the third round of Grover's pocket billiard handicap tournament yesterday afternoon, taking Stocker's measure in twenty-three innings, on the score of 90 to 71.

Of the scratch men, listed to play 100 balls, Stocker has now lost three games, Banks two, and Kirkland one. O'Brien and Wilson, in the ninety class, have each won three games straight, and it looks to be up-hill work for the experts to catch them within the seven-game limit of the schedule, yet the tourney is still young, and fortune may cast her smiles on others soon.

Clean and rapid play marked the afternoon game, O'Brien making runs of 15, 14, 14 and 10, while Stocker made high run of 26, and others of 14 and 10.

Scratches: O'Brien, 4; Stocker, 3. Safety plays: O'Brien, 8; Stocker, 8. Misses: O'Brien, 11; Stocker, 10.

POLY BASEBALL MEN TURN OUT.

Fully twenty-five men turned out for baseball at Polytechnic High School yesterday afternoon in answer to a call sent out by "Fat" Martin. Many of the men out were new, as several old-timers will have to wait for a short time on account of their studies.

Ables and Trip, the battery of last year that could always be depended upon, is again on hand. Both men are practically sure of their old berths. Martin, at first, is the only other man sure of a berth. The fight for places gives promise of resulting in the survival of the fit and, as all of the recruits look fit, this gives promise of a real tussle.

Yellow Peril.

CHINESE BASEBALL TEAM TO INVADE CALIFORNIA.

THE first sign of the return of the "yellow peril" will be cared for by the baseball men of the U.S.C. Law School when they meet the Chinese University baseball team of Hawaii in a series of games on March 13 and 14. Definite arrangements for the invasion of orientals have been made by Ken Yin Chin, athletic manager of the university.

The trip of these players will mark the first time that a foreign team made up of Chinese has ever entered Southern California. Japan has sent teams here, but never before have the sons of Confucius made any stirring attempt at the American game.

Their first sight of this country, taken collectively at least, will be on March 1. Games will be played with the northern university and college teams before the trip south. The men will be accompanied by Matt C. Strong, an American, who is said to have accomplished wonders with this squad. Lai Pin captains the team.

LADY GOLFER; POISONED PUP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Miss Edith Chesebrough of this city has offered a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the person that poisoned her prize Airedale terrier, Clonmel Radiancy. The dog picked up poison while out for a walk with its mistress.

"I feel that steps must be taken to stop the epidemic of dog-poisoning here," Miss Chesebrough said today, "and by offering a large reward the culprit may be convicted."

CUP DEFENDER'S MAST.

BRISTOL (L. I.) Jan. 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The yacht under construction at the Herreshoff yards by a syndicate of New York men as a candidate for the defense of the American cup, will probably have a wooden main mast of the "stave" variety, it was learned today.

The attention of the builders is devoted principally to the completion of the bronze keel plate, which was cast recently.

FEDERAL LEAGUE GRABS FOUR STARS FROM MAJORS

Killifer, Gene Packard, Brennan and Old King Cole.

They All Go to the Chicago Club, Which Will Thus Give Tinker a Good Pitching Staff—Dick Hoblitzell and John Lobert Are "Approached" — Baltimore Already Has Nine Big Leaguers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The Federal League hurled its second bomb into the ranks of organized baseball tonight.

Four players, long prominent in major league play, were signed for the Chicago club of the Federal League. They are Gene Packard, a pitcher of the Cincinnati National League club; Al Brennan, pitcher, and William Killifer, catcher, of the Philadelphia Nationals, and Leonard (King) Cole, pitcher of the New York Americans.

They signed for three years, it was announced.

The amount of salaries the men will receive was not made public, but according to Charles Weeghman, president of the local club, who made the announcements, surety bonds have been deposited guaranteeing the players their full pay, regardless of the fate of the league. All four also received advance payments on the contracts.

Weeghman also said other contracts had been signed, but after a conference with James A. Gilmore, president of the new league, he had decided to withhold the announcements for a few days. He said, however, that within a week the name of the manager of each of the eight clubs would be made public.

Today's deal guarantees a promising pitching staff to the local club. Joe Tinker is said to have declared that Packard, who was, with him last year in Cincinnati, is the most promising young left-handed pitcher in organized baseball.

The Philadelphia club was the hardest hit by the announcement. Otto Knabe, who deserted the Philadelphia club to sign as manager for the Baltimore club, was here today when the signing of his former teammates became public. He rejoiced when he heard they had entered the new league, and said he knew of several stars who had been offered Federal places but were waiting to see what other players left organized baseball. He expressed the belief that the signing of four players would result in swinging several others who have been wavering for several days.

Reports were persistent that Vic Saier, first baseman with the Chicago Nationals, had signed a contract with the St. Louis Federals.

The rumors were not confirmed.

OFFER DAUBERT SMALL FORTUNE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Jack Daubert, first baseman of the Brooklyn National League club, has been offered a berth with the Pittsburgh club of the Federal League, according to a statement credited to him today. Daubert is reported to have been offered what he terms "a small fortune" to sign a three-year contract by President Barbour of the Pittsburgh club of the Federal league. The offer, which, it is understood, calls for a payment of $30,000 for his services, is said to have been made while Daubert was in Cincinnati as a member of the Baseball Players' Fraternity at the conference between that organization and the National Committee. Since his return home to Brooklyn, he has received a renewal of the offer in a more definite form. The Superbas' star first baseman, is understood to be in receipt of a salary from the Brooklyn club estimated at about $5000 a year. It is believed that the Federal League's offer calls for a sum of about $30,000, a large portion to be paid outright at the time of signing and the balance placed to Daubert's credit in a bank or trust company.

Daubert states that he has not as yet decided to accept the Federal League offer, but intimates that he is giving the proposition serious consideration. He said:

"I don't think I can be expected to turn down a small fortune for three years' work, when I am now drawing ordinary pay for the same work. Any man, for instance, drawing a weekly salary, who was offered a fortune in hand with yearly pay better than he was getting, would look after his own best interests and accept. That is my position and I feel that I have a right to help myself.

"I know the Federals have been quoted as saying that they would not go after players under contract and would sign only those who were under reserve, but I have never been told that they were making that their definite policy. They approached me in Cincinnati and I naturally listened to what they had to say. Several of their clubs were after me, but the talk was rather general until I received the letter from Mr. Barbour, whom I will meet in Brooklyn next Sunday or Monday to discuss details."

BALTIMORE CLUB HUNTS PLAYERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Nine "Big League" ball players will be in the line up of the Baltimore team when the Federal League begins its campaign next spring, according to Otto Knabe, manager of the Baltimore club, who arrived here today to discuss league matters with President Gilmore. Knabe said the main object of his trip is a hunt for players and declared that the backers of the Baltimore club will spend any amount of money to get material. Among the men he said he had signed was "one of the best third basemen in the game," who hit better than .300 last year.

This man, it was hinted, is Hans Lobert. Knabe admitted that he was after Victor Saier, the Cubs' first baseman.

KNABE CONFERS WITH PLAYERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—Ott Knabe, who recently became manager of the Baltimore Federal League Club, was in this city today. He conferred with James Sheckard of the Cincinnati National League club. Enos Kirkpatrick of the Brooklyn Nationals and "Runt" Walsh of the Baltimore International League Club, formerly of the Philadelphia Nationals, also conferred with Knabe. Neither Knabe nor the others would discuss the result of the conference.

PITTSBURGH TO NAME LEADER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—"I will announce the manager of the Pittsburgh club tomorrow."

This was the answer given tonight by John B. Barbour, president of the Pittsburgh club of the Federal League, to the dispatches that Jacob Daubert and Richard Hoblitzell each had been offered the managership of the club.

"We have asked several players to name their terms," President Barbour said, "but we have offered terms to no one."

HOBLITZELL'S OFFER.

CINCINNATI (O.) Jan. 9.—Dick Hoblitzell, first baseman of the Cincinnati National League club, received an offer today from President Barbour of the Pittsburgh team of the Federal League to manage that team during the season of 1914. Hoblitzell would not state the amount named in the offer.

LOBERT ON THE SEA.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—John B. Lobert, the third baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, who a Chicago dispatch hints might have signed with the Federal League, is in Australasia, with the world touring baseball teams.

Jimmy Clabby holds reception,

With "The Candy Shop" company as his guests. At the left is Harvey Lichtenstein, manager, and next to him, Jimmy Clabby. On the right is Kitty Doner, one of the Allmony Sisters in the show. Standing side by side, behind Clabby, are Maude Fulton and Billy Rock.

They Pinch His Muscles.

"CANDY SHOP" GIRLS PASS JUDGMENT ON CLABBY.

"THERE ain't going to be any hesitation waltz in my fight with Sailor Petroskey, just remember that."

Thus spoke Jimmy Clabby, claimant of the middleweight boxing championship, yesterday afternoon at Doyle's training camp, when Billy Rock, Maude Fulton and some thirty members of "The Candy Shop" company piled out of a bevy Tuttle's machines to see Jimmy train.

There has been a close bond of kinship between the ring and the stage since Clabby and the Gaiety company hit town together, with the result that the fighter insisted that the company be his guests for the afternoon.

WON'T DANCE IN FIGHT.

Billy Rock artlessly suggested that a few dance steps would help Clabby win his fight, but the redoubtable Jimmy scorned the idea.

"Me pirouette, instead of sidestep," he snorted. "Nothing doing. Sure I'd like to learn those steps and I might spring them at a dance, but in the ring nix. Next thing you would want me to wear a dress suit."

For the girls, the trip to Doyle's was unique and a real treat. Little Kitty Dorner, who is one of the Allmony Sisters, when she is working, and the most harum scarum girl alive, whether on or off stage, insisted on putting on the mitts, and challenged Jimmy to a couple of rounds.

FEARED BLACK EYES.

Rock was willing, but Maude Fulton, who had quietly been skipping rope, much to the edification of Jack Doyle and Baron Long, interposed.

"Suppose she happened to give you a black eye," she mildly expostulated, and William Rock, who dares anything in the way of Terpsichore, hurled the gloves from him in a panic and made Manager Sid Harris do it.

It was a unique sight to watch Clabby, apparently in the pink of condition, and in the best of humor, go through his stunts for the girls.

Maxie Kimball essayed a trick in the handball courts with the near champ and was complimented for her splendid footwork and kidded for her wild swings.

"Gee, but some of you dames have awful haymakers, if you could only land them," was Clabby's comment as Gene Luneska, the widow in the show, made right and left swings at the elusive punching bag in a vain effort to hit it.

All the girls wanted to get their pictures taken with Jimmy, and, much to his disgust, he had to submit.

"Sailor will think I'm a petticoat chaser," he moaned as the photographer nestled him in the middle of the Candy Shop merry villagers, but protests were of no avail, and as Clabby was host, he had to come through.

"And look at this arm," he confided to Doyle, as, with many regrets the girls filed through the gate. "I bet every one of those girls from the Morosco and all those girls from Harlow's cabaret pinched my muscles at least once. Honest, I never was so sore, even after a hard fight."

Don't Forget.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE OUR HANDSOME MOTOR SALON.

Lights to Be Dimmed Tonight, With Every Dealer Happy and With a Large Number of Sales Recorded for the Week—Prospects Are Many and Business Is Brisk as Result of Dress Parade of 1914.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

THIS is the last opportunity to see the Los Angeles Automobile Show. The attendance this week has been flattering. Manager Walter Hempel has seen thousands pass through the turnstile and as a result every dealer is particularly happy with the success of the show. Sales have been recorded every day and there is not a booth where from one to three cars will not be rolled out to a prospective purchaser instead of being sent back to the salesroom.

It is impossible to say who is high man because of the many prospects secured. The actual sales have been such, however, that the show is a success in every respect. Of course, Manager Hempel was especially favored with fine weather this week, but he says that was only an incident, as he usually scores success in spite of the weather.

W. J. Burt is one of the exhibitors who has a right to be proud of his week's work. He is particularly pleased with the sale of two of those handsome six-cylinder Auburns. These cars were the show beauties of the Auburn booth and attracted much attention. They became so popular that it was a question at one time of immediate delivery. As a result the cars will not be returned to the Auburn salesroom.

This year has seen remarkable strides in the Auburn line of machines. Agent Burt has had an opportunity to jump into the limelight in such a manner that he is expecting a campaign that will mean much. The Auburn cars have come into their own and the local man is now prepared to make deliveries because he is assured of an output that will be large enough to give him the right-sized allotment. He has many prospects on which to work.

THOSE STUTZ CARS.

Walter M. Brown is another dealer who is pleased with the success of the show. He has lost his place as a member of the Automobile Dealers' Association, but has won so much as an exhibitor at the Los Angeles Automobile Show that he says he has no regrets. He will stage the Stutz this year in such a way that at least another 200 of these machines should be gliding over the streets ere long.

Of course, it has meant much to Agent Brown to have Earle Cooper on the job every instant. The champion has been there with the right kind of a boost for the Stutz and, as a result of his work, the interest shown in the Stutz cars is particularly encouraging. The red Stutz roadster is sold and two other cars will be sent out to anxious purchasers when the show is closed.

The Cadillac booth has been a center around which owner and prospective Cadillac owner have seen fit to swarm. This particular offering is the best Don Lee has ever made and that is saying something when you consider the money the local distributer has spent on such enterprises. The Cadillac inclosed model is a beauty; the touring car—well, you know as much about that as I do, and the stripped chassis gives you an oppotunity to examine every part critically.

The booth is in the center of the show. It occupies a place which is commanding and you are certain to see the Cadillac if you fail to see any of the other cars. It is a safe wager that you have seen every one of those nine models if you have attended the show in the Grand-avenue pavilion, and of course you have. Remember the display is made by Don Lee himself, who has a right to be proud of his work.

The Cole booth is another interesting corner. For a time both Agent Harris and Al G. Faulkner were a question mark as to the propriety of showing. They finally decided when they learned it would be possible to secure the 1914 Coles in time to exhibit. These cars have been offered to the public in such a manner that the agents have lost nothing by the extra time and expense the show has cost them.

That White Cole roadster is sold. The prospects secured will certainly mean much to the local agents. As a result of the interest in this exhibit, Charles Geager expects to get busy with a number of "live ones" and Al Faulkner will make several trips into the country to visit the orange growers who are on his staff. This is all a result of the work done in this automobile show.

REAL LIVE SAVAGE.

Those of you who visit the show today will make a great mistake if you fail to take in the accessory department. Here you have all that is made for the automobile. It will be well worth your time and trouble to spend an hour or two and don't forget to take in that Savage tire booth, where a real, live Indian, a savage, is on guard. There you can see the crude rubber and the finished tire.

Teddy Tetzlaff is the attraction in that booth. He is prepared to tell you all about the Savage. This is a unique exhibit and will interest you and especially if you meet Arthur W. Savage, himself, who has spent considerable time at that show. He is an interesting man and is easy to meet. Take in this exhibit and then try to find other things that will interest you and you will not be disappointed.

CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF AT EKWANOK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The national amateur golf championship of 1914 was awarded to the Ekwanok Country Club of Manchester, Vt., unanimously, at the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association, held here tonight.

The national open championship was awarded to the Midlothian Country Club of Chicago, and the woman's championship was given to the Nassau Country Club, at Glenn Cove, L. I.

President Robert C. Watson presided at the meeting. No dates for the championships were set. This was left to the Executive Committee.

It was decided that to prevent overcrowding of the course in the national amateur championship event, competitors be limited to players entitled to a handicap rating of not more than five strokes instead of six, as heretofore.

It was announced that Miss Gladys Ravenscroft of England, who won the women's championship of 1913, and Miss Muriel Dodd, another Englishwoman, who was a medal winner, have promised to compete in the woman's championship tournament of 1914.

Reports of the Executive Committee showed the membership of the association to comprise 358 clubs, of which eighty are active and 278 allied, a total gain of twenty-three clubs for the year.

MOTOR DEALERS' ASSOCIATION BORN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Jan. 9.—The Motor Car Dealers' Association of California came into being today as a result of a session of delegates from every part of the State for the purpose of organization. Officers were elected as follows:

George S. Waterman of Fresno, president; H. D. Ryus of Los Angeles, first vice-president; A. N. Weaver of San Francisco, second vice-president; E. A. Meister of Sacramento, treasurer; N. R. Cooper of Fresno, secretary.

Constitution and by-laws prepared by a committee and modeled after those of the New York State Motor Dealers' Association and the San Francisco Motor Dealers' Association were adopted. An executive committee of fifteen members is provided for, the members yet to be selected.

HOLLYWOOD HIGH VS. SCHOOLMASTERS

Hollywood High School and the Schoolmasters' baseball teams will meet in the first clash of the season for both teams this afternoon on the grounds of the former. The High School boys have been out for a short time and are hoping to start off in the right manner. The pedagogues have only recently organized, but will probably be capable of a good game through their natural ability and knowledge.

MAJOR LEAGUE ON THE P

Given an Eight-Club Circuit to Top of Baseball Ladder — Want a Chance—Looks Like Proposition.

BY OWEN R

THE application of baseball economy to the Pacific Coast League, points to major league baseball, in much the same way that economic efficiency bids fair to lead to success in the Federal League venture. This new league is possible, because of the rapid growth in the cities—about to take out Federal franchises—which naturally guarantees more baseball support.

The cities on the Pacific Coast, now supporting the class double A game, are probably growing more rapidly than any other cities—of proportionate size—in the country. All the important lines of commercial progress have been forced to expand in the West, while baseball has practically stood still, as far as progression toward higher rating goes.

It is just this point that makes men like Ed Maier, president of the Venice club, and President Baum, of the Coast League, feel that major league ball on the Pacific Coast is only a matter of time.

MUST HAVE EIGHT CLUBS.

Of course, the first step in this direction will make necessary an eight-club circuit, and there are two ways in which this can be brought about.

In the first place the long northern jump to Portland must be broken and when this is done, it will add over 25 per cent. to the earning capacity of the Coast League. Seattle is the answer to this phase of the situation. The northern metropolis is clamoring for better ball, the city has grown wonderfully during the past five years and is now ready to support a class double A club or a major club, with the ease of any city, now on the Coast League circuit.

The addition of Seattle, would give seven clubs. The eighth could be made in San Francisco. Los Angeles supports continuous ball at the present time, as does San Francisco, and there would be an awful howl if it were to be dropped. So let Oakland have a regular home team and play out a season's schedule on its own grounds, as do Sacramento and Portland.

Oakland has over 400,000 population, according to the last census, the games, now played twice a week in that city, are well attended, and the general trend of public opinion in Oakland is for steady ball.

If the Oaks had a regular home schedule, San Francisco would be out of continuous ball, unless there was a second team in that city. A second team in San Francisco, with the addition, would give the necessary eight clubs. There are any number of big business men in the West, who think that the above state of affairs has got to come.

HARLEM TOMMY MURPHY, the great eastern lightweight boxer, who is matched to meet Willie Ritchie on the 22rd of this month, is feeling in great shape at the present time, and will probably be at his best when he meets the champion.

The coming contest is to be for the championship of that class and Tommy is confident that he can win.

This will be the first time in all of his experience that he has had a chance to meet a title-holder. Many of them in the past have sidestepped the tough little Irish Harp for good reasons of their own.

Murphy has been in the game for the last fourteen years and has met the best in his class, from the bantam up, but never before had a chance at the title.

Judging from his boxing at one of the theaters, where he has appeared for the last week, I would say that he has a great chance to lick Ritchie.

I have seen Willie box Freddy Welsh when Freddy won a twenty-round decision over him when Ritchie was Wolgast's piece, and Willie has since admitted to me that he was then 133 pounds. He had only had a few novice bouts before the contest and a good showing, considering this, and it should be no disgrace to Willie that he lost.

Since then I saw Willie and Freddy box in San Francisco and I think that Rivers had him licked for the first eight rounds. He went up his aggressive style, he was won.

I am convinced now that any man can carry the going to Ritchie long to swag has a great chance to win.

Murphy is a very aggressive boxer and forces the going to the finish. From the first to the last he carries the going to his opponent at all times.

Ritchie boxes and allows Ritchie to lead and take a crack at him. The right-hand cross-counter of Ritchie's gives a good chance to get Murphy has too fast for this, and he has done so in his past fights. If he can keep up a pace for the twenty rounds, he will have little chance to land the right of his.

It is noticed that Murphy has been for a right-hand cross-counter from a right-hand cross-counter. If Tommy could turn his left when Willie lets it go, I would be willing to wager that he will be Ritchie.

Ritchie has the only dangerous punch is his right hand and that punch Willie has and Tommy will have to look out for it.

I said a few nights ago: "If Tommy Murphy can keep away from Willie, I will give any of the lightweights a chance to take

MAJOR LEAGUE POSSIBLE ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Given an Eight-Club Circuit, Coast League Could Step to Top of Baseball Ladder — Seattle and Salt Lake Want a Chance—Looks Like a Good Money-Making Proposition.

THE application of baseball economy to the Pacific Coast League, points to major league baseball, in much the same way that economic theory bids fair to lead to success in the Federal League venture. A second team in San Francisco, with the advantages, would give the necessary eight clubs. There are any number of big business men in the West, who think that the above state of affairs has got to come.

SALT LAKE POSSIBLE.

In regard to the second method of forming an eight-club circuit for a major league in the West, it can be said that Salt Lake would solve the problem. This city is within a twenty-four-hour ride of most of the Coast League towns, supports baseball well and now wants to have a better brand of ball played on the home ground.

The two southern teams have been making money for the past three seasons, but there are certain fans who would support the game here more freely, if the Angels got in the race each year and stuck there.

It is not generally known, but each year there are just two ambitions spurring on the Venice Tigers. First, to win the pennant and second, to beat Los Angeles in the percentage column. This spirit does not seem to exist so strongly in the Angel club and if it only did, local baseball would be the biggest thing here.

Of course the Venice club is just as much an L. A. team as is Eerry's crew, the only difference being in name, but there are certain of the fans, who overlook this fact and—through deep seated loyalty for their own city—cannot bear to see the Tigers maul the Seraphs. When the Seraphs get into the race and make the Tigers hum, these dissatisfied fans will turn out and there are thousands of them.

TIGER VERSUS ANGEL.

If the Los Angeles team braces up, the Tigers will brace just as much, for as I have said before, it is one of Maier's pet hobbies to beat the Angels in the percentage race.

But to get back to this major league thing. All freely admit that the Pacific Coast League is about the only one in the country that can play outlaw ball safely, which goes to show a certain amount of independence, absolutely necessary to big league ball. However, there is no idea of outlaw ball here, but this simply goes to show the stragetic position of the far Western circuit, geographically and financially speaking. The only cities, capable of carrying high-class ball, are covered by Coast League franchises and opposition does not pay; it was tried once before and failed, as you will remember.

When a Coast League player goes up to the majors, he gets but a 25 per cent. increase on his salary of a year before and it looks as though the local managers could afford this themselves, if major league ball would be the result.

This brand of sport would mean bigger gates and higher admission prices for certain seats. Then with eight clubs in the running, the traveling expenses would be easily cut 20 or 25 per cent. So it does not look like an impossible venture at all and Maier, Hogan, Baum and several others expect it within the next four years.

Of course should the Federal League obtain major league rating before this time, the Coast League would naturally demand an equal standard, and it looks like a cinch that it would be granted.

A Good Little Man.

VAN COURT SAYS MURPHY HAS CHANCE WITH RITCHIE.

The Little "Harp" Is Very Fast and Aggressive, but He Has an Almost Fatal Weakness; He Has a Poor Defense for a Right-Hand Cross Counter — Ritchie's Best Blow.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

WHEN TOMMY MURPHY, the great eastern lightweight boxer, who is matched to meet Willie Ritchie on the 23rd of this month, is in the best shape at the present time and will probably be at his best when he meets the champion, the coming contest is to be for the championship of that class and Tommy is confident that he can win.

This will be the first time in all his experience that he has had a chance at a title-holder. Many times in the past have sidestepped the tough Irish Harp for good and valid reasons.

Murphy has been in the game for several years and has met all of his class, from the bantams up, but never before had a chance at the title.

Apart from his boxing at one of the clubs, where he has appeared the last week, I would say he has a great chance to win.

Against Willie box Freddy Welsh, Freddy won a twenty-round decision over him when Ritchie was champion, and Willie admitted to me that he had a hard time to outpoint Freddy. He had only a few rounds before the contest and was not in good shape, considering the fight, and I should be no disappointed if he lost.

While in San Francisco I saw Willie and Freddy in San Francisco and Freddy had him licked for the first eight rounds. He forged from the start and had Willie on the defensive style, he showed me that any man who can carry the going to Ritchie in good shape has a great chance to win.

Murphy is a very aggressive boxer and forces the fight from the first to the last, carries the going to Ritchie at all times.

Murphy knows Ritchie to be a fighter and takes a crack at him when he sees a cross-counter of Ritchie's a good chance to get over.

Murphy is too fast for this, as he has shown in his past battles, and can keep up a pace for the full twenty rounds, and will have a chance to land his punches.

I am sure that Murphy has a good right-hand cross-counter and could turn his opponent's right-hand cross-counter when Ritchie lets it go. I would be willing to wager that he could.

The only dangerous punch that Murphy will have to look out for is Ritchie's left hook. I will give any man a chance to take the title away from me and will bet my money on the weight. All I will ask for is that they make the weight and that I be given my share of what I think a champion is entitled to for a match."

In my personal opinion, I believe Tommy has a good chance to win, and will not be surprised if he does.

Eddie Campi Returns.

Tim McGrath and his great little bantamweight boxer, Eddie Campi, are back in town. Eddie is matched to meet Kid Williams in a return match on February 12 in a twenty-round go at the Vernon arena.

When these two boys met the last time, it was Eddie's first twenty-round go and he held himself back somewhat. He did not feel sure that he could go the distance and used good judgment in doing so. Since then he met that tough little Frenchman, Le Doux, and has had four other twenty-round contests, and never lost any of them. It was noticed in his last contest with Williams that he did not use his right hand until the last two rounds, when he let it go and never failed to connect. Eddy has improved a lot since then and fully expects to be declared the winner in the coming contest.

He has had a lot more experience since then, has grown stronger, and is hitting harder. The winner of this contest will meet Johnny Coulon for the bantamweight title of the world.

BERKELEY WILL COME SOUTH.

Followers and supporters of the track affairs of the University of Southern California breathed a bit easier yesterday afternoon when definite word was received from California that the track team of that university would be able to compete here March 21. They have, however, asked that March 14 be given them as the more preferable time in case Stanford should fail to make the trip south.

Not only does the possibility of the meet with the Bears add interest to local track affairs, but the assurance that the university intends to carry out its three-year contract, entered into with the local university last year, gives considerable relief to the Trojan management.

Accordingly the Trojan squad will make its customary trip north to meet California freshmen. No definite date has been set for this by Warren Bovard.

The latter university is to consider the matter, through the students, track team and faculty, some time before the middle of next week.

EUROPE AFTER OLYMPIC HONORS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From a study of athletic conditions in Europe, A. G. Spalding, baseball expert and enthusiast, returned today on the Lusitania, with many misgivings about what is going to happen to the American athletes at the next Olympic games.

"Europe is getting ready to hand us a jolt at the next Olympic meet," he said. "They are hiring Americans to train their athletes now and our boys will have something to do t carry away the laurels.

"I visited the new stadium at Berlin and found it a wonderful monument to sport. It will hold 80,000 people and is a magnificent structure."

When the new Federal League was mentioned, Spalding shook his head.

"There's no place for it," he declared. "There's no room for it. That $10,000,000 backing is made up of mythical dollars, I am afraid. But, believe me, boys, the next baseball country is to be France. In ten years France will have a league that will draw as many people to the games as our leagues do."

HOLLYWOOD HIGH WINS BASKETBALL.

Hollywood beat L. A. High yesterday in basketball by the score of 42 to 30. This practically puts L. A. High out of the running, as they must defeat Hollywood by a greater score the next time they meet, which hardly seems probable.

The Hollywood bunch turned out in great force to cheer for their team. L. A. High had no one to root for them.

Hollywood played a fine game and made some spectacular plays. Earl and Grieve played a star game for Hollywood, while Miller and Blanchard did most of the scoring for the Hill-toppers.

It looks as though Hollywood and Polytechnic will fight it out for the title, and an exciting struggle can be looked forward to.

Danger!!

COMSTOCK GIVES WARNING FOR NEXT OLYMPIC GAMES.

BY BOYD COMSTOCK,
U.S.C. Varsity Track Coach.

A CASUAL study of the comparative scores of the teams competing in the Olympic games since their inception, leads me to believe that in a few years the ultimate results of our Olympic games will not be a surety, as in the past.

The casual way in which we have been winning these great games will spill us badly one of these fine days, and it certainly behooves us to keep our weather eye open for squalls.

Our success is due largely to our greater knowledge of the finer points of the game, and not to superior physical aptitude.

Track sports are not of the American, although it is due to our standardized system of sports that we have educated runners, jumpers and weight throwers. However, as our commercialized sport spirit is being rapidly adopted by our European friends you can easily imagine the result.

Any school section or country can turn out winning teams if the proper steps are taken. Olympic success seems to be determined largely by the sums which are set aside for that purpose and, as few of the competing nations are backward in this idea, we can expect to see competent American coaches in all of the foreign countries. From that time on it is merely a matter of selection and training.

Sweden first showed what could be done in the line of runner-up, and no doubt Germany will come out strong in this next meet.

With Finland, Russia, Germany, Sweden, France and England all fighting madly for odd places the score is easily split, and then it is any one's game. I figure the best time to be pessimistic is when you are winning.

HAGERMAN SOLD TO CLEVELAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 9.—Zirah ("Rip") Hagerman, a right-handed pitcher in the Portland Pacific Coast League team of 1913, has been sold to the Cleveland Americans for a sum in excess of $2500. The information came today in a private message from Joe Birmingham of Cleveland, and was later confirmed by Walter McCredie. According to McCredie, Cleveland has agreed to furnish Portland with another pitcher later in the season.

CHICK WRIGHT AGAIN WINNER.

Nelm's exhibition match between Chick Wright and E. M. Kempner ended at the Brunswick last night, when Wright made his total of 900 points against 372 acquired by Kempner at 18.2 balk-line billiards, in a total of forty-eight innings and with an average of nineteen to Kempner's eight.

Wright's score for the third round was 300 in twenty-five innings, an average of twelve. Kempner's was 148, for an average of six.

Wright's usual comprehensive and instructive lecture was delivered following the match, with sundry interesting shots and explanations thereof.

The Coast champion leaves for his home in San Francisco tomorrow.

WESTERN A. C. BOXING.

The Western Athletic Club will give its usual show, consisting of six bouts, tonight. George Hudson will box young Sharkey and five other bouts will be added to fill out the programme.

A. L. Superintendent of Circulation, The Times.

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of the issue. Neither does it misbrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 8.—Preparations are moving on apace for the annual interscholastic track meet to be held on the campus April 26 and 27. The Big "C" Committee, under whose auspices the meet is conducted, has plans well formulated and invitations have been sent to over 500 preparatory schools. Enough acceptances have already been received to assure the success of the meet. Indications point to a goodly attendance of the pick of the prep athletes of the Coast.

Included in the programme for the two days will be a field and track meet, swimming and cross-country run, and the Big "C" Sirkus. On Friday afternoon the swimming meet and the preliminary heats of the track meet will be run off.

Saturday, April 27, is the big day of the meet. In the morning the cross-country run will be the main event. The finals of the track meet are to come in the afternoon. As a final jollification and send-off for the visiting athletes the Big "C" Sirkus has been arranged for Saturday evening. It will be held on California field and the committee promises "a round of mirth from start to finish."

NO EXPENSE.

As large a part of the high school men's traveling expenses as possible will be refunded to them by the committee. Last year practically the whole of the preps' expenses were covered by the receipts of the sirkus and track meet. While in Berkeley the visitors will be under no expense, as they are to be housed in the fraternity and clubhouses.

NEW SCORING SYSTEM.

A departure this year will be taken in the matter of scoring points for the track meet. On account of the large number of the entries it has been deemed advisable to count four places in each event instead of the old system of three places. The points will count five for first place, three for second, two for third, and one for fourth.

Following are the conditions of the meet:

(1.) Track teams are limited to twelve men, including the relay team.

(2.) Swimming teams are limited to six men, including the relay team.

(3.) All athletes must be in good amateur standing in their respective schools, must be under the age of 21 years, and vouched for by the principal of their school.

(4.) Entries must be in the hands of the chairman of the Interscholastic Committee by April 15, 1914.

Medals for the first four places in the track and swimming meet will be given by the committee. Gold medals are awarded to the men on the winning relay team, there will also be various cups and trophies up for competition.

All communications regarding the meet should be addressed to the chairman of the Pacific Coast Interscholastic Committee, University of California.

Apply for entry blanks in Marathon Race to Culver City, to be held Saturday, January 24, under the sanction and direction of the Amateur Athletic Union. Five handsome engraved silver loving cups and fifteen other valuable prizes will be given.

Secure entry blanks from "Marathon Manager," office of Harry H. Culver Co., second floor Hollingsworth Building, Sixth and Hill Sts. Amateurs only are eligible.

What Would Lincoln Do?

An Article by Dean C. Worcester,

Secretary of the Interior in the Philippines.

Not so many people are aware that actual traffic in human beings exists and flourishes in the Philippines today under the Stars and Stripes. Mr. Worcester, in an open and frank statement, describes in detail the different forms of slave trading. The information is startling and presents one of the serious humanitarian problems that confront the government today. Native pictures taken by the author illustrate the article profusely.

You Can't Make It Pay

A Story by Henry Oyen.

Illustrations by Arthur Jameson.

"It is hopeless to seek to thrive by wrong-doing, no matter how shrewd, how brilliant you may be—you can't make it pay," are the concluding words of the judge who gave a three years' sentence to a clever gambler. But the young man thought he knew better. It was luck he blamed, but luck some day would come back—and at the outset of his penal service he felt that it had. The story is a masterpiece in its originality and development and grapples with a big moral and social problem. The illustrations by Jameson help tell a powerful story.

BENNIE ALLEN GAME WINNER.

Pocket Billiard Champion Conquers Stephenson.

First Adversary of Three Shows Good Form.

Style a Revelation to Lovers of Game.

For the first time in more than twenty years local lovers of billiards had an opportunity of observing a real world champion at the pocket game—the first time the game was ever played here by a champion under the perfected rules governing the championship, when Bennie Allen last night at Morley's defeated H. P. Stephenson by 150 balls to 120.

Bennie is distinctly in Bennie Allen's class as a master of the ivories, and that fact makes Stephenson's performance in keeping so near him the more remarkable.

Allen broke his cue in the eighth inning, and became somewhat handicapped for the remainder of the game through difficulty in finding another stick suited to his stroke. Stephenson set the pace until the twenty-sixth inning, when Allen passed him with tallies of 69 to 62.

Thereafter Allen pulled ahead, though with close play, until the forty-third inning, when he made a third successive scratch in playing for safety, and forfeited fourteen balls on the table to his opponent. This misfortune put Stephenson in the lead, with 130 balls against Allen's 124, and things looked creepy for the Kansas City lad.

Here fortune favored his bravery in taking his loss with a smile, for Stephenson committed the unheard-of atrocity of following with another third scratch of his own, thus forfeiting to Allen the whole triangle of fifteen balls on the table.

FRITJOF'S LAMENT.

This contreremps put Allen in the lead again, with the scores standing at 141 to 130 in his favor; and he ran out the needed nine points in the next round. "If I'd drove it, it would-a went;" mourned the broken-hearted son of Sweden, referring to his last unlucky shot. But his friends checked him with prophecies of a victory when he next meets Allen.

Scores showed that each player had made ten scratches. Allen ran 10, 10, 14, 11; made seventeen safety plays, and sixteen misses. Stephenson made runs of 15, 19, 12, 10, 14, 10; made nine safeties and misses twenty-four shots.

CHAMPION'S STYLE.

Young Allen's style is most admirable, both as to play and deportment. He is a master of safety, notwithstanding his misfortune of last night, which must come occasionally to any constant player. His bridging is original, and a marvel of solidity. When making a shot calculated to fright the soul of a fearful adversary, his thumb sticks up like the head of a lizard as it basks in the shade and watches a farmer toiling in the sun. Various firm positions of the hand are used for different shots, all giving assurance to the user.

Fancy shots following the game showed anew the accuracy with which the champion wields the stick. In play he is rapid, calling his ball before reaching a position for playing it.

Morley and George Banks, who acted as referee, are to pit their skill against Allen on Monday and Tuesday evenings, and exceptionally interesting games should result. All seats and available standing room were utilized last night, but greater capacity is to be provided in the hall for next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen expect to visit friends in the city over Sunday.

WANTS HEAVY DAMAGES.

Bakersfield Man Sues Oil Company for Fifty Thousand Dollars for a Broken Skull.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 9.—John McGoodrick, an oil worker, has filed a suit against the Visalia Midway Oil Company in the sum of $50,000 because of injuries received by him while in their employ. McGoodrick alleges that through the carelessness of a fellow employee he was struck on the head by a falling elevator link and received a fracture of the skull, which necessitated the removal of a large piece of bone from the top of his skull, and left him paralyzed on his right side. A year ago the plaintiff was working as a helper on an oil derrick on the lease of the Visalia Midway Oil Company when the accident happened.

At a meeting held yesterday the permanent organization of the Kern county Non-Partisan League was formed and the following officers elected to serve one year: Barclay McCowan, president; E. P. Heck, second vice-president; C. L. Dennen, third vice-president; J. W. Key, fourth vice-president; F. L. Foster, assistant secretary. The offices of first vice-president and secretary remain to be filled.

SANTA MONICA BRIEFS.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 9.—Mayor Dudley, in a police review this morning, made an address in which he stated particularly that no one should be given immunity from arrest because they claim to be a friend of the Mayor. "Whether they are or are not friends of mine, haul them in," said His Honor. "My friends should not break the laws."

Chief Randall, in a statement issued today, urged the public to "tell their troubles to a policeman," and not to be bashful about it. Every person was urged to report accidents and everything unusual which came under their notice. Capt. Calkins of the force was reduced to the rank of a patrolman; F. A. Zeigler was dismissed from the force.

The junior class of the High School tonight produced a play entitled "A Comical Tragedy," which was a complete success. The young men and women showed extraordinary ability. Carl Tegner, Dorothy Dobbins, Palmer Taylor, Bernice Wolf, Lucille Critchlow, Lawrence Jackson, Randolph Miller, Forest Stephens, Zita Gilligan, Marian Dales and Raymond Lowry were in the cast.

Members and friends of the First Christian Church met in annual banquet last evening, the gathering being auspicious in many ways. Exactly 165 persons were present. Reports of great progress in church work for the year were read by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Lobingier, and by the chairman of the board of trustees, T. J. Craig. Brief talks were given by many prominent persons.

HIGH SCHOOL WATER POLO.

A fierce game of water polo took place in the Long Beach plunge last night between the Los Angeles and Long Beach Polytechnic High schools. The score was a tie—6 to 6. At the end of the first period the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of Long Beach. Los Angeles then scored 2; Long Beach scored another 2. In the last moments of the game Los Angeles tied the score by a difficult play by Tuttle. About 600 people attended and all agreed that it was the most thrilling game of water polo ever played in the tank.

BOMBY WELLS AGAIN!

LONDON, Jan. 9.—[By Cable and A. P.] Bandsman Blake, the English middleweight champion, was matched today to box Bombardier Wells, the former heavyweight champion, for a purse of $9000. The bout will take place March 3.

PACKING-HOUSES OPEN.

ORANGE, Jan. 9.—Today three of the orange packing-houses opened their season on navel oranges, and shipments will continue regularly from this orange center until next October. From now until June navels will be shipped, and from May until the fall, Valencias will go out.

The packing-houses that opened today are the Santiago Orange Growers' Association, the Foothill Valencia Growers and the Independent Fruit Company.

The navel crop looks exceptionally good this year, and has matured several weeks earlier than last year. Six weeks ago it looked as though the entire crop was going to be late, but weather conditions have brought out the glorious tints on the ripened fruit.

"The grades are excellent," said Manager Spenetta of the Foothill Valencia Growers. "Between 75 and 90 per cent. of the navels are fancy. There has been no bad weather, and the oranges are free from scars caused by the wind whipping the fruit against limbs and thorns."

MAY DISSOLVE VOTING TRUST.

Southern Railway Officials Are Likely to Retire.

Pennsylvania Vice-President Presents Resignation.

Texas Farmers Will Build Air Line to Market.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Rumors current today that the Southern Railway voting trust is soon to be dissolved were characterized in official quarters as at least premature. A majority of the shares of Southern Railway stock has been held by the trustees—J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, and Samuel Spencer Lanier—ever since the company's reorganization in 1894. Efforts to terminate the trust were made several years later, but these were successfully opposed by the more conservative interests. Since then the trustees have several times made known their desire to retire, but have remained at the request of the interests which voted their retention in office.

It is known that the Morgan interests and those allied with them have recently contemplated an early dissolution of the trust and negotiations to that end are understood to be in progress. The trustees feel that their work has been accomplished and that no reason now exists for the continuance of the trusteeship.

However the termination of the trust is known to be in keeping with the policy of J. P. Morgan & Co., one of whose more active partners recently withdrew from some thirty directorships and announced their intention to retire from others early in the year.

Vice-President of Lines West Pittsburgh Presents His Resignation as Executive.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Announcement was made today that Frank Wood, first vice-president of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, and a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and other subsidiary companies, had presented his resignation as an executive of the lines to take effect February 1. Mr. Wood is about 66 years old and had been considering retiring from the active duties of railroad management for several years.

FARMERS TO BUILD RAILWAY.

Texas Say It Will Cost Less to Construct Their Own System Than to Pay Rates on a Highway.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BROWNSVILLE (Tex.) Jan. 9.—Farmers of this section announced today that they would build a railroad fifty miles long to bring their milk and other perishables to market here if the railroad would cost less than a good highway. The right of way, which lies entirely through the property of farmers interested in the road, will be donated. The promoters estimated the cost of the railroad at $2000 a mile.

Vice-President Says Application to Control Them Has no Connection With Anti-Trust Law.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The application recently filed by the New Haven Railroad Company with the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to sell its steamship lines, was explained today by E. G. Buckland, vice-president of the New Haven, as having no connection with any possible action against the company under the Sherman anti-trust law. "In the application," said Mr. Buckland, "in accordance with a notice of the Interstate Commerce Commission that any railroad corporation affected by the Panama Canal act desiring to retain its water lines must make such application on or before March 1. Whatever the commission may decide under the Panama act has no connection with the anti-trust law."

Further progress is being made toward the dismemberment of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad system along lines directed by the government, according to information that came today from another special meeting of the road's Executive Committee, at which Chairman Lewis Elliott presided.

Elliott spent the greater part of last week in Washington, where he conferred with representatives of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Practically all of the time in conference was devoted to a discussion of the Panama canal act. Practically all of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of these conferences. The fact that Chairman announced his intention to return to Washington at an early date was accepted as indicating that an agreement regarding some of the important points at issue was in sight.

TRUST SUES WABASH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Central Trust Company of New York filed suit today in the Federal District Court against the receivers of the Wabash Railroad for $120,000. The suit says that the Central Trust Company was trustee for a Wabash issue of $10,000,000 in May, 1908. It is said, were secured by shares of Pacific Coast Railway stock, under an agreement that the Central Trust should have the proceeds of the Pacific coast stock, but that the Wabash should have the voting rights. It is claimed, the suit says, that the Wabash sold to the Wells Fargo Express Company, and the Central Trust Company did not receive its share of the proceeds of the sale.

GRAND JURY ENDS WORK.

Federal Body Submits Several Indictments—Compliments Are Exchanged With Court.

The Federal grand jury made its final report to United States District Judge Wellborn yesterday and was discharged for the January term. Before submitting a number of indictments Foreman Frank M. Coulter delivered a short address, in which he thanked the members of the jury for their service during the six months, the officials of the District Attorney's office for their co-operation in presenting matters, and paid an eloquent tribute to the fairness of Judge Wellborn.

The judge in reply added to what the foreman had said in regard to the faithful work of the members of the inquisitorial body, and returned his thanks to the foreman for his kindly farewell.

The following indictments were returned: Bernardo Juarigua, counterfeiting; Carlo Mirant, subornation of perjury; Harvey C. Dewar, sending an obscene letter through the mails; Adolph Creste, perjury and smuggling smoking opium; Leroy O. Hughes, alias Lee Hughes, smuggling Chinese, bringing aliens into the United States without inspection and conspiring to defraud the United States; Young Sing, bringing aliens into the United States; Fredericko Torres, perjury, and Frank Grand, smuggling smoking opium. In addition there were two secret indictments.

PARENTS TO LAY LOVED SON AWAY.

SOUTHERN PINES TO WHISPER ETERNAL REQUIEM.

Body of Slain Man Receives Touching Honors from Discarded Wife, Who Places Lone Rose on Bier. Corpses of Slayer and Daughter Given to Relatives.

Services so simple that they were most pathetic, were begun over the body of W. M. Melton, the victim of May Graves Cox's madness, in the Breese undertaking rooms yesterday, when a telegram came from the homestead in South Carolina, carrying a plea from the parents that the body be returned there for burial in the family plot. Under the hillside pines in a small graveyard near Spartansburg, S. C., the realty man, hypnotist, actor and man of loves will be laid to rest.

Mrs. Melton, the woman who could rightfully claim his services in life, was at his bier when the plea of the parents arrived by telegraph. She had come to do her husband a final honor, concealing the humiliation in her grief. In her hands she carried a single rose, such a one as had been the customary gift between the husband and wife when some pleasant opportunity had suggested a little offering.

Earlier, a more pretentious floral gift had arrived by the tradesmen's service, but the rose, a magnificent aristocrat of a bloom, was carried in the wife's hands, and by her alone, without others to witness or criticise her devotion, it was taken to the lonely bier and laid in repose along the top of the coffin.

She had come to the undertaking rooms with D. S. Hammack, in whose office Melton had a desk, and who was associated with him in a business way. The wife was weak with grief. When the telegram came, she was relieved and willingly consented to a delay in the disposition of the body. It seemed easier for her to send the body of her loved one away than to follow it in cold and scientific ceremony to the crematory, where a wisp of ashes would be left her.

The mystery trunk that was forwarded to Arizona by May Graves Cox will never be opened to the public's inspection. It was returned by the express company yesterday and by Coroner and police put into the hands of Joe and Grace Graves, brother and sister to the woman who slew two and killed herself.

The body of Mrs. Cox and her slain daughter, Florence, was sent North in the same car with the trunk, having left the station last night at 6 o'clock. No ceremonies indicated the departure. A hearse, unattended, drove to the station with the melancholy freight, and only the uniformed custodians of the express company were in charge.

The funeral of mother and daughter will be held in San Francisco, so, in the end, the man, the woman and the child, with such different hopes of the future and expectations, drawn from opposite ends of the continents, will rest in the cemeteries of their fathers, under headstones carrying the family history for generations. And Los Angeles, that had brought the tragedy to the three, was represented only by a few newspapermen when the final disposition of the bodies took place.

Earth Nearer Both Sun and Moon During January Than in Any Other Month—Interesting Lecture at Meeting of Engineers' and Architects' Association.

The influences that make ocean tides were interestingly discussed by Prof. Melville Dozier, assistant superintendent of public schools, in an address last night at a meeting of the Engineers' and Architects' Association at the Hollenbeck.

The lecture was illustrated by blackboard diagrams and a planetarium, an instrument showing the relative positions of the earth, sun and moon. The discussion was considered of special interest at this time in view of the recent high tides on the Pacific Coast.

Prof. Dozier explained that the laws governing the action of the tides are astronomical, with the exception of local causes, such as the wind and earthquakes, which ordinarily are not noticeable. The three important forces causing tides are, of course, the attraction of the sun, the attraction of the moon and the movement of the earth around its axis.

"The attraction of the sun causes the water of the ocean to be heaped up on the side of the earth nearest the great stove," said Prof. Dozier. "The same condition is produced by the moon, the tides being highest on the side of the earth nearest to it.

"The nearness of the earth to the sun and the moon greatly affects their pulling power on the water. The nearer the sun or the moon to the earth the higher the tides. It happens that at this time the earth is nearer to both the sun and the moon than at any other time of the year. Thus we have greatest pulling power of both the sun and the moon acting in conjunction.

"The highest tides always come in January and the low tides in July, when the earth is farthest from the sun and moon. The moon influences the tides more than the sun, the ratio being as five to two, the nearness of the moon to the earth more than offsetting the vastly greater size of the sun.

"The moon is now 30,000 miles nearer the earth than it is when it is at its farthest point from the earth in its orbit. The difference in its attractive power is as seven to four."

The speaker said that the tide waves move over the ocean with remarkable rapidity, determined by the depth of the water, the movement being swiftest in the deepest water. He said that tide waves move at the rate of nineteen miles an hour in water twenty-five feet deep, up to 1000 miles an hour in water 17,000 feet deep.

Preceding the lecture by Prof. Dozier, A. B. Benton, the out-going president of the association, gave his annual address, in which he reviewed the work of the year. H. Z. Osborne, Jr., the secretary-treasurer of the organization, read the annual report.

Samuel Storrow, the new president, made a brief inaugural address. The announcement was made that the association will soon celebrate the twentieth anniversary of its organization. A committee of which Octavius Morgan is chairman will arrange the programme for the celebration.

THIEF RAIDS APARTMENTS.

Well Dressed Young Man Enters Redondo Beach Homes and Steals Money and Jewels.

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 9.—A well-dressed young man entered the Moneta apartments at 2 o'clock this afternoon and from two rooms secured $250 in cash and jewels worth considerably more than that sum.

In the apartment of W. Smith he secured $75 and a diamond brooch, and in the apartment of Mrs. Jamison, the landlady, he secured $175 and jewels worth several hundred dollars.

From the Moneta the thief went to the Marshall apartments, where he robbed the apartment of Miss Lena Price of Sonora, Mex. He took three rings worth $500. He then went to the apartment occupied by H. S. Dusenschon and stole a valuable pipe and a small sum of money.

Charles McGhee, who occupies quarters in the house, was also relieved of a small sum of cash and a fine revolver. D. L. Cohn was robbed of a fine gold necklace and $150.

The apartments of J. E. Duffee of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, and Mrs. Etta Anderson were entered, but the extent of the thefts in these two places has not been determined. The police are running around in circles in an effort to apprehend the chief, but little hope is entertained for his capture.

GETS ANOTHER BONDSMAN.

J. H. Smith, who, with J. G. Talbot, is one of the sureties on the $2500 bond required of W. H. Stevens, indicted by the Federal grand jury November 18 for using the mails to assist in a blackmailing scheme, surrendered Stevens to the Federal authorities yesterday afternoon. Later another bondsman was secured to take the place of Smith. Stevens was indicted with Charles S. McKelvey, also an attorney of this city, whose bond is the same as that of Stevens, but there has been no disposition shown on the part of his sureties to surrender him.

ADMITS THE CHARGE.

Joseph Keller was held to answer to the Federal grand jury in the sum of $1000 yesterday, before United States Commissioner Williams, on a charge of sending a series of threatening letters to Boyd Webster, of the Jersey Dairy, at Anaheim. Keller admitted that he not only sent the letters but that he had cut the harness of a number of the teams owned by the dairy company.

Alfalfa Paradise

THERE is no better place in California for the growing of alfalfa than the James Ranch. Experiments have been made which have demonstrated this fact to the satisfaction of the most competent experts whose services could be secured anywhere.

The possibilities of the James Ranch as a producer of alfalfa are known to the ranchers of the vicinity and the prospects of the owner of a ranch in the new tract are unquestionable if he devotes all or a part of his land to the raising of this crop. He will have bountiful crops and an always waiting market.

The census of 1910 gave Fresno County first place of all the counties of California as a producer of alfalfa. The James Ranch, in situation, soil and general conditions, is the most desirable section of the chief alfalfa county.

Quick returns is one of the great advantages of the growing of alfalfa. Prices are high and the demand is increasing by leaps and bounds. In the year of 1913 alfalfa on the James Ranch easily brought from $14.00 to $16.00 per ton.

THE land is all level. There are no stumps to pull, no hummocks to level, no stones to haul away and no sagebrush to clear. The land is already plowed and ready at any moment with but little further expense.

"The Kingdom of the Sun."

Fascinating as the Garden of Allah and beautiful as are some of the desert growths is the recent number of the Kingdom of the Sun, a publication for the purpose of appraising the world as to the wonders of the Mojave Desert. "From women, for women, by women," is its message, largely because that interesting region around Victorville, which is forcefully presented in the current issue, has been developed through the confidence and perseverance of women. From cover to cover, both as to the facts set forth, the excellent print upon fine paper and the art work, which is equally fine, the Kingdom of the Sun is a unique and beautiful production.

Fighting Fake Advertisers.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The storm noted Thursday in the Upper Mississippi Valley has moved eastward and is now central over the eastern lake region. During the last twenty-four hours it has given light precipitation and high winds in Minnesota. It is generally cooler between the Rocky Mountains and the Mississippi River, and warmer eastward to the Atlantic coast. A trough of pressure extending along the western slope of the Rocky Mountains gave light precipitation at scattered localities from the fortieth parallel northward. An area of high pressure is entering the Pacific Slope off the Northern California coast, giving cooler weather generally to the Western Slope, and in connection with a depression over Arizona caused brisk winds in Southern California Thursday night. This high area, as it moves eastward, will give fair weather, with lower temperatures, in Los Angeles and vicinity during the next thirty-six hours, and heavy frost Saturday morning.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Saturday; heavy frost in the morning; light northerly winds.

For California south of the Tehachapi: Fair Saturday; heavy frost in the morning.

VITAL ELECTION TODAY.

L. A. Investment Company Stockholders to Decide on Its Directorate Today—Harmony Expected.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Los Angeles Investment Company will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Los Angeles Investment Company's building, and also at the skating rink, Tenth and, Broadway.

Most of the stockholders express implicit confidence in the present directorate and the only possible change may be the election of Joseph Scott in place of Henry W. O'Melveny, who will probably be legal advisor to the company for the ensuing year.

It is expected that all will be harmonious and that the balloting of proxies and by person will proceed rapidly, as the polls legally close at 6 o'clock.

The actual comparing of the names signed to all ballots with the names on the books will take several days, but it is expected the result will be known shortly after the polls close, though just how many shares were voted will take considerable time, it being a mechanical matter.

Directors of the Los Angeles Investment Company explained last night why Henry O'Melveny was relieved of his duties as a director, thereby creating a vacancy which some have assumed was a forced retirement of the attorney to make room for someone else.

O'Melveny's law firm heretofore has been giving its services free to the company, while in the formative state of its organization. O'Melveny told the directors that he could not give both his own time as a director and his firm's legal services without too great a sacrifice to his private business, and he gave the directors the choice of having him remain on the board or furnishing his services exclusively in a legal capacity.

The board decided to retain O'Melveny's firm in a legal capacity, provided he would attend all the board meetings, although he will have no vote with the directors. This was acceptable to O'Melveny and the company will, after the election, pay the firm for its services.

WE'RE HONEST, HE SAYS.

Collector of Internal Revenue Draws that Conclusion from Inquiries About Income Tax.

The inquiries being made daily at the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue in regard to the operations of the income tax are considered by the collector a tribute to the honesty and sense of fairness of the citizens of Los Angeles and vicinity. The collector said yesterday:

"My telephones ring all day with inquiries about the law, and a great majority of the people who desire information are not affected by the law in any sense. But they want to know all about their responsibility, and to ascertain just where they stand. They are eager to comply with its provisions, if they are amenable to them. This shows me that there are a mighty lot of honest people in my district."

Some of the blanks to be used in making returns of the tax have been received by the collector, but the individual blank has not yet arrived from Washington.

MISJUDGES A DOSE.

Misjudging the dose of chlor-anodyne she was taking was a serious matter last night for Mrs. Ruth le Maire of No. 812 West Fourth street. Prompt action on the part of her husband, Dr. A. T. le Maire, who gave her an emetic and rushed her to the Receiving Hospital, probably saved her life. The Le Maires recently came to this city from Texas.

WOMAN KNOCKED DOWN.

Mrs. S. A. Satterlee, a widow, 73 years of age, living at No. 211 West First street, while crossing Broadway at First early yesterday evening was struck by a horse driven by E. Engle of No. 536 South Broadway. Mrs. Satterlee was knocked down. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was said she had sustained possible internal injuries. Engle was held blameless by the police.

GIRL DROPS A THOUSAND FEET OUT OF THE SKY; ALIGHTS UNHURT.

In the Air.

PLUNGE FROM THE CLOUDS ENDS REIGN OF DEATH.

Aviation's Newest Safety Device Is Proven by Drastic Test.

Nineteen-Year-Old Maid Wearing Birdman Glenn Martin's "Life-Vest" Steps from Biplane at Height of Quarter Mile and Floats to Earth Uninjured — Military Men and Experts Witness Demonstration.

TUMBLE out of the sky a thousand feet from the earth, headfirst if necessary, and land right side up in perfect safety, was made possible yesterday by a "life-vest"—Glenn L. Martin's latest addition to the science of aviation.

The life-vest, or safety pack, of which Martin, the pioneer aviator, was given its first official test yesterday at Griffith Aviation Field, when a slip of a girl stood poised for a moment on a step at the side of the passenger carriage of the Martin biplane, looked down 1000 feet at the earth below, and stepped out into space as lightly and unconcernedly as though she were alighting from a motor car.

Then a minute later the girl dropped with hardly a shock, on the ground while a group of National Guard officers, aviation fans, newspaper men and others applauded.

Martin risked the life of a girl in order to demonstrate that he had invented a life preserver that would cheat the air of a large majority of its victims, a device that would have saved the lives of a number of aviators had it been discovered sooner.

The girl was "Tiny" Broadwick and a remarkable woman with him in his passenger-carrying air craft, Martin soared up into a cloudless sky until the machine resembled a speck of dust against a background of blue. The aviator sat "Tiny," a queer-looking little bundle of brown and white, for over her white dress was a tan-colored jacket, and her arms, hump-like, a rude knapsack. She looked like a creature deformed as she sat waiting for the machine to reach an altitude of 1000 feet.

LIFE OR DEATH.

The pack contained a device that meant life or death to her. Without it, or if it failed to work at the critical instant, she would have been dashed to the earth and killed. But with it strapped snugly about her body, she thought no more of stepping out of the machine that rushed through space than from her own front door.

There was a little flutter of white as "Tiny" Broadwick, the human pawn in this battle to wrest another triumph from the air, leaped clear of the machine. Like a plummet she sped toward the earth. At the rate of about eighty feet a second she began a descent the end of which would demonstrate the efficacy of the device or failure, and tragedy.

Martin had turned his car and started a graceful spiral toward the earth when something happened to the plummet-like form that came hurtling toward the earth. The life pack, tearing at its fastenings, began to unfold and the faster the girl's body sped downward the faster did this pack assert the importance and necessity of its presence.

AUTOMATIC PARACHUTE.

From the compact snugness of the pack there unfolded a sort of parachute and when this caught the air the girl came floating earthward with ease and grace, while round about her circled the Martin machine like a great hawk.

"Tiny" Broadwick is not unused to heights, but never before had she risked her life with a device whose exactness was so precisely calculated. After she reached the earth yesterday she expressed the wish that all of the birdmen who had paid the penalty of scientific research or of recklessness in the air had had the same protecting device as that which was strapped about her frail ninety-eight pounds.

"Of course, it was a thrill," she said, "and I fell a long way—possibly seventy-five feet—before I began to slack up. Then I felt easier and knew everything was all right. It's just as easy as climbing down off a chair."

"Whatever I do is simple," said Martin.

It looks hazardous, but it is so simple. The old parachute idea is improved upon so that there is hardly a chance of fatal results in a fall from an aeroplane so long as the life-vest is worn. No matter whether the passenger of the air craft steps gaily out into space, tumbles head foremost, or takes a triple somersault, the body will start feet downward within 100 feet and the umbrella-like cloth will unfold automatically.

The life vest is strapped to the shoulders, and while it weighs fourteen pounds or so, it weighs less per cubic inch than the body. The lightness at the head of the body turns the feet downward in response to a law that is much older than any other feature of aviation.

The possibilities opened by the Martin life vest are as illimitable as the space through which he flies. To aviators, particularly, it has especial significance, for the reason that it affords them a protection they have never had in aerial flights. The burning or collapse of machines in future need not be attended by death. The life vest is yet an experiment and perfected only to the point of affording safety to human beings. It costs approximately $300 to make one and they can be gauged to carry any weight from any height.

The commercializing of the safety pack may some day find it in use in high buildings, in fire departments, and other places where the saving of human life from a height is now almost impossible. Its final evolution into a generally-accepted device will

CERTAIN COUNCILMEN HOT-SHOT TARGETS.

Planning to Break City's Moral Pledges Says Banker Hellman.

Declares in Mass Meeting that at Behest of Discredited Political Boss They Seek to Prevent Building City Hall at Temple Block, Where the People Want It, and There's Some Squirming.

SENSATIONAL charges that certain City Councilmen—two of 'em only—are the pliant tools of a discredited political boss and are planning to break moral pledges made by the previous administration to build the new City Hall on the Temple Block site purchased for that purpose by the city for $500,000, of which $125,000 was subscribed by private citizens, were hurled with vigor by Marco Hellman yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce mass meeting to consider "temporary" quarters for housing certain city officers.

Hellman didn't mention any names. It wasn't necessary, because everyone present knew to whom he referred. Over in a dark corner of an anteroom sat huddled together ex-Good Government Boss William F. Bryant and Harley W. Brundige, editor of a certain Bull Moose organlet. Their faces flushed from chin to forehead while Hellman was making his startling attack, and two Councilmen, who jump when the wires are pulled, squirmed and didn't look overjoyed during the scathing arraignment of the "schemers, who are trying to defeat the will of a vast majority of the citizens of this city."

Hellman declared he was speaking as a private citizen and not as president of the Civic Center Association of Los Angeles. He further pointed out the startling facts that while certain members of the Council are planning to move many of the city offices to the State Normal School building at Fifth street and Grand avenue, three-fourths of the office space in the Temple Block building owned by the city, is not in use. He proved his assertion by Superintendent of Buildings Backus.

While the meeting was purportedly called for the purpose of finding ways and means of providing "efficient ways and means" for taking care of city officers and employees who are working under great handicap and inconvenience, due to lack of space, it developed, three minutes after Mayor Rose, the chairman, banged the gavel, into a heated verbal row over whether the City Council of Los Angeles is going to act in good faith in the new City Hall matter by carrying out its contract, or meekly submit to the whip and whims of an alleged reformer.

FOR IMMEDIATE USE.

While a goodly majority of those present—many of the leading business and professional men of the city—strongly favored the Temple Block site, a motion to move certain city offices to the Normal School site carried by a substantial vote. Everyone agreed that the city needs more room and immediately, for its rapidly growing demands and administrative needs, and when the speakers weren't talking about this site or that site they hung fairly close to the main issue.

Councilman Conwell, chairman of the Efficiency Commission, read a report giving an exhaustive report of the crowded condition at the City Hall and stating why the Normal School site should be utilized. He endeavored to impress upon his auditors that "this isn't a question of a new City Hall—it's a question of efficiency in the various city departments."

Mayor Rose, upon taking the chair, declared he favors the Temple Block site for the new City Hall, "but that isn't the question to be discussed today," he said. "I am in favor of moving some of the offices that are not directly connected with the big executive and administrative departments to the Normal School building, temporarily."

SHORT SHRIFT FOR SWINDLER

Lyman Sentenced to Fifteen Months in Prison.

Makes in Vain a Dramatic Appeal for Mercy.

Then Listens With Bored Air to Judge's Grilling.

Dr. John Grant Lyman, promoter of the Panama Development Company, convicted of fraud, was sentenced to fifteen months in San Quentin by Federal Judge Wellborn yesterday. On the representations of Lyman that his health makes it desirable that he be allowed to get out of doors as much as possible the court indicated that he would favor his confinement at Florence, Ariz., provided Atty.-Gen. McReynolds consented to the change.

Dr. Lyman, who is supposed to be penniless, agreed that he would pay his own expenses to Florence, where if his conduct is good he will be able at the expiration of less than a year to resume his life work as a "promoter."

An impassioned appeal was made by Attorney Schenck for a new trial, on the ground that the jury had not arrived at a proper conclusion as to when the element of fraud had entered into the Panama Development Company scheme. Lyman added an appeal for mercy, and his recital covered many of the salient features of his ill-spent life. Edward A. Regan, special counsel of the government, asked that substantial punishment be meted out to Lyman, claiming that he had been a promoter of fraudulent schemes for the past twenty years. The motion for a new trial was denied, as was also that for an arrest of judgment, and Judge Wellborn asked Lyman if he had anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon him.

LYMAN PENITENT.

The prisoner de luxe gave evidence of the deepest feeling and contrition in his final appeal, but it was evident that the court was not impressed by a great deal that he said. Dr. Lyman thanked his attorney, and said that he had been and was now of the opinion that the plans of the Panama Development Company were all right. As he proceeded Lyman was presumably overcome by his feelings, saying that but few men had enjoyed so much happiness and prosperity and had fallen so far in crime. His wife had divorced him, his mother had died of grief on account of his misdoings, and his friends had deserted him for the same reason. He had broken the seventh commmandment, he declared passionately, and been cast off by one of the best wives in the world, and today he stood alone, dishonored and discredited in every way. His faults were many, he admitted, but he hoped they would be stepping stones to higher things. "I have been twenty-eight months in prison," he fairly shouted. "Twenty-eight months, how quickly spoken, how long to endure!" he cried.

The appeal of Lyman was delivered in a manner indicating that it had been well rehearsed, and was not without its effect on the crowded courtroom, showing that it was the last despairing cry of a man who at last had been driven to cover and made to answer for his misdeeds. He pleaded with the court in closing to temper justice with mercy, and promising that when he rehabilitated himself in the good opinion of the community he would make good the 164 contracts of the Panama Development Company purchased by investors. Judge Wellborn said later that it was unnecessary to spend anytime in arguing the good faith of this offer.

In passing judgment Judge Wellborn said that the verdict of the jury met with his unqualified approval and that the record of the crimes committed by Lyman had no mitigating circumstances in his opinion. The Panama Development Company was organized and carried on by means of fraud and deceitful practices, yet there was an element of craftiness in the proposition that he had never known in a similar case. Dr. Lyman was the dominant spirit in the enterprise, said the court, yet his name did not appear in a single place on the literature. Not only that, but Lyman maintained a separate office, where unsuspecting investors would be directed, where he posed as having just returned from Panama and in a position to give disinterested advice to intending purchasers of the contracts.

Judge Wellborn said that it was a cruel scheme to entrap people who could ill afford the financial sacrifice, and the court referred to two old soldiers who had invested their pension money in a contract. "They were swindled out of money that a grateful government gives them against the needs of their old age," said the court, his voice being vibrant with emotion. "There was nothing apparently safe from the prisoner's clutches," repeated Judge Wellborn.

To the statement that Lyman had spent twenty-eight months in jail already, Judge Wellborn said that the facts showed that fourteen months of that time was spent at McNeil's Island, on a sentence for escaping from the officers of the law, when he was trying to make his get-away from Los Angeles. He had only been in jail in this city since March last, and that time would be taken in consideration in passing judgment.

The excoriation indulged in by Judge Wellborn would have perforated the hide of a rhinoceros, but it never touched Dr. John Grant Lyman. He smiled sarcastically, and gave no other sign. It really did not interest him, and when the court imposed the sentence to San Quentin he seemed to take it for granted, and immediately arose and asked that he be allowed to go to Florence.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY TALKS HEART TOPICS.

If the Attraction Is One-Sided, What Then?

"I will not reason why I love,
Or what I love in thee!
There breathes some secret from above
In every flower we see,
Suddenly as we pass, we own
Some glimpse or scent divine—
Such secret, to none others known
My heart has read in thine!"

A great poet once wrote: "To love and not to be loved is time lost." It is a strange but true fact that men and women with untried hearts have altogether different views upon the mystical subject of love. A man knows that even though he may be greatly attracted toward a young woman if she does not appear to take a like interest in him it is a one-sided liking. If his most earnest endeavors fail to touch a responsive chord in her heart, he is usually sensible enough to understand that his hopes may never be realized. He either closes the book of love entirely or turns over a new leaf to learn what may be written there for him. Not one man in ten thousand gives himself up to a broken love dream. They do not abandon the thought of finding one sweet woman's love; of having a home of their own. He is conscious of the fact that, to get on in the world a man must settle down and take unto himself the responsibilities of a home. He seldom falls in love the second time with the same kind of a girl.

If the woman who first aroused his admiration was fair of face, and was courted everywhere for her beauty, he is pretty apt to choose the second time a woman plain almost to homeliness, one who would not attract a second masculine glance in a crowd. He makes quite as good a husband as if she had been his first and only love.

When a woman is attracted to a man she puts an extravagant value upon his every act and word. Even his glance conveys to her a subtle message created by her own thoughts only. A woman is faithful to her ideals. She knows so little of the world as it actually is and believes because she is attracted to one particular man it must be mutual. She hugs to her heart a careless word he may have uttered; invests it with a tender meaning which he never intended. Thus she feeds her imagination. She is unwilling to see that which is clearly patent to those who love her best—hers is a one-sided love affair. So certain is she in her belief that "love must surely win love" that she spends the best years of her life in pursuing a phantom love dream. If women would let reason prevail they would not give their affections unsolicited. They should be careful not to let it be apparent to a man that they are more than ordinarily interested in him.

Where the attraction is not mutual it is useless to expect casual friendship to ripen into a nearer and dearer sentiment. It is the romantic day dreams which a woman weaves around some particular man that does all the mischief.

If a man is attracted toward a woman, nothing short of imprisonment will prevent him from seeking her society. No man in love ever has to be coaxed along.

He enlists Cupid's aid in knocking at her heart door. He is fully capable of doing his own wooing. The girl who is the object of a one-sided affection, a love which is unreturned, is sure to lose faith in her own power of attraction. She does not look at the matter in the right light. The man whose heart she craved is not suited for her; is intended for another. Undoubtedly a better man is for herself. He stands in the background because he is unable to attract her attention. But he is patient and abides his time. Where the affection of two hearts is at variance there would be no such couples who crowd the divorce courts. No power on earth can plant love in hearts if it is not intended. In our grandmother's time, silly maidens often broke their hearts over shattered romance. Now girls are more sensible. They do not waste their thoughts upon a man who was apparently indifferent to them. If there is one lesson more than another which needs to be taught in schools where some girls attend it is how not to fall in love, and to escape being the object of one-sided affection. The girls who fill their leisure moments with worthy thoughts and allow their love affairs to be guided by reason show not only good sense, but pave the way for a happy, sunny future.

STOLE A PLAY, IS CHARGE.

Vaudeville Actor Arrested for Alleged Infringement of a Copyright. Gives Bond.

Dan Bruce, an actor in the Empress bill this week, who, with his wife, Margot Duffet, has been presenting "Over the Transom," was arrested on a Federal warrant yesterday afternoon, charged with infringement of a copyright, issued to W. H. ("Bill Ham") Cline, publicity promoter at the Orpheum.

Cline alleges that the playlet has been stolen bodily from the creature of his brain, and in order to make sure that it had been purloined he sent the veteran George Barnum and John H. Blackwood to see the show and pronounce judgment. They found against Bruce, and so reported to Cline; hence the suit.

Under the law the act is a misdemeanor. Bruce gave bond in the sum of $750 for his appearance.

Bruce says he bought an act of Cline, but that it was so old and hackneyed (containing the ancient "gag" of exchanged valises,) that he had to send it back to him, paying Cline $56 for the sketch. Bruce also alleges that the sketch, "Over the Transom," has been copyrighted by him, and showed the certificate of the register at Washington to confirm the statement.

MANHATTAN BEACH.

MANHATTAN BEACH, Jan. 9.—A contract has been let for the improvement of about two miles of Highland avenue to the Barber Asphalt Construction Company for $85,000. Highland avenue will be a most important tributary to the proposed new ocean boulevard, which will run from Playa del Rey to Redondo Beach. The work will start immediately and will be completed as rapidly as conditions permit.

Bids will be received by the City Council at their next meeting for the installation of a $110,000 municipal water plant. This is the initial move in the municipal ownership proposition and is highly favored by the City Trustees, and in all probability will be followed by other projects of a quasi-public nature.

Before, During and Just After the Martin Life-Pack Test.

At Griffith Park aviation field yesterday. At the top is the Martin biplane just before it left the earth. From left to right, those in the machine are Bonnie Glessner, Tiny Broadwick and Glenn L. Martin, aviator and inventor of the safety pack. In the center are Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski (left) and Capt. J. Gunn, N.G.C., watching the test. Below is Tiny Broadwick just after she alighted. The parachute lies on the ground behind her.

Highly Improved.

MARTIN LIFE-PACK AN INGENIOUS PARACHUTE.

Device Tested Out Yesterday Merely a Knapsack Fastened on Aviator's Back by Straps, Weighing Fourteen Pounds All On—With It He Can Jump, Fall or Dive from Plane in Any Position and Safely.

THAT the lives of many of the aviators who have been killed in the past year or two could have been saved by the use of his safety pack, is the belief of its inventor, Glenn L. Martin, aviator. Martin says the device will by no means make aviation fool-proof, but it will provide a new and important safeguard against accidents in the air.

In accidents such as that which caused the death of Calbraith Rogers at Long Beach a year ago last April, the life-vest would have availed nothing, because the aviator was too close to the ground. Many deaths, Martin says, have resulted from carelessness or the taking of extremely hazardous chances. Others have occurred because of mishaps to the air craft while high in air. It is the latter class of accidents which the inventor asserts can be avoided by the use of his device.

The safety pack is a highly developed parachute arrangement adapted for instant and dependable use. It cannot be used at a height of less than sixty feet and should not be depended on under 100 feet except in cases of emergency. From that altitude up to two miles or more it is said to work perfectly and with absolute certainty.

veered in the great circles that were carrying us swiftly earthward.

Not for one moment did Martin show any emotion at what was to me the most thrilling episode in my life. He had the machine under perfect control at every moment of the flight. Yet, when during the downward circling, he tapped me on the shoulder, if hearts ever jump into people's throats, mine certainly did. But there was nothing wrong with the engine or any of the wings—he had only wished me to see that the car could fly by itself, that it just wanted to fly if left alone, and so he removed his hands from the steering wheel and sat back in the seat with a satisfied smile while the big winged craft skimmed along at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour.

Downward we dropped, then back up into the blue vault of the heavens, circling and turning with wonderful sweeps. It was a wild, unreal sensation. I seemed to be someone other than myself. Someone who laughed and experienced real thrills when the big wings tipped at an abrupt angle in a back circle, a person who saw the purple-blue of the distant hills and marked the checker-board of green fields and plowed pastures, the puff of smoke of a distant engine, my other self, who did not have sense enough to be afraid but was sorry when the engine ceased its regular throbbing and we slid down to real things—back from our heavenward trip.

put it on a par with the life preserver at sea, and will relegate the life net of the firemen to the past.

Yesterday was an ideal day for a test, with a clear sky and a slight breeze blowing from the southwest. Martin had invited Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski and Capt. J. Gunn, of the National Guard, to view the test of the life vest from a military standpoint. Frank Garbutt and a number of aviation experts were also present.

"The demonstration was successful," said Brig.-Gen. Wankowski, "and there is no question in my mind but that aviation would have a much smaller list of victims had the life vest been used before. As to its practicability for other things, I cannot say."

Although the life vest is patented by Martin, and is his own invention, the actual construction was done by Charles Broadwick, an old balloonist, under Martin's direction. It was Broadwick's daughter, 19 years old, who figured so conspicuously in the test yesterday.

Glenn Martin said last night that he will use the life vest himself as an experiment. He said that as soon as he can get a man to handle his machine after he leaves it in the air he will take the leap.

WATER DEPARTMENT MOVE.

Quarters Will Be Occupied in the New Knickerbocker Building—Incinerator Question.

Beginning February 1 the water department will be located in the new Knickerbocker building at Olive and Seventh streets, the Board of Public Service Commissioners having concluded negotiations yesterday for a three-year lease of the basement, ground and second floor of the structure. The lease is conditional on the release to the Knickerbocker Company of the present two-story building which the water department occupies at No. 636 South Hill street.

There was some discussion by the Public Service Commissioners yesterday as to the City Council promising water to the extent of 20,000 feet a day to C. D. Crouch, to be used in the operation of the new garbage incinerator. Several other mooted questions regarding the location and arrangement of this plant were brought up, and the matter is to be discussed by members of various civic commissions and the City Council next Monday.

TO INVITE FRUIT JOBBERS.

Western Association Will Hold Its Annual Convention Here in the Exposition Year.

The Western Fruit Jobbers' Association will be invited to this city for their annual convention in 1915, and the offer will be accepted by the national officers.

At a meeting of a committee representing the fruit interests of the State, which will be held today at the Produce Exchange, the formal invitation will be drawn up and forwarded with the assurance that no expense will be spared to make the sojourn of the jobbers enjoyable as well as educational along the lines of fruit production in this section.

One of the essential details in bringing the convention, which will be attended by about 2000, to Los Angeles was the financing of so large an undertaking. The large fruit interests have taken hold, and more than a third of the $15,000 to be expended has already been subscribed in a campaign of less than a week.

No donations are asked for from any source save those interested directly in fruit producing, packing, shipping or selling.

BRONZE FOR OCCIDENTAL.

The Student Assembly at Occidental College yesterday morning was of unusual interest. The delegates to the great Student Volunteer convention in Kansas City have returned and five of the students and Dean Burt gave reports. Another feature was the presentation to the college of an exquisitely-modeled bronze statuette by Julia Bracken Wendt. The statue is entitled "The Student," and bears the inscription on the brass plate, "Presented to Occidental College by the artist and the class, 1912-13."

TAKING A CHANCE.

The Chamber of Commerce of Redlands is endeavoring to secure Thomas Lawson for its annual banquet. They want to hear Lawson, not eat him. They must be planning a frenzied menu.

THE CRUEL PUBLIC.

The City Assessor of Long Beach was only slightly cut when his automobile was wrecked. Will he have the sympathy of the people? Not much. Tax assessors and collectors are loved only by their mothers-in-law.

MODEST BRYAN.

The shrinking modesty, the self-effacement of our Secretary of State was made manifest unto men by the toast he offered at a Lincoln (Neb.) religious gathering. He did not pray God to avert war with Mexico. He prayed the Almighty to assist Bryan to avert it.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE.

If you try to escape from a theater with another man after a performance, you are almost invariably separated and spend some minutes on the curb waiting for him to show up. But do you lose your lady escort in this manner? Not at all. What's the answer? Why, you simply stick closer than a brother.

PUTTING ONE OVER.

They say Carranza passed though Arizona to get into Juarez. We suppose it was easy enough. All he had to do was to disguise himself as a tamale, enchilada or something and slip through. Carranza sounds like a Mexican swear word to us, anyhow. It sounds something like the American "By Heck!"

BEING HUMANE.

It can be carried too far. We have an instance in mind to prove it. An Arkansas traveler was elated over the quality of pork he had been served. The host assented. "Yes, sir," he agreed with esthusiasm, "that's danged fine meat and that ain't none of your murdered hog, neither; that there hog died a natural death."

REACTIONARY.

If the people in Wisconsin marry by contract instead of license they can avoid the eugenic test and save $6 in doctor fees. They also save the price of the license, as it costs only 10 cents to register their agreement. We object to this lack of ceremony on the grounds that there are no witnesses to the wife's promise to obey.

SOLVENT HUERTA.

President Wilson is worried over the fact that Huerta—although under the ban of the schoolmaster's displeasure politically, personally and financially—has been able thus far to pay all bills and keep the Mexican treasury full. Somebody has the confidence in Huerta which Wilson lacks. Who is it?

A FIT PUNISHMENT.

We see that Armour & Company were fined $300 in New York for having in their possession 825 pounds of decayed chicken, unfit for human consumption. The company pleaded guilty. Of course nobody can help it that goods sometimes spoil on their hands, but they can get rid of the spoilt stuff quickly without letting it reach the market. People who intentionally sell a bad thing for food should be compelled to eat it.

LIGHT UP.

The longest novel in the world has been completed by a Japanese author. It consists of 106 volumes and weighs 120 pounds. There is no English translation. The only way to make light literature out of such weighty matter is to apply a match. In this case it would require a torch. If such things are an eastern habit it is no wonder that something happened to the book shelf of Alexandria. It's perfectly safe to burn them because books of this size seldom set the world afire.

A BURNING QUESTION.

Is cooking a science? Nebraska is much upset over the interrogation. The Supreme Court has ruled that a school girl need not take cooking lessons if her parents object. We would like to remark right here that, regardless of the feelings of a girl's parents, a young woman's future husband will not object. This age-long habit of letting brides practice on their young husbands has made more charming widows at an early stage and turned more happy benedicts into soured dyspeptics than any other fault of the system.

THEIR HONOR SAVED.

Havana newspapermen seem to have plenty of time for the social amenities. Two of them have been elected to the Cuban Congress, and, if the whole truth was known about them, they probably also play golf. It is certain that they fence with swords for exercise, for they fought a duel last week and one of them was actually stabbed. A third Havana paper prints a most dignified account of the affray, concluding with the grave statement: "The many friends and admirers of both gentlemen are congratulating them that the combat did not have more serious consequences."

WHY JOHNSON IS RUNNING.

Gov. Johnson says he is running for re-election because of duty. When, as a lawyer, he defended the San Francisco bank-wrecker, a fellow who plundered the savings of widows and orphans and laboring folk, Johnson said it was because "man must eat."

We say that Johnson is running for re-election because he has the most powerful and insidious political machine ever constructed in this State, and because he is insanely confident that he will be re-elected. It was reported that he intended to run for United States Senator; but had he done so it would have been necessary to surrender control over the political organization he has constructed. The job-holders would not work so hard for him in the race for the Senate as if they knew that their positions depended on his re-election.

When Gov. Johnson went into office there were but few commissions, and most of the commissioners were elected by the people. Johnson thought he could make the appointments much better than the people and had the procedure altered. Now practically all of the commissioners hold office at the pleasure of the Governor. Some commission or other is in control, or superintends, or is in a position to harass or to favor, practically every form of industry in the State. Johnson rules the commissions. The inference is not only obvious but correct.

Outside of its official authority each commission has a formidable array of secretaries, janitors, book-keepers, door-keepers or some other form of attaches feeding from the pay roll and voting as Johnson says.

Next in authority to the Governor, and supervising all matters to suit his pleasure, stands the Board of Control. It does Johnson's undignified work. It is headed by a former reporter of a San Francisco newspaper who won favor with Johnson through the glowing "write-ups" given him during the last campaign, and its principal occupation for the past eighteen months has been to make trouble for Frank Jordan, Secretary of State, who has refused to be a Progressive and has offended Johnson by attending to business and not enlisting with the Armageddon veterans. The Board of Control found fault with Mineralogist Storms's office after he had refused to keep an incompetent woman stenographer and also a janitor whom Johnson had ordered placed on the pay roll. Thus it is seen how ready is the Board of Control to uphold the hands of Johnson—not quite so brutally as the "Blood Atoners" upheld the hands of Brigham Young.

There is the Fish and Game Commission with an enormous expense account and enough deputies to make a fair showing at any State election. There is the Harbor Commission, which is kept so busily engaged suppressing scandals that it scarcely finds time to conduct its official business. There is the Railroad Commission, the members of which were formerly elected by the people, but are now appointed by the Governor—a commission that has arbitrary authority over railroads, gas companies and electric companies. There is also the Conservation Commission—that noble body of Johnson appointees that attempted to conserve water by taking away riparian rights from agriculturists. There is the State Highway Commission that has charge of routing the State highways, and Johnson has had cause to vigorously deny that he has used the laying out of routes for political instead of transportation purposes.

To give an entire list with remarks on each would fill columns, but there is the Industrial Accident Board, now in charge of the Workman's Compensation Organization—one of the biggest cogs in the Progressive machine—the members of that commission control hundreds of thousands of dollars and are in a position to coerce either employers or employees. They answer to no one for their acts but Hiram Johnson. There is the State Lunacy Commission, which is of no great political importance, only to swell the list of devotees to the Progressive cause. But there is the Insurance Commission and the Water Commission and all sorts of educational and medical commissions—all under the thumb of the Governor.

The salary roll of California is the heaviest in its history. Practically all of the money—outside of the few elective offices that remain—goes to men holding jobs by the grace of Hiram Johnson. Do they want to see him re-elected? Are they willing to work their heads off? Are they willing to use all of their official and personal authority?

"Man must eat," and those fellows won't dine so well if Johnson it not the next Governor.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY.

Supposing wishes came true and every individual was given one wish, ninety-nine per cent. of them would be for more money, and the other one per cent. for more love. Take note of all the conversations you hear in the course of a year and nine times out of ten the talk will be of dollars and cents. The "property is robbery" party talk money more volubly than the big financiers.

Even poets, who are supposed to live on dreams and roses and music and morning dew, are in reality always figuring on finance. It is said that the eyes of Tennyson never flashed so brightly as on the receipt of a big check. Too little money makes anarchists; too much money, new dynasties; too easy money, voluptuaries, and too hard money, misers. The most spiritual are elated when the bank balance begins to increase. Men who can make money, work for more; men who can never make nor keep it, long for it and abuse its possessor.

Does this mean that we are a sordid lot, we little men on a little planet for a little time? Not at all. It means that we are very much in earnest. Cecil Rhodes slaved for money, in diamonds and land and through the stock exchange, that he might live in history as an empire builder. Pierpont Morgan focused his fine brain on finance to accumulate wealth, yet no man valued the material less or the artistic and poetic more. Nietzsche, in his "Will to Power," struck the keynote of the desire for money. By its means we all hope to climb into the ranks of the superman. Those who have not the "will to power" can never be money makers.

Not long ago Mr. Charles Morrison's will was probated in the British courts and his estate valued at fifty million dollars. At once a heartrending cry went up from the Socialists in England that "we live under a monstrous system which allowed one man to accumulate so much money." A quiet, unassuming figure, munching a bun and an apple in the streets, too busy to sit down to a square meal, might have revealed to these disgruntled Socialists the secret of Mr. Morrison's success. His death set the tongues wagging of many who never denied themselves a luxury within their reach, never hit a lick more than they were obliged, and expended their energies in wishing instead of working.

These are they who demand that such golden fruit be cut up into tiny pieces to appease the appetite of people too lazy or indifferent to help grow the trees. Nietzsche's generalization is not so far from the truth; there is a master-morality and a slave-morality, and the survival of the race demands the former.

THE RURAL CREDIT COMMISSION.

What has become of Hiram's $3000 junketing committee to investigate the system of rural credits in Europe? Are they frozen up in the fjords of Norway? Are they seated upon the banks of canals in Amsterdam or Rotterdam, or any other dam city in the Netherlands? Are they shivering amid the fogs of London? Are they cavorting under the electric lights in the closerie de lilas in Paris? Are they hobnobbing with the Kaiser unter den linden in Berlin? Are they waking the echoes of the Coliseum with holiday songs at Rome? Or are they breaking the bank at Monte Carlo?

Where are they anyhow? Why don't they report and tell the farmers how to loan money to themselves on their own farms? Of course they learned nothing new by their trip. They could have purchased for thirty cents at the nearest bookstall all that has been written about rural credits. They have accomplished the object of their mission, which was to have a trip to "Yurrup" at the public expense. Why don't they say so?

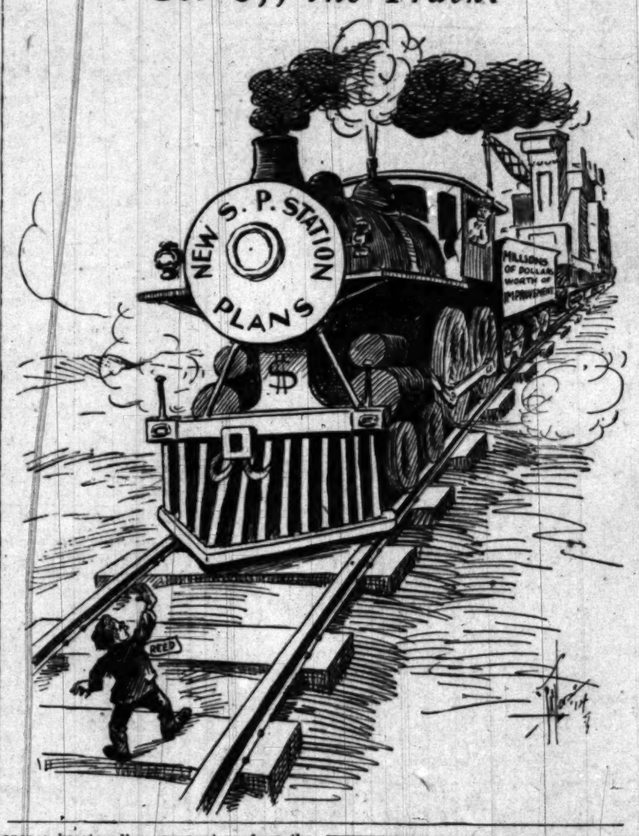
SEX HYGIENE.

The Chicago School Board has abolished the lectures on personal purity. Such lessons should, of course, be learned where they are least likely to be taught and that is at home. Parents find the task delicate and difficult. Either curiosity or association often brings to childhood much unclean physiological revelation. This must be offset with sound instruction. There ought to be a way whereby such information would be imparted to only one child at a time. The object is not secrecy but privacy; not furtive nor guilty, but sacred and removed from common thought or suggestion. The solemnity of the lesson and the fine guardedness with which it was given would protect the subject from a general and useless discussion among the children themselves. This is not a question of being squeamish, but one of sustaining true modesty. The lesson must be given, but we greatly doubt if the class-room will ever prove the right place. It is quite likely that in countless instances parents who are altogether conscientious, loving and well meaning find such a lesson almost impossible to them, but surely it is not impossible in the case of girls to trust it to some woman of goodness, tact and wisdom, and, in the case of boys, with some wholesome-minded man of clean heart and ready speech.

THE ACID TEST.

When you go up against something and fall down on the job that is the acid test, and you did not pass it. A pirate did that at San Pedro. He went aboard the Meteor and captured a jug of muriatic acid. After the first mouthful the jug escaped. The launch and jug are doing well. This reminds us of a trip which Robert Mantell, the actor, and his company once took in crossing the Erie Canal at Port Jervis. They were aboard an ill-smelling tub which plowed an uncertain furrow through the mists. Off in the fog another vessel hailed, "Who's there?" The captain of the tug shot a withering glance at the shivering Mantell and replied through his horn, "The good ship Murietta with a cargo of swill and actors." "God!" said Mantell, tightening his coat about him for a fresh shiver, "He might have given the actors precedence."

Get Off the Track!



UNLUCKY FRIDAY.

WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

On Friday a malignant fate is said to threaten us with woe, to do us ill it lies in wait, or shadows us where'er we go. On Friday if a ship should sail, the seamen shake their heads and sigh; 'twill be the sport of every gale, and all on board will surely die. Yet many stately ships come back all sound from keelson to the truck; they sailed along their stormy track without a sign of evil luck. If you begin an enterprise on Friday it will peter out; thus speak the prophets hoar and wise, who think they know what they're about. Yet many enterprises win which on a Friday were begun, and those concerned take in the tin, the kale and other brands of mon. To me a Friday seems as sleek as any other kind of day; the same old fish are in the creek, the sun shines on, the same old way. On Monday last I fell and split my person clear up to my neck, on Tuesday morn I had a fit, on Thursday I was but a wreck. But Friday finds me all serene, my griefs and woes have taken wing; I sip a pint of gasoline and then I smile and dance and sing.

"THE NEXT HOUSE."

A Possibility That the Democrats May Lose Their Big Majority.

[North American Review.] If the Democrats carry the House of Representatives, the President will have won a notable victory; if they fail to hold a majority, he will have suffered an irreparable defeat. There is no question in our mind as to how the people would vote today. They would sustain the administration, not merely through a division of the opposition, but gladly and avowedly as a tribute to Mr. Wilson's earnestness and devotion to duty, and to give him full opportunity to develop his policies. The vital result in November will be determined wholly by what shall be done affirmatively and what shall happen incidentally in the meantime.

What are the prospects in the light of past experiences and present conditions? The House now comprises 291 Democrats and 144 Republicans (including the few Progressives and as of the beginning of Congress.) The Democratic majority—147—is so great that a reversal in two short years seems to be practically inconceivable. But let us see. In 1886 the Democrats retained the control they had won in 1884, along with the election of Mr. Cleveland, but their majority shrank from 84 to a scant 15. In 1892 they swept the country, only as a consequence of tariff legislation and hard times, to reap disaster two years later. The comparison is striking:

	Democrats.	Republicans.
House elected in 1892.....	220	126
House elected in 1894.....	104	246

During those two years the Democrats lost 116 members out of 220. If, this year, they should lose 74 members out of 291, they would forfeit control of the House of Representatives and of all legislation.

The fact, too, must not be overlooked that the majority in 1892 was a real majority won against a united opposition, whereas the present majority is only apparent. Just as Mr. Wilson is a plurality President, so is the Democratic House a plurality House. If Republicans and Progressives had voted together in 1912, they would have had a majority of 12 in the present House.

THE FEMINISTS' MISTAKE.

[Edward S. Martin in the January Atlantic:] The Feminists make the mistake of thinking of man as the master of woman, whereas the real master of both man and woman is Necessity. The world has jolted along as it could. There has been a great deal to do, and men and women, respectively, have done what they had to. Life has been rough; women have needed protection, and have had to pay perhaps overmuch for it, and the tradition that was based on the woman's need of protection seems to have outlasted somewhat the facts on which it rested. The world has come to be a safer place to live in, women are safer in it than they were, and in a very much better position to strike out, if they choose, for themselves.

The world is also richer than it was by enormous increases. There is far more to distribute. The women are richer, have more power of money, have a just claim on a larger share of the general wealth than they used to get, and are making their claim good. To the woman of courage, capacity, and training the world seems already a very open field. The pioneering has been done; the paths are broken in all directions and a vast deal of work and money is going into the improvement of the roads. Why, why should these Feminists want to get up sex wars when things are going too fast their way already?

FEMININE DIPLOMATS.

BY BARBARA BOYD.

"When the time comes that women are appointed as our ambassadors—though I suppose ambassadresses would be the more correct term, wouldn't it?" hesitated the bachelor girl.

"I think that would fit better," responded the bachelor.

"You know I detest attempts at puns," retorted the bachelor girl. "But at any rate, when women are sent abroad to fill these posts, I think we shall have diplomacy of an unusually high order."

"How did you arrive at that startling conclusion?" queried the bachelor.

"By watching women manage men. The skillful methods of some women are truly marvelous to me. I had a fair example of it the other day. Two men of my acquaintance were set to mopping floors by a feminine diplomat and they thoroughly enjoyed the performance. Yet ordinarily if such work had been suggested to them, they would have seen the person suggesting it dead and buried before they would have done it."

"Mopping floors!" exclaimed the bachelor. "Why in the world were they mopping floors?"

"Well, it was rather unusual, I'll confess. But we were fixing up a hall for a fair, and at the last minute we found a lot of cleaning to do. So we pressed the men into service. And in the twinkling of an eye, this feminine diplomat had two of the most fastidious men mopping the floor with as much zest as they would play a game of golf. They slushed water around and scrubbed away with the mops as if their bread and butter depended upon it; and they laughed and cracked jokes as if it was a picnic. And all because she stood by and egged them on in just the right way. But I can just see them mopping floors under any other conditions. And so I say, for diplomacy of the very highest order, look to a woman."

"Well, if that's the case," observed the bachelor, "I would not have them appointed as ambassadors. There is a place where diplomacy is far more wanted than in affairs of state."

"Where is that?" asked the bachelor girl in surprise.

"Right in the home," replied the bachelor. "If a woman can get her husband to mop floors and think he is enjoying it, and bring up coal under the delusion he is training for athletic honors, and walk the floor with the baby believing he will thereby win the next marathon, it seems to me her post is already waiting for her. I think she will be achieving far more essential results in the scheme of things that settling the fisheries question or further complicating the Monroe doctrine."

"Without doubt. But in one case her ability is recognized and rewarded, and in the other it isn't. Women have waked up to this fact and they are out for laurel wreaths and medals and statues in the Hall of Fame, quite as much as the men are. To keep them content in the home, the work of running the home needs to be put on the same basis as any other occupation."

"I am willing to boost it a good deal higher," said the bachelor. "Only to do it properly I ought to be able to speak from experience. Don't you think so?"

But the bachelor girl was putting on her hat and her mouth was too full of hatpins to reply.

UNTENABLE ASTRONOMY.

Prof. H. H. Turner of the Oxford University Observatory, who was out here at the Astrophysical Convention held on Mount Wilson in 1910, has been startling the astronomical world with a new theory of the cause of sunspots, recently published in the London Times. While the theory is ingenious and interesting, it seems rather too far-fetched and tenuous to be accepted or even received with favor by sober-minded astronomers.

Briefly, he supposes that the Leonid meteor stream with a period of thirty-three years crosses the orbit of Saturn, and at certain times when that planet happens to enter the stream, the little particles of which the Leonids are composed impinge upon the rings of Saturn which are composed of similar small particles. When the opposing particles of the rings and those of the Leonids collide the motion of each is intercepted and they are brought to rest, with the result that they fall directly into the sun.

But the thoughtful astronomer will immediately ask several questions. First, if the particles of the rings and of the Leonids are thus arrested why do they not fall to the surface of the near-by planet—an enormous body with ten satellites and three ponderous rings revolving round it? Second, why should these arrested Leonid particles which impinge on the earth once in thirty-three years without producing any other effect than that of making spectacular streaks in our atmosphere, why should they produce such terrific holes in the sun's photosphere? Third, the sunspot period is about eleven years, whereas, the Leonid meteor stream has a period of thirty-three years, which, though a multiple of the former, does not satisfy the investigator who wants the facts and the theory to coincide.

Prof. Turner's theory is not tenable.

[Philadelphia Ledger:] The great mass of Republicans who fled their party are eager for the opportunity to rejoin the Republican party; the reaction from mere hullabalioo has set in, and the genuinely progressive Republicans who rebelled have been revolted by the extravagances of the day and will seek a conservative organization as refuge from folly.

Life-Pack Ingenious.

pounds, with the coat, straps and other paraphernalia, the weight is fourteen pounds. It consists of a pack strapped to the back securely with strong straps and buckles passing under the arms, between the legs and firmly about the waist, so there can be no possibility of slipping or misplacement. The pack, which contains the parachute, is about two feet long by fifteen inches wide and six inches thick.

The parachute is of a fine quality of silk and folded neatly beneath the canvas covering. The cover is fastened with small snaps that yield readily to pressure. The canvas cover is opened and removed and the parachute entirely released with a single pull on the key cord.

The parachute used yesterday is twenty-eight feet in diameter. artin has another one that he purposes to use for himself thirty-two feet in diameter. That one, he says, will safely lower a 200-pound man to the ground from any distance over 100 feet.

The packs cost with the parachutes $200 or more, but Martin believes wholesale manufacture will materially reduce this figure. The silk is of the best quality that can be purchased and is very tough and strong. Interwoven through it are strong oiled cords, firmly attached to the silk. The cords run clear through and into the head of the parachute. All the cords are carefully woven and waxed.

The device is the result of four experiments, each of the first three being improved upon to attain the apparent infallibility of the one used yesterday. The pack in its present form was given a series of tests nearly a year ago by being attached to sacks of sand. Later when there seemed no possible chance of mishap, Martin decided to make the test with a human being.

The pack and releasing cords are arranged so that the wearer may leap, dive or fall in any manner from the plane. The fall at first is about seventy-five feet and at the end of this distance the velocity is eighty feet per second. Then the parachute opens, the velocity is checked and the wearer is floated, featherlike to the ground at a velocity of eighteen feet per second. The shock upon alighting is about the same as from a leap from a low table to the ground.

No matter how the wearer gets away from the machine he must right himself and fall feet foremost. The pack is lighter than the body and tends to keep the head uppermost, but in any event the opening parachute quickly and surely brings the person below it to an upright position. Martin believes that under no conditions, no matter what sort of accident may occur will it be difficult to get away from the machine.

"There is no upset of a plan, in order, that cannot be controlled by a cool pilot," said Martin. "That is the real purpose of the loop-the-loop tests—to demonstrate that. It is the duty of every aviator to make certain that his machine is sound and in order and not to fly where he cannot safely land. With sufficient elevation a plane can be volplaned any distance, covering six feet to every foot of drop. Engine trouble or snapped wires cannot of themselves cause disaster if the plane holds together.

"I have had practically no misgivings in flying. One of the dangers that has sometimes occurred to me is fire. It is possible, of course, that a quick conflagration might be caused from engine sparks. If that ever occurs to me and I have on the safety pack I shall shoot into the air away from the machine as quickly as I can move and I shall not even think how I get out as long as it is done quickly.

"The safety pack will not only make passengers safer but it will ease their minds and make them feel more comfortable when flying in the high places.

"With safety devices and the present perfection of machines I am sure that flying is safer than any other means of travel that covers a mile a minute. Instead of bumping over a more or less uneven surface or grinding over steel tracks the aeroplane is submerged. Even when a gust of air is encountered the control is not affected and the machine answers readily to the control of two fingers.

"The safety pack removes the danger from accidents that may happen in midair to the most careful and well- poised pilot. I believe it will limit fatalities to those cases where faulty construction, ill-advised stunts or incompetent handling result in disaster."

For exhibition purposes and the display of spectacular feats the pack presents a wide range of possibilities. The safest and best way of releasing it is by means of a cord attached to the plane and which brings away the covering. The covering can, however, be removed and the chute released by a smaller chute ten feet in diameter.

By the latter method the wearer is attached to the machine in no way. He merely jumps from the plane, the small chute is released and that in turn releases the larger chute. The distance of the first drop before the big chute is opened can be varied all the way from sixty to 500 feet. More daring or experienced parachute jumpers could, with the double device, present the spectacle of dropping like a bullet for 400 to 500 feet, then being checked somewhat by the small chute and finally floating lightly to the ground under the support of the main parachute.

PROPOSE DOUBLING CAPITAL.

Standard to Increase Authorized Capital to One Hundred Millions. Remarkable Growth.

The effects of the tremendous growth in the Standard Oil Company's business during the past year, are shown by the fact that the company has called a meeting of its shareholders for March 16 to vote upon increasing the capital stock from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Not only is the proposed doubling of the company's capital a significant event in financial circles, but it is also to an extent indicative of the great advancement of the oil business in this State during the past year. Even greater color is lent to this phase of its significance by the fact that only a little over a year ago the Standard found it necessary to increase its capital from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000.

The Standard is at present spending millions of dollars providing additional pipe-line facilities to handle the increased production of Midway and Fullerton fields, and is steadily enlarging its refining plants at Richmond and El Segundo. The wholesale development of the newly-acquired territory in Fullerton and the Midway holdings of the company will be the natural outgrowth of the increased capital.

At the meeting the shareholders will also pass upon the question of selling at par 45,184 shares of treasury stock on hand, to shareholders of record February 2. The par value of the stock is $100.

SUCCESS ATTENDS TEST OF OUR OIL.

SIAM'S VOYAGE PROVES HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT.

Trial Run With California Product by Diesel Motorship Assures Great Future for State as Source of Fuel Supply—New Marine Engine May Be Revolutionary.

That the motorship Siam's first test run with California oil, between Los Angeles and San Francisco, was highly successful, was definitely indicated by advices received yesterday at the General Petroleum Company's offices in this city. The Siam, which arrived at San Francisco Wednesday night, now bears the distinction of having been the first Diesel motorship to use fuel oil from California.

As the success of the trip now makes it certain that California will be called upon to supply the greater portion of the future vast demand for oil for Diesel engines, the Siam's trial voyage will assume some historical importance. Now, also, there is little doubt that the new type of vessel will supersede the coal-burning ship.

Owing to the fact that the Siam did not dock upon reaching San Francisco Wednesday night, but anchored in the bay, news of the voyage has been somewhat delayed. The most essential element of the success of the trip was the fact that California petroleum proved more efficient than Borneo oil. Estimates at the General Petroleum Company go to show that, judging from the brief test that was made, only about 8.6 tons of the California product accomplished the same results that ten tons of the Borneo product would achieve.

The Siam, which left Los Angeles harbor at about 10 a.m. Tuesday, after taking on a supply of oil from the General pine line, commenced using the California product at about 5:30 p.m., and continued to do so until she arrived at San Francisco Wednesday night. A great deal of doubt had been expressed concerning whether or not California oil would carbonize the cylinders of the Diesel engine, on account of being asphalt base, instead of paraffn base like the Borneo oil. This doubt vanished on the trip, as the operators found no signs of carbon in the cylinders, it is stated.

The only unsatisfactory feature was that the Siam found it impossible to start on California oil when she prepared to go in to the wharf at San Francisco, owing to the heavier gravity of the California product. This difficulty can be overcome, however, either by heating the oil or using a higher gravity petroleum. The gravity of the oil taken on at Los Angeles was 16.5, as compared with the over-17 gravity product previously used on the vessel. The heavier petroleum did not spray as satisfactorily as the lighter product when the engine was cold.

Universal Transfers.

The Council yesterday adopted the recommendation of the Public Works Committee that the Public Utilities Commission be requested to present to the State Railroad Commission a demand for an order compelling universal transfers between the railway lines of this city.

Assistant City Attorney Robertson stated to the Council that the city has the right to regulate its own public utilities and the Council itself could establish a universal-transfer system, but that it would not be proper to present this subject to the State Railroad Commission at the hearing of the commission on the application of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation to reissue its bonds. In view of this, the Board of Public Utilities has been asked to make a report on the universal-transfer proposition immediately.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

PROBATION LAW UNDER FIRE.

Ministers Stirred Up on the Great Question.

Their Influence Sought by Tearful Women.

Missionary Here from Remotest Station on Earth.

The latest horrible tragedy that startled the city, the sentencing to the gallows of a self-confessed murderer, the coming trial of another who has likewise confessed to his crime, the conviction of other grades of criminals and the talk of probation, keeps uppermost in the public mind the question as to what is a proper administration of the laws of the land. The growing opposition to lowering the full penalty for hardened criminals and to probation for mature men, though on first conviction, is unmistakable. Said a minister yesterday:

"Probation has run wild in Los Angeles county. The city and almost every other community, is overrun with criminals great and small, who in many instances, without the exercise of the slightest judgment and often in response to weeping and sentimental women, who have no families of their own and no interest beyond a maudlin sentimentality, have been turned loose to repeat their crimes. In practically all of the more recent arrests for crime in this city, this statement will hold good, and it is time for law-abiding citizens to demand that admission to probation be limited to first offenders under legal age. I am unsilterably opposed to permitting a man to pursue a criminal course for years at a stretch, causing untold suffering and distress, and then when finally caught so tight that he cannot escape, allowing him to plead 'the baby act' and set him free to repeat the offense."

Sermons were preached on the general topic last Sunday, and the feeling is so deep that others will be heard tomorrow. Dr. Charles Edward Locke of the First Methodist Church announces as his topic for the evening service, "Criminals and Silly Women; Can Convicts Make Good? Probation, Parole and Capital Punishment."

Dr. Locke has been flooded with questions that people wish to have answered, no doubt growing out of the recent tragedies and the probation talk. "What do you think of probation and parole?" asks one, and others are: "Does punishment decrease crime?" "Will you tell again why you are in favor of capital punishment?" "Why do silly women coddle prisoners?" "Is it right to make prisons comfortable and attractive?"

The pressure was used very heavily yesterday and the day before with the ministers of Los Angeles to secure their signatures to a probation application, and some of them capitulated, but Dr. Locke, who declared that he "stands for a high ideal in citizenship and is responsible to the community for the use of any influence he might have," properly refused to yield on mere sympathetic grounds.

REVIVAL CONTINUES.

DR. R. A. TORREY TO PREACH.

Beginning tomorrow morning Dr. R. A. Torrey will assist Rev. J. C. Pinkerton of the First United Presbyterian Church in a revival that has been in progress there during the past week. Dr. Torrey's morning subject will be, "Soul Winning," and in the evening, "What it Costs Not to be a Christian." This church believes in the old-fashioned revival, and for months past the members have been holding prayer meetings from house to house, seeking for a great spiritual awakening, and every night during the past week they have met in the church burdened with the same desire.

TIBET MISSIONARY.

EARTH'S REMOTEST STATION.

The mission station at Batang, Tibet, of the First Christian Church of this city, is said to be the most remote from civilization of any on earth, and Rev. J. C. Ogden, the missionary, and his family, have just arrived here. Rev. Mr. Ogden will preach in the First Church on Sunday morning. The family came out two years ago during a revolution, taking three months to reach the sea coast, their way being constantly beset by dangers, and they are now about to return to again take up their work. The story is a most thrilling one and will be told tomorrow in an interesting way by the missionary.

In the evening Rev. Russell F. Thrapp, the pastor, will preach on the topic, "What Do We Know About the Bible?" one of a series of sermons on "Great Fundamental Questions."

WHERE ELIOT GETS OFF.

LEADING MINISTERS TO SPEAK.

The recent pronouncement of President Eliot, which has received criticism throughout the world, suggests a sermon topic for Sunday morning by Rev. W. L. Y. Davis of West Adams Methodist Church—"Foundations of Infidelity." In the evening the sermon will be on "Why Should Smith Go to Church?"

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

MAN'S HIGHEST POWER.

Terse Comments on the Uniform Prayer Meeting Topic of the Young People's Societies—Christian Endeavor—for January 11, "Purpose, Persistency and Power in Prayer." Matt. 7, 7:11.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Science speaks softly nowadays when it talks about the power of man. So many barriers have been broken in the outreach of the human spirit that only the rash dare say what the ultimate limits may be. The recent conquest of the airship and the submarine and the wireless and X-Ray and radium and the spectroscope all bid us go softly into the field of speculation concerning human character and capacity. A strange mood of reverence has come over the whole company of physical scientists. To them, as Sir Oliver Lodge's presidential address indicated, the thought of God is no longer a creation of the theologians.

We are dimly conscious of a new attitude of expediency among thoughtful persons concerning things spiritual. All thoughtful persons perceive that man's highest power lies on the Godward side. As he is allied with omnipotence, and as the aspect of his own nature is strengthened, man comes to his greatest capacity. And what is this but the prayer side of life, for prayer is the link that connects the two great realities of the universe, the life of God and the life of man?

The poet's words convey perhaps a profound intimation more than he himself intended: "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of." Man is man at his best when he is closest to God. "God soon fades out of the eye that forgets to pray." In her compelling little book "Drama," Oliver Schreiner tells of the boons that were promised a mother in behalf of her child, and the greatest of these was that the ideal should be real to him. Blest with earth's best blessing are they to whom the things of the spirit are the great realities.

They understand that "man is one world and has another to attend him."—freedom from the thraldom of things in their perennial records. They walk through the world as conquerors because they walk with God.

Power in prayer is power imported by God. All the privileges of prayer spring out of the nature of an answer to prayer.

This capacity is not a birthright which man holds. In simple, it is a divine favor bestowed on trustful, reverent hearts. The most important fact about prayer is not that man is on his knees, but that God is on His throne. Every experience of prayer should cause the heart to bow lower in reverence before a God so great that He can stoop to the smallest need or petition of mortal. There are ingenious machines in all modern astronomical observatories, which keep the telescopes steadily directed upon the desired heavenly body, thus overcoming the movement of the earth. True prayer serves the same function. It preserve the Godward attitude of the human soul. Failure in this results in spiritual darkness.

Because it is sacred and because it touches the deepest and most solemn intimate relationship of his life, prayer, as a habit, should be secret. Prayer is not a sort of spiritual ornament to be worn in the sight of all men, it is for the eye of the Father who seeth in secret. Can you imagine a man proud of his prayers?

Whatever is worth praying for is worth waiting for. One reason why God asks for our prayers is that He wants us. He craves recognition of His fatherhood on the part of His children. He is not like certain misguided and uninterested earthly parents who give their children all that they might desire, but establish no personal intimacy. For the modern busy, wealthy man it is easier to give him companionship. Now God wants to know the joy of the final relationship. He coveteth the intimacy that a mutual exchange of confidence imparts. For God gives of Himself, as well as of His bounty, to the children who keep the channels of prayer open.

YOUR BIBLE LESSON.

Helps Prepared for "The Times" by Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, the World-Famous Expositor.

THE MISSION OF THE SEVENTY.

LESSON—Luke x:1-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—Matthew x:20.

"For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you."

(1) Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy others, and sent them two and two before His face into every city and place, whither He Himself was about to come.

(2) And He said unto them, the harvest is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into His harvest.

(3) Go your ways; behold, I send you forth as lambs, in the midst of wolves.

(4) Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes; and salute no man on the way.

(5) And into whatsoever house ye shall enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

(6) And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon him; but if not, it shall turn to you again.

(7) And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give; for the laborer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

(8) And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you.

(9) And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

(10) But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof and say,

(11) Even the dust from your city, that clingeth to our feet, we do wipe off against you; howbeit know this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh.

(12) I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city.

(13) Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

(14) Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment, than for you.

(15) And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be brought down unto Hades.

(16) He that heareth you heareth Me; and he that rejecteth you rejecteth Me; and he that rejecteth Me rejecteth Him that sent Me.

(17) And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us in Thy name.

(18) And He said unto them, I beheld Satan fallen as lightning from heaven.

(19) Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall in any wise hurt you.

(20) Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

(21) In that same hour he rejoiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that Thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes; yea, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in Thy sight.

(22) All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him.

(23) And turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

(24) For I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

THE NARRATIVE.

This lesson, taken from the Gospel of Luke, records an action of Christ chronicled only by this evangelist. It should be observed that here again we are in the same period, the things immediately preceding being those of the confession, the transfiguration, the healing of the boy, and the journey back to Judea.

In considering the sending out of the seventy it is important that we carefully observe that they were sent as the immediate forerunners of Jesus. "The Lord appointed seventy others, and sent them two and two before His face into every city and place whither He Himself was about to come." He knew what was before Him, and as Luke tells us (ix:51,) "When the days were well nigh come that He should be received up, He steadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem." It was thus for the last period of His ministry that He called these men into co-operation with Him, and sent them out before Him.

In commissioning them for their work He was laboring under no delusion as to the difficulties that awaited them and Himself. He first spoke to them of the plenteousness of the harvest, and the fewness of the laborers; charging them also, as He had the twelve, to pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers.

The greatness of the harvest did not consist in the readiness of the people to hear; for He immediately declared that His messengers would go forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. The method of their going was to be that of poverty, of urgency and of peace. They were to make no material provision, to waste no time in salutations, and were to greet every house that they entered with the word of peace. Their mission would be one of judgment in the sense of discrimination. In some cases they would be received. There they were to abide, to heal the sick, and to declare the Kingdom of God come nigh. In some cases they would not be received. In these they were to depart, even shaking against the city the very dust of their feet, and yet declaring that the Kingdom of God was come nigh. To these men went before them, to prepare their one message was to declare the Kingdom of God, and the nigh of the Kingdom was a blessing or of cursing according to the attitude of the men to whom they were sent.

In the midst of His charge to them our Lord broke out into a declaration of the citties of Galilee, in which His back was turned, and wherein His mighty works had been done; finally declaring to them that they were now to occupy the position as His messengers, and pointed as His messengers were treated as treatment of Himself, and so by Him.

We have no details of these doings, or their work, but immediately an account of how they returned to Him filled with joy because even demons had been subject to them in His name.

That which follows is full of interest, as it reveals to us the attitude of mind at this time. The statement full of suggestion, gave utterance to His sense of perfect victory over the forces of evil. "I beheld Satan fallen as lightning from heaven." Having given them of the peculiar power He had given to them, He warned them to rejoice not in the power they possessed, but in the fact that they were enrolled in heaven. He uttered the joy of His soul in praise to His Father, proclaimed the fact of His authority by the will of the Father, finally speaking to His disciples of the greatness of the day which their privilege to see.

THE TEACHING.

The story of the sending of the seventy is valuable to us in that it reveals our Lord's need of help in carrying out His purpose. In the early days of His ministry He had to have worked very much alone, and then having trained the men for constant comradeship, He sent them forth. Here and in the closing days He sends forth another and a greater number of men. Throughout the history of Christianity, He has never been not merely calling men to Himself, but from among the number those so called, appointing them to special work; the work of the ministry, the work of proclaiming His message, and of bringing men into relation with the Kingdom of God.

Another lesson we learn from this is that He perfectly equips all those whom He sends forth, for whatever work He appoints. Power is bestowed upon these earliest disciples on the occasion of which they knew nothing, and found within the charmed circle of their obedience the ability to meet the requirements of the hour. The disparity between the equipment of the helpers of Jesus in different ages is but a revelation of the permanence of the principle that the gifts are always according to the immediate need. Perhaps one of the most encouraging things in the story of the lesson is the revelation it gives of the joy of Jesus over the victories of these men. The reports of their return they may have been, probably were, inclined to boast, but the emphasis on the fact that the devils had been subject to them; and the joy as He therefore warned them against that false emphasis, He revealed that He was filled with joy at the evidence of His triumphs, and exulted in the revelation of the wisdom of God, whereby He knew that the great secrets of the Kingdom and power are at the disposal of the simplest.

The Golden Text.

The Golden Text is taken from the account of the commissioning of the twelve at a much earlier period in the ministry of our Lord. It is important that it reveals a principle of guidance in all sufferings in the path of service. There need be no anxiety as to how the servants of the Lord shall answer those who oppose them, for they will be given them in the hour of need by the Spirit of God who shall speak in them.

"POLITICIANS" ON THE STUMP

Expected that a Number of Them Will Testify in the Peruvian Defense Coast Mines.

The investigation of the charges against Joe Goldberg, alias Goldstein, and, charged with violation of the immigration laws, will be resumed before Immigration Inspector Wood this morning. It is expected that a number of politicians of more or less degrees of popularity will be called to testify to the statements made by those heard in defense of Goldberg. It is said that Goldberg himself will go on the stand in order to explain the allegations of the government that he has been living on the earnings of a woman of the town.

The woman in the case, Mrs. Royer, testified in favor of Goldberg, saying that she had confessed to him, and that he had counseled her to go back to her husband and children. She will be recalled for further examination, and Detective Duncan will be called to testify as to the statements made by Mrs. Royer when she came in for a grilling.

With the completion of the testimony of Durand the government will introduce a number of witnesses, it is said, to show that the affidavit signed by Durand, in which he admits being a member of the Industrial Workers of the World, will be used in the case. It is the intention of the federal authorities to call a number of prominent persons here to testify to assist Durand with their influence, and that some of these have already been seen by Durand's attorneys. Whether or not they will be called, or, if called, appear for him, has made a matter of speculation, the remaining witnesses in the case being a bit backward about coming to the front. They are willing to help their friend, so long as the matter does not get in the newspapers.

The prosecution is under the impression that Durand will be called to the stand for the defense, in order that he may be questioned regarding his statements in representing himself as a member of the I.W.W., and that he is compelled to pay $10 a day for the services of an attorney to defend him. Whether he must pay for the services of witnesses is not known.

Growing Importance of the City Is Seen in Recent Appointments.

Los Angeles is becoming more and more recognized as an important diplomatic post, and with the completion of the Panama Canal it is the opinion of F. J. Zeehandelaar, who is the Netherlands Vice-Consul, that this city will be well represented by foreign consuls of foreign nations.

It was announced yesterday that Mr. White Mortimer, Britain, has been here for many years, has been appointed to the dignity of Consul, and will honor granted only after long service in the diplomatic corps.

Contrary to the custom of foreign governments making consulate appointments on political preference, these governments send here agents from their diplomatic corps, who are trained in the service in which they are to be employed in foreign countries.

LE LESSON.

would not be received. In such they were to depart, shaking against the city the very dust their feet, and yet declaring that Kingdom of God was come nigh. these men went before their face their one message was that the Kingdom of God, and the duty nigh of the Kingdom was one blessing or of cursing according the attitude of the men to whom were sent.

In the midst of His charge to our Lord broke out into denun tion of the cities of Galilee which His back work was now done wherein His mighty works had been done; finally declaring to the seventy that they were now so actually ap pointed as His messengers that the treatment they received would be treated as treatment received by Himself, and so by His Father.

We have no details of their re hearings, or their works, but immediately an account of how they returned to Him filled with joy because even demons had been subject to them in His name.

That which follows is full of interest, as it reveals to us our Lord's state of mind at this time. The statement full of suggestiveness gave utterance to His assessment of feet victory over the forces of evil.
"I beheld Satan fallen as lightning from heaven." Having spoken them of the peculiar authority
He had given to them, and warned them in rejoicing, not in the power they possessed, but in the fact that they were enrolled heaven. He uttered the joy of His soul in praise to His Father, and proclaimed the fact of His exalted thority by the will of the Father finally speaking to His disciples the greatness of the day which they their privilege to see.

THE TEACHING.

The story of the sending of the seventy is valuable to us in that it reveals our Lord's need of helpers in carrying out His purposes. In the early days of His ministry He seems to have worked very much alone, but them having trained the twelve by constant comradeship, He sent them forth. Here and in the closing part of He sends forth another and larger number of men. Through all the history of Christianity, He has not been not merely calling men to Himself, but from among the number those so called, appointing some to special work; the work always consisting of proclaiming of His nearness and bringing men into relation with the Kingdom of God.

Another lesson we learned is that
He perfectly equips all those whom
He sends forth, for whatever service
He appoints. Powers bestowed upon these earliest disciples are not to be stowed today; but gifts of the Spirit, of which they knew nothing, are found within the church today, enabling it to meet the requirements of the age. The disparity between the equipment of the helpers of the seventy in different ages is but a revelation of the permanence of the principle that gifts are always according to the immediate need. Perhaps one of the most encouraging and beautiful features of the lesson is the revelation that have of the joy of Jesus over the victories of these men. Even their return they may have been probably were, inclined to be emphasis on the fact that they had been subject to them; and as He therefore warned them against that false emphasis, He never was filled with joy at the story of triumphs, and exulted in the wisdom of God whereby it is revealed that the great secrets of spiritual and power are at the disposal of the simplest.

THE WORLD YET LOVES A LOVER.

Shakespeare's Deep Counsel of Patience.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK

Shakespeare is no more to be learned out of text-books than religion from a theological seminary. His grand central theme is hedged about by such a protection of method and entertainment that we who read are constantly and mercifully spared the shock of meeting the great idea face to face. Shakespeare knew that the unmasked idea was something that human sight could never bear. The face of his Moses was always veiled.

Men are not so much as allowed to look upon too much beauty. If you drive through the streets you will pass a hundred women of surprising loveliness, but if you go to a party, if the beautiful are there, they will not reveal themselves. Life always drops the screen and, since a man cannot see beauty without desire, only one woman is so revealed to him that he may see her as altogether lovely.

So Shakespeare bewilders us with a multitude of incidents, personalities, intimations and discussions, to the end that we may not be blinded by the great light. It would be easy to put each of his plays in a sentence, although every one of us might express them in a different way.

For instance, his Lear, as the last thing he ever did, is nothing more than the cry from the cross of "why hast thou forsaken me?" A great man, living in the abstract, with no hope of being understood, he symbolizes the uncompromising, uncomprehending world between whose children he has divided his kingdom of his mind as the three daughters of ingratitude.

His "Merchant of Venice" is only a new pronouncement of the end of the old Mosiac law of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," and a perfect recognition of the new commandment given us that we love one another.

Last night I saw the white hand of Julia Marlowe fall beside the catafalque with the first faint stir of Juliet's returning life. Then the strong, sad lesson of Romeo and Juliet swept over me. Slowly the crimson tide of life was rising in this exquisite creature and the grief-blinded lover beside her could not see. To him she lay shrouded in the great stillness and, plunging the shining steel into his heart, he died.

So, across the centuries Shakespeare challenges life in the face of lost hope, at the end of despair and in the gloom of utter darkness. The draperies of night he lifts, the mask of the pale destroyer he tears away. His challenge is to life. "Wait," he cries, "the end is not yet. Life is large. Life is to be trusted. That is not a bier, but a chrysalis from which your dead hopes shall lift themselves upon wings of radiance. At the hour when darkness descends upon you with the mourning curtains of the night, draping you, the dawn of your brightest day is near the breaking. You shall not go down. You shall not be desolated; a little courage, my friend, at the crisis; you have only to look and live."

Romeo did not wait. Had he done so, the lesson would have been lost. A successful miracle here and the infinite yearning, stirring us all to compassion, would never have been felt in any breast. It was the magic of Shakespeare to set the world a weeping for centuries over the impatience and despair of one lover that we who are creatures of God's dream might, through the dream of Shakespeare, restrain ourselves at the seeming blur of our dead hopes and wait a little for the miracle of life, and its long healing to restore us to our own.

One minute more of believing and Romeo would have clasped his exquisite bride in his arms, and have led her out into the sunshine among the flowers. One day more of persistence and the efforts of all our eyes may come to happy fruition. We fail for a little patience, for a little trusting; we are those disciples of little faith who cannot watch with the Master for one brief hour.

Of course, the Majestic was crowded last night for Sothern as Romeo and Miss Marlowe as Juliet. Even the seats along the walls were taken. It will be the same next Monday. The world loves a lover and Los Angeles, with its ecstacy of roses and soft nights, is the very throne of love.

The balcony scene might have been staged by Shakespeare and, had he roamed the world these three centuries since first he pictured Juliet, he would have found none lovelier nor yet richer in quality for the part than the beautiful Marlowe whose grace so lent itself to the gentle daughter of Verona that she was like the spirit of another day.

I thought Sothern, lacking a little in joy, but Romeo, like the rest of us, never quite believed in the happiness he anticipated, so that he borrowed trouble from the stars and moved but falteringly toward the wonder of his dream come true. He was in that shadow which coming events cast and could not get his heart's consent to sing, so Sothern may be right.

Frederick Lewis gives us a Mercutio, altogether great. It is a brave part and Lewis is so gallant in it that he lives before us like one who had found a sustaining philosophy. He makes it of such abundant cheer that the lesson of his part is more vivid than that we are to learn from Romeo. It is profoundly happy and leaves its warmth and light when he has fallen like the afterglow of splendid sunset.

We are to see Sothern's Hamlet tonight. It is said to be the greatest of them all.

Since Woodrow.

When times are hard and money scarce
And sales almost unknown,
We pine for times when we were flush,
For cash that we have blown.

We think of things we'd like to do,
Of places where we went,
Of the good old times we used to have Before our cash was spent.

We curse our luck and hate to spend
The nickle and the dime,
Where we used to blow the 5-case note
And have a jolly time.

We feel we know the answer well
Of why the times are poor,
And feel that Woodrow Wilson is
The Cause and not the Cure.

The G.O.P. will do for ours
In future when we vote;
For we miss the Grand Old Party
Since Woodrow's got our goat.

ERWIN LEWIS.

Los Angeles, Jan. 8.

PAINFUL COMBINATION.

The painful effects of a combination of gasoline and a cigarette in the same hand was illustrated yesterday by J. de Baud, a chauffeur, 31 years old, of No. 137½ South Broadway. While cleaning a machine at No. 929 South Broadway about 5:30 o'clock he used some gasoline and failed to thoroughly remove the volatile substance from his hands before lighting a "nail." The results were called second-degree burns at the hospital, where the painful injuries were dressed.

WHAT'S A HAND WORTH?

An action was begun in the United States District Court yesterday by George Swanton against the Stone & Webster Construction Company for $11,680 for an injury to his left hand while in the employ of the company in ditch work in Fresno county.

Up and Down Broadway.

EVERYBODY BUSY WITH BIG PLANS FOR FEBRUARY.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

SAM HARRIS of the Western States Vaudeville Association reached town yesterday morning and all day long was in close conference with Lester Fountain, manager of the Hippodrome regarding the 1914 attractions and the possibility of building another theater in Los Angeles.

I asked him if he had anything to give out in the way of news and he replied, "Nothing except that I am tickled to death with the way our enterprise has gone here. We had hoped for it, but one likes to see the fulfillment of one's dreams."

Oliver Morosco was not available last night, and all because of an author's sewing circle in his office. With this new play by Mrs. Jaffa going on at the Burbank tomorrow, and "Pretty Mrs. Smith" in the offing, his private office has been chaotic for quite some time.

Not so that of Bachelor, ahead of "The Tik Tok Man," which follows Sothern and Marlowe at the Majestic. Last time Bach was out here he was with Eddie Foy, and the seven little Foys gave him all sorts of trouble. Now it is "where can I put all our girls," a question that arises because the "Candy Shop" girls are occupying all the convenient quarters in the vicinity of Eighth and Broadway.

Speaking of quarters reminds me that Gaby Deslys has promised some wonderful rag parties when she gets settled out in Hollywood, but in the meantime Will Wyatt is making a strong bid for first honors in that line with his between-act tangos.

So far I haven't seen anyone tango there, but the ragging is decidedly class, so none need worry.

I ran into Tommy Murphy on the street just after Pantages closed. My but he looked worried and when I asked the reason he replied, "Gee we have four shows tomorrow and I have to be on three minutes at each show. Believe me that is some hard work."

Which only goes to show that twenty rounds now and then can't be so very terrible.

Taylor Granville, now the eel at the Orpheum in "The System," is a real character. Once on a time he used to be top man in an acrobatic act, and by a strange coincidence Clarence Drown was manager of the show. Granville was a jockey, too, and declares he is well fitted to be cork of a champagne bottle.

What a small world it is. I dropped in to see Van Pelt at Harlows and found him talking to a lot of Japanese. Investigation developed that he met them in Tokio while advance agent for "The Great Raymond." They are all millionaire oil men and are here investigating California's oil industry. I would give you their names, but I can't spell them.

Len Behymer is all upset because there is only one more week of the "Mission Play." But then, he has Pavlowa to consol him.

And speaking of Behymer reminds me that he is making a desperate effort to get the church people to let him put on the great Wagnerian production of "Parsifal" in March. There is only one day when it is available for Los Angeles, and that happens to be a Sunday.

Unless the church allows him to put on the production on that date Los Angeles will not be able to have the show, as Mrs. Wagner in her contract stipulated Sunday for each performance. It would cost nearly $30,000 to make the Shrine Auditorium available.

Why, they permit Sunday concerts but bar "Parsifal" is something I can't figure, but that's how the matter stands right now.

BRAHMS QUINTETTE FIRST PUBLIC REHEARSAL.

Official Concert Tonight, With Miss Blanche Ruby, Soprano, as Soloist—Franz Egenieff, Eminent Baritone Soloist, Arrived Yesterday to Sing With Symphony.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

A broad smile illuminated the face of F. W. Blanchard, manager of the Brahms Quintette, after yesterday's public rehearsal at Blanchard Hall. The reason was easily found in observing that the first appearance of the quintette this season had brought out a larger audience than last year's best concerts.

The programmes of this chamber music organization are among the choicest given each season and are eagerly patronized by the discriminating lovers of real music.

This year the combination of talent composing the Brahms Quintette is especially happy. Years of study and several months of preparation enabled Oskar Seiling, Louis Rovinsky, Rudolf Kopp, Axel Simonsen and Homer Grunn to give an exquisite interpretation of two numbers of unusual brilliancy and of contrasting interest: String Quartette Op. 96 of Dvorak and the piano quintette F flat of Schumann.

The ensemble of the orchestra is delightful, especially in the pianissimi, while vigor, surety and technical fineness of execution combine to hold the audience's closest attention.

The repeated applause which greeted the work of the musicians was also generously given to Miss Blanche Ruby, soprano, who sang with great charm Gounod's aria from "Mireille," Duparc's "Chanson Triste" "Green" of Debussy and "Aubade" of Leoncavallo, and in answer to many recalls Beach's "The Year at the Spring."

Tonight the unusual programme will be repeated at Blanchard Hall as the official concert of the quintette.

Franz Egenieff.

A musician of note, who is also a titled German, arrived here today. He will be the artist soloist at the next concert of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra on January 23.

In private life this distinguished baritone is Baron von Kleydorff. He will be the house guest of Mrs. Adolphus Busch, to whom he is related by marriage, during his stay in California. His appearance in New York and St. Louis especially has created the most favorable impression, which has been duplicated wherever he has sung, insuring him a warm welcome here. He will materially contribute to the splendid achievement of the orchestra.

BY THE APPEAL COURT.

Superior Court Judgment in a Long Beach Assessment Case Reversed—Other Decisions.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday reversed the judgment of Superior Court Judge Wood in the action brought by the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway to have declared null and void a certain assessment levied on property of the company in Long Beach to provide for the construction of a combined bulkhead and sidewalk.

The suit was brought against H. L. Pillsbury, city tax and license collector of Long Beach, and the judgment in the lower court was in favor of the municipality. The property of the railroad company is situated within the assessment district provided for by resolution of the Long Beach common Council.

In the case of John H. Hobbs against D. A. Davis, the Tom Reed Gold Mine Company and others, the action of Judge W. M. Conley of the lower court, dismissing the suit, was affirmed. The case involved the purchase of certain shares of the Tom Reed mine. The demurrer of the defendants to the second amended complaint was sustained without leave to amend, and the action was ordered dismissed.

The court reversed the judgment of Superior Court Judge F. J. Oster of San Bernardino county, in favor of the plaintiff, in the action brought by W. H. Robinson and J. T. Bennette against James B. Bledsoe, to have the title to land secured by purchase from the State of California declared to be held in trust for the benefit of the plaintiffs, as tenants in common with the defendants.

The court affirmed the judgment of Superior Court Judge J. P. Wood in dismissing in favor of George J. Denis and others, an action brought against them by John Lapique.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

K. Hayashi, the young Japanese charged with forging the signature of another of the same name to a money order for $50, was bound over to the grand jury in a bond of $1000 by United States Commissioner Williams yesterday.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

Men were strongly in evidence at the Friday Morning Club yesterday—important, "sponsible and 'spectable lookin' men" as the old darky said—financiers, bankers, architects and business men, who were glad to accept the invitations of their wives and sisters in order to hear one of our leading bankers—J. F. Sartori—discuss "Currency Legislation."

The auditorium and gallery were filled, and the close and interested attention of the club members indicated that women have an interest in money matters other than the mere spending of it. Mrs. Seward Simons, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee, under whose auspices the programme was given, presided. In a carefully prepared paper Mr. Sartori explained in a clear and comprehensive way just what currency and banking legislation mean, discussing the establishment of the Federal reserve banks by the government, explaining the cause and effect of panics and money stringency, and and making plain many banking laws that, to me at least, had hitherto been a deep and dark mystery. Whereas heretofore I have been very indignant when my bank hesitated to accommodate me with a loan in stringent times, I now understand perfectly why it was—there's only so much gold reserve anyway, and when it's gone—why, it's gone—and that's all there is to it.

At the close of the address the audience was permitted to ask questions—an opportunity it was not slow to accept. The very first question fired at Mr. Sartori was this:

"Why did the local banks refuse the $1,000,000 reserve offer at the drop-moving time?"

"That offer was turned down," said Mr. Sartori, "on account of the difficult and technical conditions imposed. Of the $50,000,000 offered by the government, only about $34,000,000 were utilized," and he went on to explain all the red tape involved which, beside a lot of other things demanded the repayment of the loan in four payments on the 15th day of December, January and February respectively and March 1.

It isn't often that we women get a banker in captivity—where we can ask all the questions we want to—and we proposed to make the most of it and the air just bristled with interrogation points, but Mrs. Simons called us down and rigidly ruled that we must "keep to our text" and not go outside the subject of the morning—namely currency and banking legislation—so the woman who had asked "What is a clearing house?" had to withdraw her question.

The concensus of opinion after hearing the very illuminating address of Mr. Sartori, was that banks are not such soulless corporations after all, and it is rather due to defective laws which goven our financial system than to any personal animus on the part of the man who bosses our bank books, that we are periodically plunged into such abysmal depths of penniilessness. He exploded the theory too, that the bankers take a savage delight in hoarding our gold just when we most want it, and enlightened us on a lot of points that on which, I for one, was densely ignorant.

A tremendous and long-continued burst of applause emphasized the appreciation of the audience at the close of the address and after discussion.

A Poet With Us.

A more perfect exemplification of the gentle poet, the kindly philosopher, and keen and clever humorist you never met than our genial guest at the Friday Morning Club luncheon—James W. Foley—whose intensely human verse has touched us all. Los Angeles may congratulate herself in that she has won another genius, who will cast in his lot with us, for Mr. Foley and his charming wife are coming to reside permanently here. Not just now—they have come down from North Dakota to thraw out—will return in May, settle up their affairs, and then they are coming back for good and all and will set up their household goods in Los Angeles.

In introducing Mr. Foley as the after-luncheon speaker on Friday, the president, Mrs. Russell J. Waters, remarked that we seemed to be going to extremes in our topics—as money and poetry had no apparent connection—except, perhaps, that money can talk—and sometimes so loudly that we say "hush money."

"I don't know a blessed thing about currency," observed Mr. Foley as he rose to his feet, "I never had enough—the only thing that interests me is how to get it. When I heard there was a limit on borrowing, I lost all interest in this new currency legislation."

Dropping into a more serious vein he said, "After all, money is about the last object there ought to be in the world. What the world needs most is the real currency of kindness, and sympathy, and helpfulness. God didn't equip us all alike. To some he gave brains; to some a little tapioca, and to some a little vacuum."

In whimsical tones, and with that bland and child-like smile that charms, this man whose genius has put into poetry the simple rules of life as taught by the Great Teacher, delighted us for half an hour with his genial talk. Occasionally he lapsed into poetry—that delightful bit "Make Believe" where we all become children and play that all is fair, and love is everywhere—and that one about the homesick boys in college when if rained and, lastly, he concluded with "A Letter Home" which reflects so splendidly the spirit of the West. He had us shaking with laughter, eyes moistened with tender feeling, and hearts thrilled with fine purpose, as he led us from grave to gay.

Municipal Gravel Pit?

Councilman Reed has a new idea to solve the city's financial difficulties. He would establish a municipal sand and gravel pit, and has figured out that this would simply coin money for the city treasury. Reed wants the city to construct a railroad into the Los Angeles River bed in the southeasterly part of the city, using old equipment that has been in service on the Los Angeles aqueduct, and to open gravel and sand pits there, developing a regular commercial business on that line. Members of the Public Utilities Committee will go out soon to inspect the most desirable sites for such an enterprise. Thousands of loads of sand and gravel are being taken from the Los Angeles River bed each month, and without compensation to the city. Reed believes that the city should compete in this line of business, when it owns the source of supply.

WRIGLEY TALKS OF SOUTHLAND.

Chewing Gum Manufacturer Arrives With Retinue.

Pasadena People Are Only One-third Good.

Active Campaign for School Bonds Is Planned.

PASADENA, Jan. 10.—William Wrigley of Chicago, manufacturer of Spearmint chewing gum, and who for years has fought the chewing gum trust, and now calls himself the only independent manufacturer of that commodity, is to pass the winter in Pasadena. He arrived yesterday on the Santa Fe limited. In the party were Mrs. Wrigley, Miss Clara Albright, a secretary, and nine servants.

The family has taken a house in Altadena.

"I have come here to rest and do some horseback riding," said Wrigley last night. "This afternoon I went to Los Angeles and was greatly surprised at the growth of that city, which I had not seen for a number of years. The growth has been wonderful. I tell you, Southern California is the place to be. I intend to get in line and buy some property here myself before I leave. There is a wonderful future ahead for you.

"The habit of chewing gum is increasing constantly and enormously. It is surprising. This is especially true in America. The Americans are a nervous people and nervous people chew more gum. But the habit is not exclusively American. I recently made a trip around the world and I found that in India the habit of chewing gum was prevalent 300 years ago. They made the gum out of leaves and berries. It was a horrible mess. I am going to make some especially for them. It will be an improvement on this. I intend to make it out of red pepper and paint. They want something that will color their mouths. It makes people happy to chew gum, and, of course, that is a good thing for the chewing gum industry.

"Business conditions in the East are picking up. They have been a little bad, but are now improving.

"We expect to be in Pasadena until next April, and we know that we shall enjoy every minute of the time."

NEW FIGURES.

The church census that has just been completed in Pasadena shows that one out of every three residents of the city is a church member. The report of the committee that had charge of the work is as follows:

Population of Pasadena, 36,000; church population, 13,500; church percentage of total, 37½; children in Sunday schools, 8550; number of churches, forty-one; number of churches in census, twenty-six; denominations in Pasadena, seventeen; denominations helping, twelve; captains, fifty-three; workers, 500; houses visited, 7500; families having no church choice, 850.

The canvass was made under the direction of the pastors of the city and the Young Men's Christian Association.

RECOMMENDATION IS OPPOSED.

In compliance with his plan, announced the day before, City Health Officer Black yesterday asked the City Commission to appeal to Congress to close the Arroyo Seco to campers. Already opposition has been manifested and the commissioners expect still more. Nearly every member of the commission has had calls from owners of camps there protesting to any such action. One of those who called at the City Hall and objected yesterday is Rev. Frank G. H. Stevens, pastor of the Lake-avenue Methodist Church.

Commissioner Loughry finally announced that he and the other commissioners had come to the conclusion that they will make an investigation on their own part. They will go into the arroyo, probably in a body, and at an early date, and closely inspect conditions that obtain there.

It is the contention of Dr. Black that there is great danger of contamination of the city water, if it is not already being contaminated, and that there is imminent risk of a serious epidemic in the city in consequence.

FIRST MEETING IS SET.

Though the Board of Education has announced that it will not campaign for the school bonds, which are to be voted on for a second time on January 16, the Pasadena Parent-Teacher Federation will wage an active campaign.

The federation has called a meeting for next Monday, which will be the first one relating to the subject. Plans for the work that it will accomplish on election day will be made at this time. There will be no excuse of a stormy day keeping the voters away from the polls, as it did the first time. Many automobiles and carriages will be on hand and if there should be rain they will be sent around to the homes of those who do not show an inclination to venture out.

The grammar schools of the city were inspected yesterday by Superintendent of Schools Rhodes of the Pasadena district, and County Superintendent of Schools Keppel.

MANY WANT PATHS.

A number of prominent winter residents of Pasadena who are at the hotels have taken great interest in the recent suggestion made by John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company, to the City Commission, that bridle paths from the center of the city to the foothills be constructed. There is now a decided movement in this direction. W. L. Parrotte and I. C. Seamans, who are staying at the Hotel Green, are actively advocating the scheme.

The Commissioners have taken no action in the matter as yet. It was left in the hands of Commissioner Allin to make some recommendation as to what shall be done.

POLICE ON THE SCENT.

Chief of Police McIntyre and the members of the police force yesterday sniffed as they went about their rounds in an effort to detect a peculiar perfume and thereby catch a thief.

Some time the night before a bottle of perfume was stolen from the home of Mrs. C. A. Sampson, No. 396 Merry Den place. The house was entered presumably by means of a pass key, but nothing besides the perfume was taken.

A delicate odor of violet is the description given to the police on which to work.

WOULD HELP HIM.

Deputy City Attorney Howard has recommended to the City Commission that the sum of $500 be awarded C. L. Davis, a disabled former street-sprinkler driver, to pay for medical attention, and that he be further given a sum of $20 a month during his disability—which means for life.

The old man was incapacitated some time ago when the sprinkler toppled over as the horses ran away, and fell on him. He sued the contractor under whom he worked for damages and lost. Then he sued the city and lost.

INVESTIGATION FINISHED.

Expert Declares that N. A. Ulm Stole Fifty-three Thousand Dollars from Santa Ana Loan Association.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 9.—That the shortage of N. A. Ulm as secretary of the Orange County Mutual Building and Loan Association is fully $53,000 is the conclusion of F. W. Mansur, special deputy of the State Building and Loan Commissioner, in charge of the books of the association. Ulm committed suicide on the night of November 19, after his books were taken from him by the State Commissioner.

Mansur finds that the association owes the First National Bank $17,000. Shareholders with full paid-up stock have put in eighteen claims, totaling $31,500, and shareholders of installment stock have fifteen claims totaling $2375.37. Mansur estimates that there is $11,900 in stock for which claims have not been filed. The claims will total $62,350. As against that the association has only $9000 assets.

Where Ulm spent the money and for what, are mysteries that have not been cleared up.

PROTECT FRUIT.

J. A. McFadden, D. E. Huff and Willard Smith, as a committee of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, representing several citrus fruit associations, have asked the Board of Supervisors to have four deputy horticultural commissioners appointed to join with them in a campaign against citrus fruit pests. The committee declares that it will make concerted, persistent effort to make headway, and that County Horticultural Commissioner R. K. Bishop cannot attend to all the details of the campaign that the fruit growers want to carry on. The matter will come up before the Supervisors on January 13. The orange and lemon growers state that the reputation of Orange county fruit among eastern dealers is higher now than ever before, and that to maintain a position at the top the section must ship fruit guaranteed free from insect pests.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Santa Ana Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association has started in the new year energetically with the end in view of becoming more useful to its members. The association's system is protective, mainly against fake advertising schemes. The new directors are E. S. Gilbert, E. B. Smith, R. M. Morrill, Walter Vandermast, A. N. Zerman, P. G. Beisel and E. A. White. Gilbert is president. A secretary will be elected next week.

We take the risk of its being abused: we ask the grocer to return a dissatisfied customer's money if she doesn't like Schilling's Best; let her keep the goods; and sell her again.

CUPID'S FOES ARE PLACED IN JAIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BEAUMONT, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By invoking the aid of the law and causing the arrest of the stepfather, uncle and great-uncle of his intended bride, Concepcion Guerra paved the way for his marriage here today to Miss Lucia Lopez, aged 20, to whom he has been engaged for the past year. The girl's relatives opposed the match and for a week have prevented Miss Lopez from communicating with her sweetheart, threatening him with personal violence in case he attempted to enter her home.

Yesterday Guerra swore to a complaint against the three men, charging them with unlawfully restraining the girl. They were arrested and taken to the Riverside County Jail.

Free from their interference, he today successfully renewed his suit of the fair Miss Lopez and the couple were married here by Justice W. A. Sewell.

Following the ceremony Guerra withdrew his complaint and the charges against his newly-made relatives were dismissed.

ELIGIBLE FOR PENSIONS.

Riverside Instructors Find That They Have Been Directing Young Minds the Required Time.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 9.—It develops that there are a number of teachers in the city who are eligible under the new law providing for retirement salaries, to retire under the maximum salary of $500 per year, which is paid after thirty years' service. So far as reports have been published, this county leads the State in the number of acceptances of the provisions of the new act. Of the 110 teachers in the city schools, ninety-five have either signed up in accordance with the law's provisions, or come automatically under the same. The proportion in the county, outside the city, is represented by 155 teachers out of 175. Eighty-seven per cent. of the teachers of the county will be under the provisions of the law.

On the suggestion of Past Grand Master W. W. Phelps, the members of Riverside Lodge No. 282, I.O.O.F., the largest lodge in California, has decided on a banquet to be held on the 20th inst. The report of the officers shows that the lodge has assets in the amount of $54,000, with no indebtedness. On this showing, it was the consensus of opinion that a banquet was in order. Officers elected for the current term include E. J. Saunders, N. G; W. W. Squires, V. G.; A. A. Piddington, Recording Secretary; J. F. Reimer, Financial Secretary, and W. D. McDonald, Treasurer.

The wife of U. S. Kaneko, for many years a resident of this city and proprietor of the Golden State Hotel, on Eighth street, died Wednesday at Hollywood, where she had been spending a few weeks. The body will be brought to this city for interment. Kaneko stands high in the estimation of Japanese statesmen in his own country. His children were educated in the local schools, and are valued assistants in the carrying on of his business interests here.

For the reason, as he alleges, that a span of horses he purchased were not merely well-broken, according to agreement, but wind-broken as well, William D. Bethell is seeking to recover $500 from D. M. McLarty in a desert horse deal. Judge Desmore is wrestling with the intricacies of the deal.

MUNICIPAL SAFE IS LOCKED.

Former Mayor of Santa Monica Says It Was Always Accessible During His Term.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 9.—Many important municipal matters are held in abeyance because the big safe in Mayor Dudley's office is locked, and no one can be found who knows the combination. It was closed by Miss Bertha Chase, former Mayor Dow's secretary, and Mrs. Edith Vejar, the new Secretary to the Mayor, vainly endeavored to open it today.

Mayor Dow and Miss Chase were hastily summoned, but each denied knowledge of the combination of the safe. Mayor Dow stated that it had never been locked in his term of office, and Miss Chase said the combination was on a slip of paper inside the safe. The magic series of figures was also placed on a corner of the Mayor's room and on the back of a map which formerly hung in the City Engineer's office. The Mayor's office has been recently plastered and the map has disappeared. Many important public and private documents are in the safe, and it may become necessary to force it open tomorrow.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A competent landscape engineer, probably Louis LeGrande of Los Angeles, will be secured to lay out a system of parks for Santa Monica. Members of the Park Commission met this morning and decided on this course. They appointed Sutherland Hutton to interview LeGrande. Seventh-street Park especially needs improvement, and the Commissioners expect to make the parks here beautiful for the spring of 1915.

The unemployed of the beach, of which there are, happily, few, will be taken care of by work on the Santa Monica auto road race course. It has been decided to improve the course its full width of sixty feet, instead of thirty, as heretofore. Grand stands and other structures, too, will be built by the city and will give work to many carpenters.

Jaben Blackhurst, aged 70 years, for forty-nine years a Methodist minister, died today at his home, No. 419 Wilshire boulevard. He has made his home here for nine years, coming here from Banning. He leaves a widow, four daughters and two sons.

Petitions are in circulation asking that the Chiaffarelli band, recently employed at Venice, be given a tryout when it comes time for a selection of a municipal band.

Long Beach.

MAYOR ISSUES A STATEMENT.

Long Beach Executive Says Barbour Is to Blame.

One Resignation Results from the Peculiar Mixup.

Former Postmaster Presents Interesting Figures.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 9.—"The opposition to the appointment of James C. Beer as a member of the Board of Public Works may be traced directly to H. P. Barbour," said Mayor L. N. Whealton this afternoon. "It is a personal matter and Mr. Barbour is trying every way in his power to discredit Mr. Beer."

The Mayor insists that he will continue to nominate Beer at every meeting of the City Council until the nomination is accepted or until the public service begins to suffer. Just what the Mayor may do in the latter event Whealton refused to state, but friends of the administration intimate that the recall may be put into effect against certain members of the Council. The row between the Mayor and the Council regarding the nomination of a member of the Board of Public Works presents many peculiar phases.

The Mayor has placed Beer in a most embarrassing position and, while the nominee does not desire the office, he does not care to face the odium of being rejected "by the representatives of the people." Councilman Stevens stated that he would publicly defend the honesty and integrity of Mr. Beer. Wollbrink, as president of the City Council, said that he did not know Beer by sight but was convinced as to his honesty. C. J. Walker, who resigned on account of the squabble, and who sent a check for $1000 to defray the expense of an election to fill his place, asserted that the honesty of Beer had never been questioned. Of these three men, along with Councilmen Beatty and Moist, bitterly fought the Mayor's choice and refused to give any other excuse, other than "Beer is a hard man to get along with." It is also claimed that they have no personal animosity to Mr. Beer.

Members of the City Council do not believe that Walker will reconsider his resignation, but whether or not they would, or could, accept his money to defray the expense of a special election, is still an open question. Mr. Walker was not at the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank either yesterday or today, and it is believed that he has gone out of town.

POSTOFFICE FIGURES.

George F. Hirsch, former postmaster, who was removed from office in order to place a Democrat on the government pay roll, has issued some most interesting figures regarding the growth of the Long Beach postoffice during his term of service. When Hirsch took charge the receipts were $5000 a year; when he retired they amounted to $14,000 a month. The year 1913 showed an increase of 23½ per cent. over that of the previous year. The receipts for 1913 amounted to $98,762.44, and the money handled to $697,279.25. There were 35,478 packages delivered each Christmas and the cost of delivering, all expenses considered, amounted to only 2 cents for each package.

HAIRY PEST.

The silent, hairy individual who has given the police so much trouble for the last two days, is still in the police station and the officers are at a loss as to how to get rid of him. He was arrested Wednesday and for twenty-three hours he refused to eat or speak. He was then taken to the city limits and told to "beat it." By 3 o'clock he was back in the City Hall. He was again expelled from the city, but an hour later entered the police station, and not waiting to be searched, handed over the contents of his pockets to the man at the desk. He has been in a padded cell for more than twenty-four hours, but refuses to eat or make any explanation of his strange conduct. Physicians have pronounced the man sane, so the police cannot send him to the County Hospital.

NEWS BRIEFS.

"Old Bill," the pet pelican of the Pine-street pier, has returned after an absence of nearly one year. Bill comes here to meet the eastern tourists and leaves when those who have sought this balmy clime return to their homes. This afternoon Bill posed for his photograph, ate many pieces of fish that were presented by admirers, and generally enjoyed himself.

HETCH HETCHY SUIT.

San Francisco City Attorney Declares the Power Interests Are Back of the Litigation.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—That the power interests are back of the proposed litigation to prevent San Francisco from proceeding to carry out its plan to derive a water supply from the Hetch Hetchy Valley was the opinion expressed today by Percy V. Long, City Attorney for San Francisco.

Litigation to oppose San Francisco's right to construct a dam by which the storm waters of the Tuolumne River will be impounded, is to be begun shortly by Theodore A. Bell, who represents irrigation districts and water users' associations in the San Joaquin Valley.

"It is absurd," said Long, "to view seriously the contention that the farmers are to be deprived of the natural flow of the Tuolumne River for irrigation purposes. The farmers have never used as much water as we are willing to reserve for them and as use is the measure of rights to water, they can claim no more.

"The power interests realize that San Francisco has a valuable power site in the Hetch Hetchy and for this reason they will make every effort to keep the city out of the valley. They fear the people will learn how cheaply power can be generated and sold. We are not worrying over the situation and when the time arrives we will meet Mr. Bell's attack on the city's rights."

FRATERNAL CELEBRATION.

Three Cities Join in Installation Ceremonies at Ontario and a Merry Time Was the Result.

ONTARIO, Jan. 9.—The Ontario Knights of Pythias will set down last night as one of the big events in the history of the local lodge. Joint installation of officers was held, the lodges of Pomona and Chino being the guests of the Ontario Knights.

The installation ceremonies were among the most largely attended ever held here. They were followed by a banquet at which many interesting speeches were listened to.

The officers who will serve the local lodge during the coming year include: Chancellor Commander, A. J. Stratmann; Vice-Chancellor, Francis J. Dysart; Prelate, George W. Sherman; Master of Works, Paul Bodenhamer; Master of the Exchequer, E. C. Blain; Master of Finance, Robert O. Brackenridge; Keeper of Records and Seals, James A. Young; Master-at-Arms, Charles S. LAND OWNERS WIN ONE POINT.

LEGAD BATTLE AT SANTA ANA WAXES HOT.

Water Users Have Organized an Association to Fight Promoters to the Last Ditch and Present Trial Is Only a Preliminary Skirmish. Bull Moosers Meet Today.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 9.—The fight between the Yorba Linda land owners and the promoters of the tract, who sold off the land, but retained control of the Yorba Linda Water Company, which supplies the 3000 acres of the tract with water, had a day in the Superior Court here today. One point, the first raised, was won by the land owners. Attorneys Haas and Dunnigan, representing the defendants, Jacob Stern, M. N. Newmark, H. W. Frank and the Janss interests, lost their motion for a change of venue to Los Angeles county, in which all of the defendants reside or have their places of business. Attorneys Heney and Carr appeared for the land owners.

A demurrer alleging that the complaint was uncertain, was argued for about four hours today by Haas and Heney. Haas declared in the course of his argument that the contention of the water users that the Yorba Linda Water Company had increased its stock and had issued $175,000 bonds without receiving any consideration whatever, was no ground for legal action as these things were done and of public record before the buyers of land at Yorba Linda got their land.

The water users have organized an association to fight the promoters to the last ditch. They ask the courts to compel the Yorba Linda Water Company and the promoters to provide the tract with the full amount of water promised.

The intense feeling between the land owners and the promoters broke loose at the annual meeting of the stockholders held in Los Angeles last Monday. The water users elected two directors, I. B. Welch and I. S. Beal, and the opponents, five, Jacob Stern, H. W. Frank, M. N. Newmark, Edwin Janss and Harold Janss. C. H. Seamans, secretary of the Yorba Linda Water Users' Association, made a motion that the attorney of the water company be instructed to proceed in the courts to have the $175,000 bonds, issued to the Janss Investment Company, cancelled. Seamans's resolutions alleged the bonds to be fraudulent and issued without any consideration whatever. On the vote every water user voted in the affirmative, and the Janss interests voted no, defeating the motion easily.

A large portion of the 3000 acres comprising the Yorba Linda tract, located on high frostless land near the mouth of the Santa Ana Canyon, has been set to oranges and lemons.

BULL MOOSERS' MEETING.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the Republican County Central Committee, composed of followers of Hiram Johnson, is to hold a meeting to shuffle off the name of epublican, preparatory to a meeting of Progressives called for 2:30 o'clock to form a Progressive Central Committee. The meeting is to be addressed by Francis J. Heney of San Francisco and Chester H. Rowell of Fresno. Heney, who was in court here today, said he had not heard whether or not Rowell would oppose him for the Progressive nomination for United States Senator. When asked if he had anything to say concerning the denial of Gov. Johnson that he is back of Heney's candidacy, Heney said he had nothing to say today, but might have something to say about it tomorrow.

OKLAHOMA TRIPLETS.

The Board of Supervisors has heard from another set of triplets. This time they are in Oklahoma, and the letter is a gem. A few weeks ago the Supervisors voted $100 to Otto Summers of the San Joaquin ranch for the benefit of triplet boys. Summers was reported to the board as in hard circumstances, and the unexpected increase to his family was an emergency that called for help. The report went out that the board had made an offer of $100 to triplets born in Orange county. The members of the board say there was some such talk for a joke, but nothing went down on the minutes. However, the word went out in the newspapers. The Beaver triplets, aged 3, of West Anaheim, applied for the reward. Today the board received a letter from Naples, Okla., which follows, punctuated and spelled as it was received:

"NAPLES Okla Jan the 4 1914

SOUTH PASADENA BOY KILLED.

SOUTH PASADENA, Jan. 9.—[By A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] Cut to badly-frozen feet and shoes to shreds, Sherman Freeman, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Freeman, No. 1413 Oak street, succumbed at 1 o'clock this morning to pneumonia. Motorcycle Officer Cooper found the boy in Indiana Court, after a week of search through canyons and over mountain peaks in a state of exhaustion. He carried their homes in this city. The Young Freeman will be buried from the house for some time at 2 o'clock this afternoon. As a result of his journey, which he undertook though exhausted, it was the first time for his unusual experience. The two boys left home December 27 with a camping outfit and provisions for an outing in the San Gabriel mountains. While away they decided to climb to the top of one of the mountains, and on the way up reached the snow line, which was a new experience for the man. At the top they were in over their feet of snow. On their return they became lost, and for a time during the night wandered about in the snow, finding the right trail when daylight was found. When the boys left home, it is said, their appearance bore little evidence of cold and a search lasting for days was instituted by the parents of the young men were on the lookout for them. Freeman was immediately placed under the care of a physician, who pronounced his case serious.

TO BUILD GREAT HOTEL.

Los Angeles Man Promotes Proposition at Pomona to Construct a Magnificent Hostelry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

POMONA, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement was made here today by the hotel committee of the Chamber of Commerce and T. W. Newman of Los Angeles, hotel promoter, that a $250,000 hotel and theater, covering the old site of the Palomares Hotel on Garey avenue, will be erected as soon as preliminary arrangements can be completed.

Mr. Newman and his backers will furnish $175,000 and $75,000 will be raised locally for stock in the hostelry, $50,000 of this to furnish the site at present owned by Dr. W. Fundenburg.

The hotel will be strictly modern in character and will contain 100 rooms, large dining-rooms, ballroom and theater. The general plan of the structure is similar to that of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, modified to meet the needs of this locality. The committee, of which D. C. Crookshank is chairman, has been working on the project to interest capital in the enterprise for some time. Completion of the hostelry will mark a new era in Pomona.

Mrs. Anna F. Smith died suddenly here from heart failure after having alighted from an electric car at the corner of Garey avenue and Alvarado street, returning from a trip to Claremont. Mrs. Smith was 51 years old and had lived here for four years. She was a sister of Mrs. Fred Kaltenbeck of Hotel Casa Loma, Redlands, and a relative of G. L. Frisbee of this city. Coroner's inquest will be held here tomorrow.

TOM LAWSON EXPECTED.

Noted Bostonian Slated to Address the Redlands Chamber of Commerce—Short News Stories.

REDLANDS, Jan. 9.—Thomas W. Lawson of Boston may be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the local Chamber of Commerce, which will take place at the Casa Loma Hotel January 13 or 15. Through George W. Wilder of this city, President Chubb is trying to make the necessary arrangements.

E. J. Ridgway of the Ridgway Publishing Company, with whom Wilder is associated in business, will arrive here January 13 on his way to Los Angeles to visit Wilder, and it is probable that Mr. Lawson will accompany him.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The City Council is tired of trying to regulate the rates charged by public utility corporations, and decided yesterday afternoon to turn the matter over to the State Railroad Commission, if voters approve. The proposition will be submitted at the city election April 13. There is some demand for a reduction in the rates charged by the gas, electric and telephone companies doing business here, but the task of making an investigation of the subject is such a big one that the city officials wish to sidestep it.

An active campaign will be started within the next few weeks for raising $75,000 to $100,000 for the erection of a new Y.M.C.A. building. It will be strictly up-to-date, having dormitories, swimming pool, men's club rooms, Turkish baths, outdoor handball courts and other features of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. building. There will also be two tennis courts the equal of those at the Virginia Hotel at Long Beach. The City Council yesterday afternoon bought the present Y.M.C.A. building for $25,000, and leased it to the Y.M.C.A. for a year. At the expiration of that time it is expected the association will be in its new quarters, and the present building will be remodeled for City Hall purposes.

TELL OF CHRISTMAS TREE.

Woman's Million Club Receives Reports of Committees in Charge of Central Park Affair.

At the first meeting since the year of the Womans' Million Club, held yesterday, Rev. Baker P. Lee of Christ Episcopal Church complimented the members on their work in giving Los Angeles its first municipal Christmas tree, and asked to be allowed to co-operate with them in making the tree next year bigger and more heavily laden, if possible.

Reports from the various Christmas tree committees were read, telling of the manner in which 5000 children were made happy by gifts of toys and candies. A special Building Committee was appointed to arrange for the leasing of a downtown building, a fund for which has already been started.

A poem written by Mrs. M. H. Pehr, descriptive of the activities which resulted in the providing of the Christmas tree and giving credit to the many contributors, was read and applauded.

RIOTERS' CASES CONTINUED.

"Unemployed" of San Francisco Said by Police to Follow Agitators Who Have No Wish to Work.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Every seat in Judge Crist's Police Court was filled today with the unemployed and the corridors of the Hall of Justice were packed with idle men when the six men arrested in yesterday's riots were brought to bar. Judge Crist continued the cases one week.

Police Chief White said today he believes that a small minority of the unemployed was responsible for the disorders last night.

"Among them is a group of agitators," he said, "not over 500 or 600, led by only three or four, who are determined not to be satisfied. I blame these for yesterday's riots. I have heard these three or four leaders repeatedly advocate violence, and anger the police by declaring they were afraid to make arrests.

"Because of the activities of these few I have given orders that the unemployed shall not be permitted to parade or assemble except by special permit. I shall observe this attitude for several days and await results. The important thing is that the man who wants work shall be given it immediately. Seven thousand have registered for work at 20 cents an hour. The agitators have demanded $3 a day and meal tickets on restaurants. Free meals, they contend, are debasing charity and they have boycotted the free eating-houses established for their relief."

Five women, addressing a crowd in Portsmouth Square, opposite the City Jail, where Thorn was held, succeeded in raising $250, enough to bail him out.

Before he was liberated, Lieut. Tobin of the police department called him before him, in the presence of the police reporters and asked him how he had been treated.

"Never better in my life," said Thorn.

Parcel Post Man Hires a Wagon to Transport Tons of Ore and Timothy Seed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Jan. 9.—Postoffice inspectors received today telephone calls from worried rural delivery carriers asking aid. The carriers who ride horseback from Paradise, Or., to Anatone, Wash., eighteen miles, notified the inspectors that a man at Paradise is ready to ship 2600 pounds of timothy seed by parcel post. The carrier at Elk City, Idaho, telephoned that mine owners had three carloads of concentrated ore ready for shipment by parcel post to the smelter, a distance of sixty miles over mountain roads.

The inspectors have put in a requisition for teams to help out the Idaho carrier.

BUYS M'LAUGHLIN TRACT.

Louis Titus of San Francisco to Spend Half-Million Dollars to Improve Stockton Land.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was announced today that the big McLaughlin tract near Tracy has been purchased by Louis Titus of San Francisco. It is also said that Titus will spend at least $500,000 for improvements. The tract involves perhaps close to 12,000 acres and is known in Stockton as the Crocker-Winship property. There are some 8000 acres under cultivation, while about 4000 acres are unreclaimed. The price was not stated.

Dr. Wright Must Serve Term.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Dr. Alvin H. Wright, convicted of second-degree murder a year ago and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for causing the death of Mrs. Hattie F. Brown of San Francisco, must serve his term, the Supreme Court today having affirmed the sentence.

Councilmen Targets.

United States National Bank, declared he and Mr. Hellman will gladly lend the city $500,000 to purchase the Bullard Block, and beginning early next fall we can remove the city offices to that place and then start the construction of the new City Hall on the Temple Block site and include the Bullard Block. He opposed the removal of offices to the Normal building on the ground that "once you place them there certain interests will see to it that they are always kept there." Hellman and several others said the same thing.

Councilman Whitten declared the municipality should not put the City Hall on the Normal School grounds if desired, because it was purchased for another purpose, namely for a public auditorium and library. Whitten is in favor of building a new City Hall on the present City Hall site. Councilman Reed also favors this proposition. Councilman Conwell declared "the city is in duty bound to build the new City Hall on Temple Block," and Betkouski held likewise.

"I think it an outrage to even discuss building the new City Hall any other place than on the Temple Block," said M. H. Newmark. "I view this proposition in this manner: the city entered into a contract with some other people who were acting in good faith to effect an improvement, and the people collected a sum of money for this purpose, and now certain people propose to have the city violate its moral obligation. It's so vicious a scheme that I don't want to discuss it further."

NO SELFISHNESS.

Hellman and Newmark declared they do not own property in the northeast or northwest part of the city. "My property is all south of Third street," said Hellman, "and I am not prompted in this matter by selfish motives."

Frank Allender, notorious Socialist, endeavored to "butt in" and break up the meeting, but Mayor Rose promptly squelched him and he sat down quietly, after getting rid of several reams of soap-box fireworks.

Near the end of the meeting Richard W. Kelly of the North-East-West Commercial and Improvement Association moved that certain city offices be removed to the Normal School site. It was seconded and after a few scattering verbal interruptions, went through. "Of course the vote taken means absolutely nothing," said Conwell after adjournment. "We just want to get an idea of the sentiment on this question."

Brundige and Bryant left after consulting with a Councilman or two.

GOATS ARRESTED.

BURBANK, Jan. 9.—The City Marshal has arrested the goats of H. Lemert of East Eleventh street for disturbing the peace of the surrounding ranchers. After Lemert's supply of tuna canes had been exhausted, the goats, in dire want, invaded the Japanese garden near-by. The Japs went after the goats' goat, but the goats got the Japs' goat. A general Japanese stampede was enacted and Constable Purrier was called upon to quell the riot. Marshal Purrier's valor resulted in the impounding of the rebellious goats.

Give Your Blood A GOOD Searching Bath

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these conditions could be averted were the blood primed, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferments from undigested food, constipation and inactive kidneys.

The symptoms of fever, thirst, excitability, dry skin followed by rash, and many indications are often wrongly diagnosed as Ptomaine poisoning. Many people who act hastily from violent temper are simply suffering from the effects of poisoned blood, produced by faulty elimination. But by far the greatest peril is the daily danger from bruises, contusions, the scratch of a rusty nail, and vocational poisoning.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well balanced health as are the nutritive properties of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pimples, Boils and thin anemic blood, but you will feel anew the thrill of health than can come only from a purified blood stream.

Do not accept anything else in place of S. S. S. | pay no attention to the "Just as Good" claims of those who would sacrifice your health to make an extra profit. S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beneficial materials. So be sure and get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. WATER IS KING!

Reproduced From Actual Photograph of Pumping Plant.

THIS splendid pumping plant comprises two wells, a centrifugal pump, electric motor, all complete and in perfect running order; pumping approximately 85 inches of water at a cost of 25 cents an hour.

Located on 40 acres of fine land that will grow anything from alfalfa to Valencia oranges; with small house and barn; situated on main county road and on Southern Pacific railroad, only one mile from the Pacific Electric and the town of Stanton.

This well equipped property is now rented for $25 an acre. I offer the entire tract, including absolute title to water, for only

$500 PER ACRE

The land is rapidly developing into suburban property, and is increasing in value in proportion. It presents a magnificent opportunity to farm profitably, to make an ideal suburban home, and a splendid investment. Terms if desired.

Don't Fail to Investigate. It is a Proposition that Should be Eagerly Snapped Up.

I also have a few five acre lots adjoining the above property, with water in cement pipes, at $500 an acre. See them.

WHEN you buy one thing and get another, through fraud, you're buncoed, whether you buy a gold brick or a suit of clothes.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes have such a wide reputation for value that some dealers have been led to stultify themselves and mislead the public by trading on the popularity of our name.

They obtain a few of our goods in some indirect way and then make a flaring announcement to sell them at ridiculously low prices

When you are offered Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes by such dealers at such prices, you'd better go slow.

The object may be to get you to come in for Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes and then sell you something else. The safe way is to buy only of our regular, recognized dealers.

We appreciate the confidence which the public feels in us and in our goods, and we make this announcement to enlighten you and to prevent deception.

BUYING ORDERS WORRY BEARS.

BULLS RESIST EFFORTS TO DEPRESS THE LIST.

Traders Appear Willing to Withhold Action Until After President Wilson's Message Settles His Position—Southern and Southwestern Railroads Show Strength.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Movements of the leading stocks today were a bold within a narrow limit. At the outset prices eased off moderately, but bear traders encountered buying orders when they attempted to depress the list further, and the market improved. Shares of the southern and southwestern railroads and of the fertilizer companies were influenced favorably by the cotton ginning report. American Agricultural Chemical, Cotton Oil, Texas Pacific, Southern Railway and Missouri Pacific moved upward in the early market. Missouri Pacific's advance was associated with the showing of pronounced strength made by the company's short-term notes. Tobacco stocks made large gains. New York Central was heavy all through the day, although pressure apparently due to short selling rather than to liquidation. The quotation dropped to 89½, the lowest figure since 1907. An outline of anti-trust bills to be placed before Congress appeared shortly before the close and was made the basis of some professional selling. Estimate of tomorrow's bank statement, based on known movements of currency, called for an exceptionally good report. Indications were that the gain this week would be larger than in recent years. An increase of about $25,000,000 in cash holdings was indicated. Bonds showed an improved tendency, although there was pressure in spots. Total sales, par value, $3,969,000. United States 4's registered advance ¼ on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 115 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The curb market quieted down today, although oils were active in spots. Standard of New Jersey advanced sharply, but reacted on profit taking. Mining stocks were featureless. Boston coppers opened very quiet with the volume of business small. Changes were fractional and toward lower prices. After initial losses quotations were held. The afternoon market was dull, with no perceptible changes.

NEW YORK LETTER.
SMALL PRICE CHANGES.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchange, Bradbury bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Price changes were irregular. The disposition seemed to be to await the President's message, which is scheduled to appear next Wednesday, and also to gain further light on prospective trust legislation. Missouri Pacific was somewhat stronger in response to unofficial reports that arrangements are in progress tending toward the extension of the company's notes, which mature in June. On the other hand, New York Central was under pressure, as that road has large obligations maturing the current year, and as yet nothing definite has been said relative to the terms on which refunding operations are likely to be conducted. According to forecasts the banks have gained on the week's current movements $20,000,000 cash, so that the prospects suggest a strong exhibit Saturday.

Santa Monica.

BEACH TOWN LETS CONTRACT.

CITY ORDERS THE IMPROVEMENT OF EIGHTH STREET.

Venice Will Improve the Continuation of the Same Thoroughfare, but Will Call It Lincoln Boulevard — Beaumont Postoffice Receipts Show Improvement.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 9.—The contract has been awarded for some of the most extensive and needed street improvement work ever undertaken. The cost to the city of Santa Monica is estimated at approximately $22,000. Over one mile of paved street will be put in, together with curbing and sidewalks. Eighth street, for so long a muddy road, will soon present an appearance like most of the downtown streets. This back country territory will be opened to travel and realty values will gradually soar.

In Venice the continuation of this street will be worked out and named Lincoln boulevard, from the mountains to the marshes. Venice will improve in the same manner as the northern city. Automobiles will be able to cross without having to go via the narrow Speedway and other roads. Motorists who desire to go to Santa Monica via Venice will not have to go through the beach business districts, but cut off on Washington road and cross back country over to Santa Monica. With the completion of the paving of Fremont this will make one of the best drives in the bay district.

BUILDING ACTIVITY.

At Eighth and Fremont is the new High School. Fremont runs from the ocean east. Eighth will be paved. The car line is on this street and it is thought that in the near future an extension of this line will be made so that a circuit will be completed, having Venice, Santa Monica and possibly Del Rey, as the main stopping points. This car line runs already within a mile of Venice, and its extension is only a matter of time. Work will be in progress at the same time on the paving of Fremont avenue for a distance of three miles at a cost of $100,000.

Building is forging ahead and the once vacant tracts are being subdivided and lots sold. Many houses are being built and a general improvement of the back country being made.

ACTIVITY AT BEAUMONT.

BEAUMONT, Jan. 9.—The sale of one of the principal unimproved business corners of the city was consummated today by J. Drew Funk, who purchased it from Donald McDonald of Pomona. The lot is situated at the corner of Egan avenue and Fifth street, opposite the Southern Pacific Railway station. Mr. Funk states that he will improve it with a reinforced concrete building to contain six storerooms fronting on Egan avenue. Work will commence on the building at an early date.

Good progress is being made in the work on the new Carnegie public library in this city, which was started Monday. The excavation is completed and the foundation well under way. The building is to be constructed of reinforced concrete and when completed and furnished will cost in excess of $10,000.

The receipts of the Beaumont postoffice for the year 1913 total $8,925.72, showing a gain over the preceding year of about 2 per cent. During the first half of 1913 a decrease was shown, but the second six months more than made up the deficit. The December, 1913, receipts were 20 per cent. higher than during the same month of 1912, and are the highest of any month in the history of the local office.

The residence of J. M. Long, at the corner of Orange avenue and Thirteenth street, has been purchased by J. D. Funk, who will occupy it. This is one of the best residences in the city. Mr. Long, the former owner, now lives in Los Angeles.

Work was started this week on the power transmission line of the Southern California Edison Company, which is to be extended to this city. W. L. Frost, district manager of the company, states that the company will be able to furnish Beaumont with electricity by Washington's Birthday. The line is being run to Beaumont direct from the two power houses in Mill Creek Canyon.

FULLERTON PROGRESS.

FULLERTON, Jan. 9.—Building Inspector Schumacher has made his report on buildings erected in Fullerton during the year 1913. Of the 145 permits issued, fifty were for residences, nineteen for buildings of various purposes, seventeen for additions, one for a warehouse and four for alterations, eighteen for barns and garages, four for business blocks, one for a hospital and one for the grammar school. The money expended for buildings during the year was $325,565.93, against a total of $120,641.50 for 1912, or a gain of about 250 per cent.

Postmaster Edwards has just completed his report, which shows that the cash receipts of the office for the year ending December 31, 1913, were $12,889.53, against $11,846.02 for the year ending December 31, 1912. The net gain is $1043.51, which makes a good showing for this city.

Former Supervisor D. S. Linebarger has purchased the Fullerton livery stable from Charles Linebarger and will continue the business here.

IMPERIAL VALLEY NOTES.

According to announcement this morning from the offices of the Mutual Water Companies, preparations are in rapid progress for the repair work on the main canals of the California Development Company's system in Mexico. Negotiations are being made with Receiver Holabird for the use of his machinery, and material is being gathered for the work. It is now confidently believed that the repair work will be completed in time to prevent any serious scarcity of water in any part of the valley, as was at first feared.

Work has begun in Imperial on the work of paving the streets and putting in curbs and sidewalks. The work will take several months before it is finished, during which time the city will expend about $125,000 on it.

Twenty-six carloads of freight left the Southern Pacific Station at Imperial yesterday for points on the Coast.

HARBOR ITEMS.

For the first time in many months there is not a steam schooner in port tonight. The steamer Santa Rosa sailed for San Francisco to go in dry dock and the only lumber carrier remaining in the harbor is the schooner Lucy, which arrived this afternoon from Umpqua River with 400,000 feet of lumber for the Ferckhoff-Cuneo yard. The Lucy was twenty-one days coming down the coast, but experienced no difficulty in the storm last week. She encountered after the storm for eight days and lost her foresail. Eight steamers in the harbor bar-bound on account of rough weather on the northern coast are expected here the first of the week with lumber cargoes.

Three passenger steamers arrived today. The Yale brought passengers and freight from San Diego for the Pacific Navigation Company and proceeded to San Francisco. The Queen of the Pacific Coast Line arrived from San Francisco and will proceed to San Diego tomorrow. The Santa Clara arrived from San Francisco and sailed tonight for return with freight and passengers for the North Pacific line.

Shortage of fuel brought the steamer Willapa back from Redondo Beach today. After replenishing her supply, she returned to complete discharge of her lumber cargo there.

R. V. Harris is the new manager for the Marconi wireless station here. He came from San Francisco and succeeds William Friend, who has been transferred to Eureka.

Thirty unemployed longshoremen found work today as "stuff" pirates for a moving picture concern, which staged a scene upon the breakwater. After a hand-to-hand fight on the deck, in which red paint flowed freely and many tissue paper wounds were exposed. Another scene was taken at the corner of Fourth and Beacon streets, where another hand-to-hand encounter in the "slums" brought a crowd that blocked the street for half an hour.

In New York copper, January, February, March and April was offered at 14 cents. Tin was firm, with spot to February at 39.75@37.00; March at 36.85@37.10; April at 37.00@37.12. Lead was at 4.10@4.15 and spelter at 5.20@5.35.

One of the largest consumers of copper says: "It is my opinion that a large percentage of copper exports last month were shipped on consignments. In other words the copper is being held in storage abroad to sell when a demand is created for the metal. If such large amounts of copper had not been exported on consignment the increase in the domestic surplus in January would have been much larger than the 45,000,000 pounds reported."

The Amalgamated Smelting and Refining Company has reduced its price for lead from 4.15 cents to 4.10 cents.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchange, Bradbury Building, Los Angeles.]

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Opening prices were slightly lower, but very little stock came out and prices strengthened gradually during most of the day. Local coppers sagged fractionally and were very dull. The heavy increase in the copper surplus has somewhat shaken confidence. The showing next month will be considerably better, however, owing to heavy sales for January and February delivery.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Attorney informed the Board of Public Works yesterday that it has the right to order changes of public utility poles, lines, rails, etc., in the city's streets, at the expense of the utility corporations, when this is deemed advisable as a matter of public safety or for more convenient purposes of travel.

City Electrician Manahan yesterday urged the Board of Public Works to support a plan for a tax levy collected in the regular way for maintaining ornamental lighting systems now established.

Councilman Reed announced yesterday that today he will support a resolution proposing to use the Plaza as a public forum and to establish other such forums on vacant lots in the business district.

The Council held a caucus yesterday on appointments submitted by Mayor Rose, and opposition developed against William P. Jeffries for the Police Commission.

The Board of Public Works decided yesterday to serve notice upon the Pacific Electric Railway Company that it must build a bridge on Lord street, across the Arroyo de las Posas, within seventy-five days.

A circus man and his wife who started on a shoestring and now own a train of cars were both denied relief in the divorce court yesterday. Employees of the circus were divided into two camps as witnesses for the wife and the husband.

Because her husband, an architect and clubman, said she was too good and too intellectual, and he preferred livelier company, his wife filed suit for divorce yesterday on the ground of cruelty.

At the City Hall.

CITY'S RIGHT TO ORDER CHANGES.

MAY REQUIRE SUCH ACTION AT UTILITY CONCERN'S COST.

This Is Advice of City Attorney, Called Forth by Situation that Has Arisen in Construction of Municipal Railway on San Pedro Street. New Law Point Raised.

A new point in law on which there are no cases directly in point, on which the courts have passed, has arisen through a phase of the changes desired to complete the construction of the municipal railway on San Pedro street.

The Board of Public Works asked the advice of the City Attorney as to whether the expense of moving electric wiring which interferes with the construction of this line should be borne by the city or by the utility corporation.

The City Attorney, in his advise to the board, states that there are no cases directly at point on which court decisions have been given, but that after a careful examination of the authorities, he is of the opinion that the city has the right to require any public utility corporation to change at its own expense the location of its poles, wires, pipes, tracks, etc., whenever in the judgment of the City Council or of the particular commission or board having jurisdiction in the premises, it is deemed advisable, in the interest of the public safety, or for the purposes of rendering the streets more convenient for the purposes of travel.

The City Attorney holds that the fact that a change of location of poles and wires has been ordered to permit the construction of a municipally-owned railroad, does not affect the city's right in the premises. This opinion is based upon the theory that in the construction of a municipal railroad the city is not acting in its government capacity, but merely in its proprietary capacity.

ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS.

MAY LEVY SPECIAL TAX.

City Electrician Manahan yesterday sent to the Board of Public Works a request that the City Engineer and City Attorney be asked to co-operate with the electrical department in the necessary proceedings for the relighting, under provisions of the assessment lighting act, of the streets on which ornamental lighting systems are now installed.

The City Electrician also reports to the Board of Public Works that the present method, under the legislative act for the relighting of streets of this character, is very cumbersome and expensive. He suggests that the City Attorney be requested to investigate the possibility of levying a special tax each year by the City Assessor for this purpose, such tax to be collected in the same manner as other taxes. This would require an amendment of the act at the next session of the Legislature.

WOULD USE PLAZA.

AS A PUBLIC FORUM.

Councilman Reed will introduce in the City Council this morning a resolution providing for the use of the Plaza as an open public forum, "where people are free to speak without interference from public authorities so long as meetings are conducted in an orderly manner, and so long as the laws of the United States and the State of California and the ordinances of Los Angeles are not violated."

The resolution further provides: "That the police department be requested to have its trusties erect a temporary wooden platform or rostrum where speakers may stand, and that the police department be authorized to formulate and enforce such rules as may be needed for the orderly conduct of public meetings and gatherings in said Plaza."

The resolution further provides that the Public Welfare Committee be requested to negotiate with owners of vacant lots in the business district, with the view of securing such lots for public forums, and that the Budget Committee be requested to make allowance in the next budget for a permanent stone or concrete rostrum in the Plaza, for speakers' use, if it is deemed advisable to continue the use of the Plaza as a public forum.

OBJECTIONS.

CAUCUS ON APPOINTMENTS.

The Councilmen held a caucus yesterday forenoon to consider the appointments submitted by the Mayor and on which action on confirmation will come up next Tuesday in the Council session.

This list includes William P. Jeffries for the Police Commission, Robert Wankowski for the Public Service Commission, Orra E. Monette for the Public Library Board, W. T. Craig for the Civil Service Commission and John W. Nickerson for the Humane Animal Commission.

It appears that there will be strong objections raised to confirming the appointment of Jeffries and it is understood that at yesterday's caucus there were only three votes for his confirmation, while five of the Councilmen were arrayed against him. The supporters of Jeffries are understood to be Councilmen Conwell, Langdon and Snowden, while those who are understood to be opposed are Whiffen, Bethouski, Bryant, Reed and Wheeler. McKenzie is absent and his position has not been ascertained.

Fails to Get Statement.

The City Engineer reported to the Board of Public Works yesterday that he has endeavored without success to obtain a statement from the Los Angeles Railway Corporation as to its intentions regarding the construction of a street railway line in Main street, from Slauson avenue to Manchester avenue.

As the matter now stands, the street has been paved between these points with the exception of the center, where space was left for the construction of a street railway under a franchise granted to Henry Dennison, for the use of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation. The City Council has summoned the owner of the franchise, who is an employee of the railway corporation, to appear before it and show cause why the franchise should not be forfeited unless the street is paved by the franchise owner.

Must Build Bridge.

Notice was served upon the Pacific Electric Railway Company by the Board of Public Works on August 14 of last year to construct a bridge across its northern division at Lord street, spanning the Arroyo de las Posas, in accordance with a contract dated November 1, 1909, between the Los Angeles Interurban Railway Company, the Pacific Electric Land Company and the city. Detailed plans for this bridge were prepared and were approved December 5, but the City Engineer reported to the Public Works Board yesterday that he is unable to find that any further steps have been taken towards the construction of the bridge. The board decided to serve notice on the company that work must begin within fifteen days and have it completed within seventy-five days.

The city's policy in regard to bridges provided for under the contract specified, has been not to demand them until connecting streets were improved. Recently Lord street was improved and the demand was then made for the construction of the bridge.

Who'll Pay the Bill?

A condition exists on one hundred and sixty-fifth street, in front of the school property at Gardena, where the curb and sidewalk have been placed but the roadway is about three feet higher than these improvements, and is unimproved. The condition is a dangerous one and causes much complaint. The City Engineer's office has advised the Board of Public Works that the Board of Education should be required to lower the street. The Board of Education has no money for street improvements, and at the present time the street department is $20,000 "in the red," so it is not inclined to take on any additional burdens.

Nevertheless, the Board of Public Works would be liable for damages should the Board of Education neglect to have the street lowered and any accident should occur. The board has taken the subject under advisement, but the prospects are that there will be a further addition to the "red," or overdrawal of the department's appropriation in the budget.

Infinitesimal Holding.

The sale of property delinquent for the second Exposition Park assessment, is going on daily at the City Hall. This sale was begun on January 2, and bids are received every morning at 10 o'clock. More than 3000 parcels of land were delinquent, and about 1000 parcels have been sold for amounts that do not average more than $1.30, including the penalties. About five days more will be required to close out the delinquent lots.

In some cases bidders offer to purchase infinitesimal portions of the property. One offer made yesterday was for a vigitillionth of an inch raised to the 1000 power.

The assessment district includes all the property lying west of Main street and from Washington street to Manchester avenue.

To Compel Lot Cleaning.

As a means of giving direct aid to the lot-cleaning bureau, the Board of Public Works yesterday decided to ask the City Council to amend the lot-cleaning ordinance so that compulsory action may be made effective at once, instead of this having to await May 15, the time now fixed in the ordinance.

Steel for Transit Shed.

The Llewellyn Iron Works was awarded the contract for steel work on the transit shed on municipal dock No. 1, by the Board of Public Works yesterday. The bid was $83,967, which includes the steel frames for the shed doors, but not the doors themselves.

These doors are to be installed by the city itself, as the City Engineer recommended the rejection of the bid of the United States Metals Company for steel rolling doors, at $60,291, on the grounds that the city can save about $19,000 by installing the doors itself.

Pay Taxes; Be Quick!

Unpaid first installment of city taxes will become delinquent next Monday, after which time the penalty of 5 per cent. will be added. Of the total amount to be collected on the first installment, $3,315,020, there remains unpaid $814,393. Payments will be accepted until 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Union Terminal Committee.

Several months ago a movement was started by Councilman Reed to create a Union Terminal Committee, to work out plans for the eventual establishment of such facilities for Los Angeles. At that time the names of Judge Walter F. Bordwell, F. P. Gregson and Franklin D. Howell were presented for this committee, but the illness of Reed and the absence of Councilman McKenzie delayed final action. Now it is proposed to enlarge this committee by the addition of two members, Joseph Brierly and S. C. Graham. The subject will be represented to the Council Monday.

CIRCUS STUNTS IN COURTROOM.

ANIMAL TRAINERS TESTIFY IN BOSS'S DIVORCE CASE.

The Missus Fails to Prove Misconduct on Part of Showman Husband, Though Judge Says There's Something Peculiar About It. Clubman's Good Wife Sues.

Relief via the divorce court was denied Mrs. Dollie Barnes Stonehouse on her complaint alleging misconduct, and Al G. Barnes Stonehouse, the circus man, on his cross-complaint, by Judge Monroe yesterday.

The court stated that Mrs. Barnes relied on circumstantial evidence, but she had not proved the allegations coupling the name of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Barlow, with Stonehouse's. He went so far as to say, however, that there was something peculiar in the conduct of Mrs. Barlow and Stonehouse. The testimony showed that she was very free in her manner.

The circus people who testified, the court said, comprised a community among themselves. They were drawn close together, but they were divided into camps. Mrs. Barnes's witnesses were the discharged and former employees of her husband's. The latter's were those now in his employ.

"Mrs. Stonehouse was a remarkable witness," declared Judge Monroe. "She showed no feeling on the witness stand and could not be rattled on cross-examination. Generally I believed her testimony, which was clear and concise, I don't believe all Stonehouse testified to; some of the witnesses I did not believe at all."

Stonehouse and his wife started with $2700 and the circus grew until today they own twenty-four carloads. Stonehouse wept as he testified as to his wife's acts. He said she had gone to San Francisco and on her return informed him she had been gathering evidence to be used in Barlow's alienation suit against him.

"I told her she had been trying to ruin me for years," he said, "but notwithstanding her acts I had forgiven her the things she had done."

"You are a pretty good actor, are you not?" asked Attorney Murphey, counsel for Mrs. Stonehouse, as Stonehouse wept copiously.

The inference apparently was that Stonehouse could turn on the tears at will. The court broke in with a comment to the effect that he won't have women crying on the stand, because it is facts he wants and not tears, and when men cry, he said, he has little respect for them, if the intent is to gain the sympathy of the court.

In an anteroom the animal trainers had a family gathering. Once when Bailiff Berdie went out in the corridor to call a witness, he found one doing the loop-the-loop on a table, and on another occasion they were playing leap frog, to the amusement of a jury from Judge Houser's courtroom.

"Leave the lions, tigers and elephants outside when you come into court," he admonished the trainers as they filed into the courtroom to hear whether the Missus or the Boss won the suit.

SHE'S TOO GOOD.

HUSBAND WANTS SPICE.

Gladys Jones is seeking a divorce from Leonard L. Jones, architect and clubman, because she alleged in a complaint filed yesterday by Attorney R. W. Richardson that he had tired of her and desired the company of women not too good and not too intellectual.

Jones told her, she alleges, that she had been a true wife, but that he was not satisfied to live with her any longer. He said she was a good woman, but he did not want only a good woman for a wife. She was too intellectual, and that didn't please him, either.

She alleges he flaunted in her face the statement that he is going with a young girl in this city, passing all his spare time with her, taking her to dances and entertaining her. She charges that previously to their separation he corresponded with other women, staying away from home until early morning. The other women are plentifully sprinkled through the complaint, but unnamed.

On her complaining because he had bought her only six dresses during the seven years of their married life, Jones is alleged to have retorted it was six too many. Some time after their marriage at Blackfoot, Idaho, May 24, 1906, Mrs. Jones alleges her husband's attitude toward her became cold. He treated her in an indifferent manner and stayed out at nights until he was almost a stranger to her. When taken to task she says he refused to make an explanation. She is now stopping at the Carlu apartments, West Fourth street.

DEAL IN FUTURES.

SLUMP IN PRODUCTION.

The famous potato cases from Perris which engaged the testimony of potato experts, including Louis Gwan, the potato king, was decided by Judge Wilbur yesterday in favor of the Western Gas Engine Company, which held the promissory note of Bertha M. and Arthur W. Fisher on irrigation machinery. Judgment was for $1720.44.

The trial of the suit involved more than the machinery. Mrs. Fisher, who expected to raise a profitable crop of potatoes on eighty acres at Perris, alleged that delay in the receipt of the machinery prevented the development of water for irrigation so that the crop was a failure. According to her estimate she figured on a yield of 8000 sacks at a price of $2.25 a sack.

The defendant held that even if the machinery had arrived on time there would have been no crop as there was not water enough in sight for irrigating the eighty acres in the absence of a suitable method of bringing it on the land. Mrs. Fisher sued for $32,000 damages, of which $16,000 were exemplary damages.

Joy and sorrow crept into the life of Mrs. Lillian Gustavus within the space of one month. The cause was the orbit of Peter W. Gustavus crossing her path at Denver. Two weeks after she met him they were married at San Francisco. Two weeks later he deserted her at the St. Francis Hotel, leaving an unpaid board bill.

Mrs. Gustavus brought suit for divorce, which was tried by Judge Taft yesterday and the decree granted. Gustavus obtained $100 from his bride. He told her he had a legacy and to confirm his social and financial standing Mrs. Gustavus telegraphed to Baltimore after he had left her stranded.

A reply was received from Martin Meyerdink, executor of the estate of Gustavus's father, in effect that the son had received his share of the estate which was left in trust with a trust company, the income only being paid to him. It was stated that Gustavus's relatives could not give assistance.

ONLY ONE WITNESS.

BOY GIVEN DAMAGES.

The identity of H. Joslin as the autoist who collided with C. Scarcella, a newsboy, on the San Fernando road last July, was made positive by Deputy Sheriff Shannon in Judge Wellborn's court yesterday. Shannon was the only witness at the resumption of the trial and testified he saw the accident, chasing Joslin two miles before he overtook the machine. The court gave the boy judgment for $830. He sued for $3500 damages.

Joslin will probably appeal from the judgment. He said if his machine struck Scarcella he did not know it, as he did not feel the bump. The result of the trial depended on Shannon's testimony, as he was the only one able to identify Joslin.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PASSES SENTENCE. There was a swift change in the fortunes of Lola Murray Kreis yesterday when she exchanged the life of cafes for a year's term in the County Jail. Lola broke her parole. She admitted drinking and engaging in an altercation with a man. She said he was intoxicated and struck her and that she defended herself. Judge Wilbur, who had given her probation when she was tried for contributing to the delinquency of Rosa Bincazza, passed sentence on her yesterday.

EXCHANGE BENCHES. Judge Clark of Ventura county and Judge York of Department One exchanged benches yesterday. The former was disqualified in a trial in his county. The first case handed him here was one involving quiet title to property at Lancaster.

SUIT ON NOTE. Nat C. Goodwin, D. G. Turnbull and James H. Grigsby were made defendants yesterday in a suit filed by the Ocean Park Bank on a promissory note for $2500. This note, drawn to the order of Grigsby, was assigned to the bank. Goodwin and Turnbull, it is alleged, guaranteeing payment. Interest has been paid to December 22, 1913.

MANY CLAIMS FILED. Forty-one causes of action representing claims ranging from $3.50 to $13,500, are contained in the suit filed yesterday by J. F. Clark against the California Products Company. The claims were assigned to Clark by various concerns.
